BROADWAY AND MAIN STREET

Saw Some Saucers, Says Rose; He Wasn't in His Cups, Either

- By BILLY ROSE -

At the risk of being laughed out of court and countenance, I'd like to report that I've seen flying saucers.

It happened on a clear and moon-minus night two summers ago in

Newton, Conn., on the lawn of the home belonging to Paul Osborne, the playwright. Among my fellow oglers were Paul and his wife, Director Josh Logan and his missus, and Author John Hersey and his. What's more, none of us was in his cups the night we watched the flying saucery

The show began about 10 p.m. while we were sitting outdoors, enjoying and shooting the breeze, and the first thing we noticed were sevsearchlights some miles away poking their yellow fingers into the sky. few minutes later, three bits of celestial chinaware skittered into view, and from then until midnight they skipped and scampered above our bewildered heads. As nearly as I could judge, these whatzises were at least 200 feet in diameter and were flying at an altitude of from 3,000 to 5,000 feet. Their edges gave off a ghostly glow, very much like blue neon tubing seen through a heavy fog.

WHEN THE SEARCHLIGHTS finally cut off and the discs got lost in the stars, we put what was left of our heads together and decided that what we had witnessed must have been some kind of hush-hush military exercise. We also decided that, if we didn't want a butterfly net slipped over our heads, it would be smart to keep our lips zipped about the whole thing.

How come, then, that with my bare face hanging out in print, I'm spilling the story now? Well, until recently the talk about the persnickety pancakes has been more loose than lucid—according to some writers, they were manned by Martins two inches tall; according to others, by Russians two

Recently, however, documentation has begun to replace delirium, and it's becoming evident that the overgrown manhole covers are not only real, but, despite all denials, one of the topsecret weapons of our own navy and air force.

The most convincing testimony was offered April 3rd by Henry J. Taylor on a General Motors broadcast over the ABC network. Taylor, after treking all around the country and talking to people who had seen, touched and even flown these cred- ing them

East Dallas combined 13 hits, four for extra bases, seven walks and Bellas in the seventh. Harry Grose was the starting Dallas pitcher and was touched for six hits and five runs when Jack Fiske took over the same inning. Tom Reese was the lone standout for Dallas with trips to the plate. Harold Brobst and Jim Knecht each had two hits,

a double and a single, to give three

Dallas batters seven of the nine

Dallas hits. East Dallas, with

Muchler, Bellas, Wilson, Kozem-

chak, and Tondora leading the 13-

his five innings.

total of 18 bases.

its two-run second inning.

East Dallas Has Field Day

Winning From Dallas 13-4

numerous Dallas errors to chalk Bellas, ss, p up three big innings, scoring three Muchler, cf

runs each in the fourth, sixth, and Hughey, 1b

eighth Dallas biggest splurge was Wilson, 3b

pitcher, started for East Dallas Stevens, c runs before being relieved by Art Martin, If

Warren Stanton, the winning Kozemchak, rf and gave up seven hits and three Tondora, 2b, ss

in the fifth. Fiske was greeted H. Brobst, lf, rf

Three extra-base hits scored J. Knecht, 3b, 1b heavily for East Dallas as Bellas A. Knecht, 1b

the fourth and Tondora opened the K. Grose, 2b, 3b

and Wilson sparkled as they played | Knecht, Reese.

doubled with the bases loaded in G. Roberts, ss

sixth with a triple and Muchler Jones, rf, lf doubled with the bases loaded in Reese, cf

three singles and a walk in four Fiske, p

by seven hits and eight runs in Edwards, c fourth inning, suddenly came to only two errors. Muchler stole the tory ties the two teams for first catcher, whose alertness saved a

Stanton, p, 2b

H. Grose, p,

Vanderbrouck, 1b

Wallace, c

Pavlick, 2b

C. Brobst, ss

Danko, 3b

hit attack, pounded the ball for a son, H. Brobst, J. Knecht. Triple-Defensively, the East Dallas in-field of Hughey, Tondora, Bellas, Stevens, Tondora, Edwards, J.

place in the Bi-County League. number of tough plays.

ulity-cracking craft, made the following flat and unfrivolous statements about them:

One type of saucer is the "true" disc, which ranges anywhere from 20 inches to 200 feet in diameter, is unmanned and generally guided by some form of remote control. The other is a jet-driven platter which carries a crew and is capable of such supersonic speeds that in flight it looks like a hundred-foot flight it learning cigar.

FURTHERMORE, according to Henry J., a "true" disc was actualphotographed near Wildwood, J.; another was found in the vicinity of Galveston, Texas, and stenciled on its surface was the

MILITARY SECRET OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

ANYONE DAMAGING OR RE-VEALING DESCRIPTION OR WHEREABOUTS OF THIS MIS-SILE IS SUBJECT TO PROSECU-TION BY THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT. CALL COLLECT AT ONCE. (Then a long distance telephone number, and the address of a U.S. Air Base, and finally the words on the "saucer" in big, black letters: NON-EXPLOSIVE.)

"I know what these so-called flying saucers are used for," Taylor concluded "When the military authorities are ready to release the information it will be a joy to tell you the whole story, for it is good news-wonderful news."

Well, I don't know what the saucers are for, but on the basis of this and other reports-plus the evidence of my own bugeyes - I'm convinced they exist and, praise the Lord and pass the ammunition, are ours. Moscow papers please copy.

I wrote a column recently about the bureaucratic blabbermouths in our nation's capital who, at the drop of a daiguiri, blurt out top military secrets to anyone who will listen. Well, I'm plenty happy to learn that—at least as regards one vital weapon—there are some folks in Washington who not only know their beans but can keep from spill-

EAST DALLAS-13

DALLAS-4

400

.570

.000

Tondora. RBI-Bellas 3, Muchler

This Is Where We Lived

BY LORETTA OLVER

The Ice Cave

There are other landmarks in Kingston Township with a story to Hillside Inn was built on the site of the old Ice Cave Hotel, which was erected by Joseph Harter (7), great-grandfather of Sherman Harter of Harter's Dairy. Joseph Harter was a Frenchman, and a butcher by trade, who bought up considerable land in that ocality, some of which he sold to Mr. Conyngham. "Ice Cave" was not only the name of the Inn, it was the name of the settlement, which was one of the stops on the first railroad through the Back Mountain Region. There is a deep gorge where the creek cuts through the mountain, where ice is said to be present at any time of the year. The writer has often wondered about this, and used to think she would hike up the creek bed and investigate. The mother of the writer remembers living in Kingston, and a group of young people planning a sleighride party to the Ice Cave Hotel. Her par ents would not let her go because t was too far from Kingston! Those were horse and buggy days!

The Round House

The round-shaped house owned by Harry Brodhun was once the silo on the farm worked by the of Walter Billings, and father owned by Edward van Horn of Kingston. The barn was just below the silo and there was a chute between the two, so ensilage could be pitched directly from one to the other. Mt. Greenwood cemetery was the cow pasture on this farm, and it was full of tree stumps that had to be pulled out when it became a cemetery. The Billings family lived in the old Rice homestead, now occupied by Dr. and Mrs. J. Franklin Robinson. Water was furnished for both cattle and people by the spring still found on the Robert Scott property. The round house was made into a dwelling by the Brodhuns who lived there for quite a while. Off and on during the years, some illustrious people have stayed there, among whom are: Mrs. Brewster, the mother of the author of "A History of Kingston Township"; Howard Risley of the Dallas Post, who "batched" there for a time; Mrs. H. C. McDermott, grandmother of the writer, prior to the purchase of the house at 80 Mt. Greenwood road.

If one of our present-day residents could project himself back scarcely recognize the Upper Road. Archie Woolbert's father lived in Dr. Grant's place; A. C. Wardan life to score in every remaining show in the outfield with a numinning and stagger Dallas AC by ber of fine running catches. For ily lived; from then on there was bulance. 13-4 score on Dallas Township Dallas the bright spot was the dedence. Down in what is now Hol- Episcopal Church, Nanticoke. comb's Grove, there was nothing. 1 moved in with his bride before the persons unknown.

2 place was quite finished. Walter Billings, who recently 2 1 that post since 1909. The first morning. rural mail carrier, however, was Seth Howell, brother of our Dr. G. L. Howell, who died last year. 32 13 13 Seth Howell held the post from over. The old postoffice is now by Mr. Samuel Hess as postmaster. urged to attend. Mr. Hess was a Civil War veteran 0 0 most of the active work.

Early Passenger Trains The Lehigh Valley Railroad from Wilkes-Barre to Towanda via Harvey's Lake, ran its first train in 1 0 0 October, 1892. Later huge ex-1 0 0 cursion trains with ten or twelve cars, sometimes two engines, would 31 4 9 go to Harveys Lake Picnic Grounds, Doubles—Bellas, Muchler, Wil- not to mention the extra street cars which connected with the lake steamers. Great freight trains, stopping at the Lehigh Valley station, and blocking the road to the school, were daily occurrences. Sometimes the children, knowing they would be late to school, would climb between the cars, much to the horror of the parents! You could almost tell time by the Lehigh Valley trains; you got up in the morning by the 7:30 to Towanda; you began to think about dinner by the 10:45 A. M.; the 4:00 P. M. meant that it was time to go for the mail; and if your folks were at church they might be expected home soon after the 8:45 at night. Those trains were run in a very comfortable and "homey" fashion. If you were a regular passenger, were late and they saw you coming, they would hold the train for you! And in the morning, out of Towanda, the conductor saw that everybody had the morning paper. CONTINUED NEXT WEEK

Read the Classified Column

"More than a newspaper, a community institution" ESTABLISHED 1889

THE DALLAS POST

Member Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers' Association

A non-partisan liberal progressive newspaper published every Friday morning at the Dallas Post plant Lehman Avenue, Dallas Pennsylvania.

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Dalias, Pa., under the Act of March 3, 1879. Subscription rates: $2.50 a year; $1.50 six months. No subscriptions accepted or less than six months. Out-of tate subscriptions: $3.00 a year; 2.00 six months or less. Back saues, more than one week old, 10e Single copies, at a rate of 6c each, can be obtained every Friday morning at the following newestands: Dallas— Tally-Ho Grille, Bowman's Restaurant; Shavertown, Evans' Drug Store; TrucksvHle—Gregory's Store; Shaver's Store; Idetown—Caves Store; Huntsville—Barnes Store; Alderson—Deater's Store; Fernbrook—Recee's Store.

When requesting a change of address subscribers are asked to give their old as well as new address.

Allow two weeks for changes of address or new subscription to be placed on mailing list.

We will not be responsible for the eturn of unsolicited manuscripts, photographs and editorial matter unless self-addressed, stamped envelope is enclosed, and in no case will we be responsible for this material for more than 80 days.

National display advertising rates 63c per column inch.
Local display advertising rates 50c per column inch; specified position 60c per inch.

Classified rates Minimum charge 50c. Unless paid for at advertising rates, nouncements of plays, parties, rummage sales or any affairs for raising money will appear in a specific issue. In no case will such items be taken on Thursdays.

Preference will in all instances be given to editorial matter which has not previously appeared in publication.

Editor and Publisher HOWARD W. RISLEY Associate Editor MYRA ZEISER RISLEY Contributing Editor MRS. T. M. B. HICKS Sports Editor WILLIAM HART

ONLY YESTERDAY

From The Post of ten and twenty years ago this week.

Issue of Dallas Post

T: Newell Wood, Point Breeze, owned the Schuler residence; the Harvey's Lake, is recovering at ment has been made Memorial Field Sunday. This vic- fensive work of Tom Edwards, by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Henderson, of the marriage of Jean Elda Bill-

The first house in that sector was from Mrs. Allie Morris's chicken trated Library Edition of Wilkie 3 built by Mr. Arthur Leek, who coop Saturday night by person or Collins' novels.

Townsend Club will meet at right hand been doing?

and retained the office until he of Lake Township and donor of a said "How little do politics effect was an old, old man, coming to building used for both fire depart- the life, the moral life of a nation! rely on his daughter Maisie to do ment and the police at Harveys One single good book influences Lake, died Monday night. Harveys the people a vast deal more.' Lake Volunteer Fire Department Al lof the above is from Harpwas named for Mr. Roberts.

THESE WOMEN!

The Book Worm

If you are mystified - look for the answer at the conclusion of this article!

The literary sensation of the Season is unquestionably Victor Hugo's "Ninety-Three". This thrilling tale is decidedly the author's best work since his "Les Miserables", and is an admirable specimen of the vigorous word painting which has placed him in the front ranks of the French novelists. He shows a rare comprehension of the noble motives which actuated men of all parties in the heroic age of the French Revolution. The reader's sympathies are strongly enlisted by the half idiot peasant woman, who, robbed of her young, pursues them with a frenzied faith that overthrows all obstacles, and reverses the destinies of a nation.

'The Personal Recollections of Mary Somerville" is a record of an ideally beautiful life, which does honor to the possibilities of women. Born nearly a century ago at a time when female education was at its lowest ebb, she educated herself in those mathematical sciences which are deemed most difficult for women, until she was recognized as the honored equal of the European savants. England, which bestows honors with a lavish hand on her scientific men, found none for the author of the "Mechanism of the Heavens"

"The Land of the White Elephant" by Frank Vincent is one of the most graphic and interesting stories of adventure that it has been our good fortune to read for many a day. Those mysterious regions of the East-Burmah, Siam, Cabodia and Cochin China-where the white elephant rules as a sacred Mikado, are vividly portrayed. Or if you prefer "The Land of Central Asia" you will like Bayard Taylor's book telling of ancient and modern explorations in Cashmere, Thibet and China by travelers from Marco Polo to Shaw. "The Story of a Summer" by

Cecelia Cleveland who was niece fifty years in time, he would Ten Years Ago in June 7, 1940 of Horace Greeley, is an interesting account of a Season spent at the Greeley homestead at Chap-

At the head of a list of novels East Dallas, trailing 3-1 in the almost flawless ball committing the Howards; the little country ceived when a tractor pinned him the Howards; the little country ceived when a tractor pinned him the Howards; the little country ceived when a tractor pinned him the Howards; the little country ceived when a tractor pinned him the Howards; the little country ceived when a tractor pinned him the Howards; the little country ceived when a tractor pinned him the Howards; the little country ceived when a tractor pinned him the Howards; the little country ceived when a tractor pinned him the Howards; the little country ceived when a tractor pinned him the Howards; the little country ceived when a tractor pinned him the Howards; the little country ceived when a tractor pinned him the Howards; the little country ceived when a tractor pinned him the Howards; the little country ceived when a tractor pinned him the Howards; the little country ceived when a tractor pinned him the Howards; the little country ceived when a tractor pinned him the Howards; the little country ceived when a tractor pinned him the Howards; the little country ceived when a tractor pinned him the Howards; the little country ceived when a tractor pinned him the Howards; the little country ceived when a tractor pinned him the Howards; the little country ceived when a tractor pinned him the Howards; the little country ceived when a tractor pinned him the Howards; the little country ceived when a tractor pinned him the Howards; the little country ceived when a tractor pinned him the Howards; the little country ceived when a tractor pinned him the Howards; the little country ceived when a tractor pinned him the Howards; the little country ceived when a tractor pinned him the Howards; the little country ceived when a tractor pinned him the Howards; the little country ceived when a tractor pinned him the Howards ceived when a school down in the lane; the Rice to the ground. He was removed bon", an idyll of exquisite grace homestead where the Billings fam- to the hospital in Nulton's am- and well-sustained interest. Then comes "Phineas Redux" by Anthony Trollope, in which the fascinating Phineas Finn is conducted occupied by the Holcomb farm ings, Trucksville, to Alfred Millner- through many adventures to the hands; finally the Holcomb resi- Camp, at the rectory, St. George's haven of marriage. "The New Magdalen" and "The Women in White" Two large red hens were stolen have been added to Harper's Illus-Appropos of Who Done Its, what Alice Ruth Fisher and Robert did Baroness Campbell mean when. M. Laux were married at St. in making her will, she left her retired as mail carrier, has held Mary's, Wilkes-Barre, Saturday property to her husband and concludes with the stipulation "I fur-A bride's dinner, honoring Mrs. ther wish my right hand to be cut Fred Eck and Miss Margaret Lynn, off and buried in the park at the bride-elect, will be given at the bend of the hill, and a small cross Seth Howell held the post from about 1905 until Mr. Billings took I by Dallas Junior Woman's Club. "I byde my tyme". What had that

Dr. Richard Crompton's office and Kunkle, June 11. Members inter- In conversation with his friends residence, and was presided over ested in holding public office are Mr. Gladstone is said to have ex- same thing. The difference is that pressed regret at having given so the latter travel without money, Daniel Roberts, summer resident many years to politics and to have the former without brains."

er's Bazaar, May 23, 1874

By d'Alessio

SAFETY VALVE

Barnyard Notes

And over it softly her warm ear lays:

We hear life murmur, or see it glisten;

Climbs to a soul in grass and flowers;

Thrilling back over hills and valleys;

And there's never a leaf nor a blade too mean

Atilt like a blossom among the leaves,

With the deluge of summer it receives.

He sings to the wide world and she to her nest-

And whatever of life hath ebbed away

Now the heart is so full that a drop overfills it,

Into every bare inlet and creek and bay;

We are happy now because God wills it;

'Tis enough for us now that the leaves are green;

How the sap creeps up and the blossoms swell;

That the skies are clear and grass is growing;

We may shut our eyes, but we cannot help knowing

That maize has sprouted, that streams are flowing,

And if the breeze kept the good news back,

We could guess it all by yon heifer's lowing-

No matter how barren the past may have been,

We sit in the warm shade and feel right well

That dandelions are blossoming near,

That the river is bluer than the sky,

That the robin is plastering his house hard by;

Warmed with the new wine of the year,

'Tis as easy now for the heart to be true,

In the unscarred heaven they leave no wake;

And the sulphurous rifts of passion and woe

From the Vision of Sir Launfal

As for grass to be green or skies to be blue,—

And the eyes forget the tears they have shed,

The heart forgets its sorrow and ache

By James Russell Lowell

Who knows whither the clouds have fled?

Lie deep 'neath a silence pure and smooth,

Like burnt-out craters healed with snow.

Joy comes, grief goes, we know not how;

The breeze comes whispering in our ear

For other couriers we should not lack;

And hark! how clear bold chanticleer,

Tells all in his lusty crowing!

Everything is happy now,

'Tis the natural way of living:

The soul partakes the season's youth,

Everything is upward striving;

Comes flooding back with a ripply cheer

And the heart in her dumb breast flutters and sings;

In the nice ear of Nature which song is the best?

To be some happy creature's palace;

His mate feels the eggs beneath her wings,

The little bird sits at his door in the sun,

And lets his illumined being o'errun

Now is the high-tide of the year,

An instinct within it that reaches and towers,

The buttercup catches the sun in its chalice,

And what is so rare as a day in June?

Then if ever come perfect days:

Then Heaven tries earth if it be in tune,

Every clod feels a stir of might,

The flush of life may well be seen

Whether we look, or whether we listen,

And, groping blindly above it for light,

The cowslip startles in meadows green,

Dear Editor, It has been a hobby of mine to diary written in 1868, and thought tions do not merit". you might find space to pass it on. Best wishes for a Bigger and Better Auction. I'm soliciting our neighborhood.

Helen A. Poad An old man answering to the name of Jacob Wilmot was brought before the police court. His clothes looked as tho' they might have been bought second-hand in his prime, for they had suffered from the rubs of the world.

"What husiness?" asked the

"None. I'm a traveler"

"A vagabond, perhaps?" "You are not far wrong. Travelers and Vagabonds are about the

'Where have you traveled?" "All over the Continent" 'For what purpose?"

'Observation.' "What have you observed?" censure, and a great deal to laugh wife is coming along fine.

"Humph-what did you commend?

"A handsome woman who will stay at home, an eloquent preacher who will preach short sermons, a good writer who will not write too much and a fool who has sense enough to hold his tongue"

'What do you censure?' "A man that marries a girl for her fine clothing, and people who will elect a drunkard to office". "What do you laugh at?" clip and save in scrap-books such "I laugh at a man who expects wholesome bits as the enclosed. his position to command the re-I found this in an old man's spect which his personal qualifica-

> He was dismissed!! A famous clergyman has said he would advise every young man at the outset of his career:-

First—to be a good Christian Second—to insure his life Third—to get a good wife -: Then he will be happy:-

Nothing on earth can smile but numan beings. Mrs. Theodore Poad

Shavertown, Pa.

Afton, N. Y.

Dear Friends. Thanks a million for the Post. It makes me feel not so far from home. How I wish I could have attended Carrie Smith's funeral. We were so close when we were girls, went to school together at one time. Such a jolly person.

I asked Dayton Long to gather up some news for you, he is where "A little to commend, much to he can get so much. Brother's I bet Mrs. T.M.B. misses me.

Bess Klinetob

VETTER'S CHICKS NEW HAMPSHIRES, SEX-LINK, BARRED CROSSES

A strain for Eggs and Broiler raisers. Pa. & U. S. Approved, Pullorum Clean. Pikes Creek (near Ruggles Store)
Phone 461-R-3
Postoffice Hunlock's Creek R.F.D. 1

Call GAY

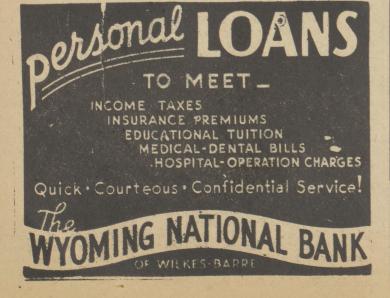

INSURANCE

For

 Farm Bureau Mutual Auto Ins. Co. Farm Bureau Mutual Fire Ins. Co. Farm Bureau Life Ins. Co.

CENTERMORELAND 62-R-12 or 62-R-3

Home Office: Columbus, Ohio

"I'd like to exchange this bubble-bath soap for a less clingy brand!"