Wm. Cairls Mark 59 Years Today

Will Have Quiet Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. William F. Cairl, Cemetery Street, were married by Rev. F. A. King at the Methodist parsonage in Luzerne fifty-nine years ago today. There will be a dinner for members of the immediate family on Sunday, but otherwise there will be no formal celebration.

The couple have lived for twenty-seven years in Dallas, and before that for over thirty years in Kingston.

Mrs. Cairl is the former Emma Isabell Wesley of Ross Township, Mr. Cairl a native of Shickshinny. For fifty-two years he was with the Kingston Coal Company. The move to Dallas was made when it became apparent that the climate of the Valley was affecting Mrs. Cairl's health. Since the closing of the Kingston Coal Company, Mr. Cairl has been building superintendent of Dallas Methodist Church.

Mr. Cairl will be celebrating his eighty-second birthday in August, Mrs. Cairl her eighty-second in November. It was last November that Mrs. Cairl gave her famous birthday party for guests over eighty.

Mrs. Cairl has a variety of interests. Not able to get about as nimbly as she did before breaking her leg eleven years ago, she is no longer as active in church work as formerly; but she keeps her sewing machine loaded with bright little remnants of percale and develops an astonishing number of small novelties for holding sewing supplies, in addition to making patchwork aprons and quilts after her own patterns. She has some beautiful double poppies in her flower bed, and a blaze of rambler roses. And she has a fat little fox terrier.

There are four children: Florence Blackmore, Philadelphia; Mrs. Viola Schmassman, Dallas; Earl Cairl, Broomall, Pa.; and William Cairl Jr. who lives next door. There are five grand-children and six great-grandchildren.

At nine a.m. Sunday morning over Station W.L.L.K. there will be a song on the air for Mr. and Mrs. Cairl, a feature of the Sunshine Hour.

A recital for the benefit of Ruggles Methodist Church will be given by Harry Trebilcox, piano pupil of Louie W. Ayre and Treva Traver, voice student at Lake Township School, Wednesday, at 8:15 p.m. in the Lake Township High School Auditorium.

Meyers Ice House

The blaze in the roof was first noted by a passing motorist, Melvin Morris, East Dallas, who reported it to Mrs. Meyers, then turned in the alarm from the residence of Michael Chukinas, next door. The interior of the ice-house including the sawdust insulation burned out, the stone walls making a chimney which confined the flames and prevented them from spreading. Rain, which had been falling intermittently, quickened into a sharp shower which assisted fire control. Damage was estimated at $300.
