Sarah Jane Wright Is Bride Of Thomas Calhoun In June Rites

In a beautiful marriage ceremony performed Sunday afternoon, June 5, at 2:30 o'clock before the altar of the First Presbyterian Church of Mount Union, Miss Sarah Jane Wright, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Wright, became the bride of R. Thomas Calhoun, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Calhoun of Goodleigh Farms, Dallas. Rev. Samuel J. Thackberry, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony which was witnessed by several hundred guests.

Mrs. Victor L. Walleit presided at the organ and played a short recital of appropriate numbers preceding the ceremony: "At Dawn," Cadman; "Clair de Lune," Debussy; "Venetian Love Song," Nevin. The traditional marches were used and during the ceremony Mendelssohn's "Duetto" was played.

Mr. John Alfred Cox of Mount Union was the soloist and sang "Because" by Teschemacher and "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte.

Two large bouquets of white snapdragons and gladioli completed the altar decorations.

The bride made a beautiful picture as she approached the altar on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage.

Her wedding gown was of white slipper satin, with long sleeves, off-shoulder neckline edged with lace and topped by a net yoke. It had a lace-edged peplum graduating from the front and ending in large bustle and long full train.

Her satin-edged veil was fingertip length and fell from a pearl-trimmed tiara. She wore a string of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom and her flowers were gardenias carried on a white leather Bible.

The maid of honor was Miss Betsy Wright, sister of the bride, who wore a gown of lavender. The bridesmaids were Elizabeth Calhoun of Dallas, a sister of the bridegroom; Miss Jane McCarty, Miss Maxine Hutchison and Miss Mary Louise Oswald, all of Mount Union. Their gowns were fashioned like the bride's gown. The bridesmaids were attired in Nile green, and carried colonial bouquets of white daisies. Daisy bands were their only headdress.

The bridegroom chose Robert Nelson of Philadelphia as his best man and ushers were Elmer Nelson, Philadelphia, Jerry Truitt of Ocean City, N.J., Fred Andrews of Berkeley Springs, W. Va., and John Bergen of Long Island, N. Y.

The bride's mother was attired in dress of black chiffon with white accessories and wore a shoulderette of gardenias. The bridegroom's mother wore a blue and white figured bemberg dress and white accessories and her corsage was of white gardenias also.

The wedding party received the guests in the ladies parlor of the church and after "congratulations" and "best wishes" were extended the guests were served in the dining room of the church. Dr. Van Fleet roses were used in decorating the tables. The Pauline Circle of the church acted as hostesses at the serving.

During the reception Mr. Cox again delighted the company with three lovely solo numbers with Mrs. Walleit at the piano. They were: "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life", "I Love You Truly" and "A Perfect Day."

Guests were present from Albany, N.Y., Franklin, N.Y., New York City, Philadelphia, Long Island, N.Y., Dallas, Pa., Washington, D. C., Wilmington, Delaware, Altoona, Carlisle, Baltimore, Mapleton Depot, Huntingdon, and Mifflintown.

After the reception the couple left for Philadelphia, New York, and Atlantic City. The bride chose for traveling a summer suit of blue-brown iridescent shantung with white accessories and her corsage was of gardenias.

The bride is a graduate of the Mount Union High School, class of 1944 and of Juniata College, class of 1948. She has been teaching in the Mount Union schools.

The bridegroom is a graduate of the Stony Brook School, Long Island, class of 1945 and of Juniata College, class of January, 1949. He taught the past year in the Thompsonstown-Delaware Township school.
