'Chuck Hunters Are Doing It Again

Pennsylvania's woodchuck season opened only July 1st, but already hunter casualties have been reported, one a fatal.

In one case a boy of 15 lay in tall grass, waiting for a groundhog to appear at a burrow nearby. He was grazed on the top of the head by a bullet from a .22 caliber rifle in the hands of a 48-year old man with 35 years of hunting experience. The boy's red cap "looked like a 'chuck" to the shooter.

Here is another: The offending gunner, 42 years old, reports how he came to shoot, in both legs, a 59 year old man who wore no protective coloration. He says, "I was in the middle of the field. I saw something moving on the other side which I thought was a woodchuck. I crept over and shot at it. It turned out to be a man."

A 19 year old boy went out with other lads his age to hunt woodchucks. He did not remain where he was directed to stay. The offender reports: "I saw from a distance of about 200 yards what looked like a groundhog, so I shot at it. Instead of a hog it was Robert, lying in the field with his feet sticking up. My shot hit him in the left foot."

Woodchuck hunting with high velocity "varmint" rifles has developed into a real summertime sport. It can be a safe pastime if hunters will wear clothing that contrasts with the background and if they will make certain their aim is not toward a human head, or a shoe, perhaps, but definitely at the animal sought.

Camp Meeting Closes Sunday

Free Methodist Camp Meeting, which has been in session at the Camp Grounds in East Dallas since July 19, will close after the 7:45 service Sunday evening. Rev. A. C. Archer is the visiting evangelist, preaching every day at 10:30 and 7:45.

Rev. A. E. Haley, missionary from South Africa, spoke twice daily until Wednesday, when he left to attend another camp meeting in Kentucky. Since Wednesday, Rev. C. H. Zahniser, Pittsburg, Field Secretary for Free Methodist Commission on Missions, has been speaking on missions. Rev. Zahniser has served as district superintendent for many years, and has been twice a delegate to Foreign Missions Conference.

In charge of the Childrens Bible School, meeting daily at 9 and 1:30, are Rev. Clyde VanValin, North Chile, N. Y. and his wife, the former Beatrice Roushey, of Shavertown.

Mixed quartette of Roberts Wesleyan College, North Chile, sang on July 24 and 25th.

METHODIST SERVICE

Rev. Frederick W. Reinfurt, pastor of the Methodist Church, has returned from his vacation and will be in charge of the service Sunday morning at 11. His sermon theme will be "While the Candle Burns." There will be a guest soloist.

Most people believe the small and large game seasons the dangerous ones for hunters. Considering the comparative number of gunners afield, there was a higher percentage of casualties in woodchuck season last summer than in either of the "regular" seasons of 1950. As usual these "accidents" didn't just happen. They were caused by persons inconsiderate of the safety of others or careless about protecting themselves through the wearing of proper garb.
