Flower Show To Feature Store

Friendship Class Plans Novel Booth

A country store, complete in every remembered detail from the pot-bellied stove to the cat in the cracker barrel, will feature the Flower Show sponsored by the Friendship Class, Lehman Methodist Church, August 12, in the high school auditorium. The store will handle old fashioned candy, crackers, cheese, baked goods, home-made aprons, gifts, a crock of dill pickles, and odd and ends, taking the place of the conventional booths.

Flower exhibitors may place as many entries as desired. In addition to flowers, vegetables will be shown, with prizes offered. Entries will be received Friday, August 11 and Saturday morning. Show starts at 11 A.M.

Refreshments, cafeteria style, will be on sale.

Dorothy Major is general chairman; Mrs. Conrad Miller, country store; Mrs. Edna Roberts, refreshments; Mrs. Z. Platt Bennett furnished the small stove from her attic, and Mrs. A. M. Major was responsible for the idea; Robert Disque is in charge of vegetables. The store is already erected on the stage, and is being papered with old fashioned wall paper.

Patricia Vossler Home From England

Mrs. Olin Vossler, Demunds Road, who has been spending four months in Exeter, England, with her family, returned early Friday morning with her two children, Angela, 5, and Richard, 2.

The Queen Mary docked at 4 P.M. Thursday, but it took some time to get through the customs, so that Mr. Vossler, who drove down to meet his family at the pier, was not able to start the return trip until nearly midnight.

Mrs. Vossler came to this country four years ago on a ship bearing a capacity crowd of war-brides and babies, bringing with her small Angela. This is the first time she has visited her native country, though her mother, Mrs. Mary Ann Williams, spent almost a year with her daughter at the time of Richard's birth.

Patricia and Olin met at the Exeter Airport, Devonshire, where Olin was serving as a glider pilot.
