Construction At Lehman School

nate two sets of portable steel bleachers, the school board will finance three more, making five sections. These will be delivered early in August from the Milton Bleacher Company, in plenty of time for the Horse Show on Labor Day. Though completion of the new gymnasium is not expected before December, showers and locker rooms will be ready for the football season.

Keep 'em growing!

I reckon most of you folks who bought chicks from me this spring have got some mighty fine lookin' pullets by now. Now, to keep 'em growin' the way they should . . . so's you get bigger eggs faster in the fall . . . I recommend you start pushin' some of Gliddens Growing Mash at 'em right now. Believe me, Glidden's Growing Mash has everything a feed should have to guarantee you hens that will really produce. Stop in at "the mill" and let me show you some of the results my other customers are gettin' with this Glidden's Growing Mash.

Sunday Schools Plan Big Picnic

Fifteen Schools Already Sign Up

For the fourth successive year since the Back Mountain All-Sunday School Picnic was revived in 1948, Sunday School groups will gather at the picnic grounds, Harveys Lake for a day of fun and sociability. The date is Saturday, August 4.

The Committee, Asher Weiss, general chairman, has mimeographed for distribution to Sunday Schools information on program and arrangements. Fifteen Sunday Schools have already signed up, and more are expected. Twelve Sunday Schools collaborated last year.

Information may be obtained from Asher Weiss, 23 Harris Hill road, Trucksville, phone 264-R-2.

Full Head Of Steam For Gibbs Washday

Mrs. Al Gibbs had a terrifying experience yesterday, shortly after 12:30, when her steam furnace gathered too much pressure and the glass gauge blew out, filling the basement with steam. Al had built the furnace fire in the morning to supply hot water for washing, and the draft had been left on full, inadvertently.

What did Mrs. Gibbs do? She took off all the drafts and called the Dallas Post. The Dallas Post recommended a list of plumbers, and advised her to dampen the fire still farther by a liberal layer of ashes.

Perfect Weather Prevails For 5th Annual Auction

serving not only iced drinks and ice cream, but hot coffee, hamburgers, and hot dogs. The book stand reduced its prices Monday evening and cleared out a good proportion of its leftovers.

The candy stand and the baked goods booth were out of the running by late Saturday evening, with no refills for Monday. Both stands could have sold twice as much stock, though they both did exceptionally good business.

Committees did an outstanding job; the community worked as a unit, boundary lines, social distinctions, taboos forgotten; folks remembered that a heavy truck did not need to call for a glass vase or a pin-tray, and delivered it in person at the Barn; people took it in good part when they were overbid.

The crowd was a crowd that was anxious to be pleased, one which wanted to take home souvenirs of the occasion and was willing to pay for them. The kind of a crowd that the Annual Auction brings together. A fine example of united community effort in a good cause.
