YOU WOULDN'T LET YOUR CHILD BE TRAPPED

OR WOULD YOU?

"Caught in a trap? Not my child," you say.

But think a minute . . . think ahead a few years. What kind of school will he spend his time in? Will it be a crowded building with huge classes . . . too few teachers . . . outdated textbooks . . . inadequate supplies?

If it is — he'll be trapped all right. He'll be getting a second-rate education that may hold him back for the rest of his life. The top-flight career he might have had . . . the skills and talents he might have developed . . . the bright shining worlds of intellectual experience he might have known . . . all these may be forever lost to him. His loss will also be ours and our town's and our country's.

"But not here," you say, "not in our town." No?

Ask the hard-working men and women on our School Board and others concerned, about our schools. They know what's coming . . . they know that by 1956 there'll be 7 million extra school-age children throughout America — and that some of them will be right here in our own schools. They know we'll need more new classrooms, more teachers, more textbooks, more supplies.

But they can't do the job alone. It's up to all of us — parents, professional people, businessmen — to pitch in and help.
