Former Alderson Pastor Injured In Collision

Friends of Rev. James Hilbert, a former pastor of Alderson Methodist Church, recently transferred from Chenango Forks to Green, N. Y., will be sorry to hear that he and Mrs. Hilbert figured in a serious collision on Saturday. One of the other two passengers in the car, Rev. Horace Weavers, was critically injured and died at the Susquehanna Hospital from injury and shock Sunday morning at 3.

At the height of Saturday's storm, Rev. Hilbert's car, enroute to Trenton, N. J., was struck by a truck four miles below New Milford, with injury to all passengers.

Rev. Hilbert sustained severe bruises and rib injuries. Mrs. Hilbert, thrown against the windshield and then out of the car, was badly bruised and shaken, and has a head injury as well as cuts and abrasions.

Rev. David Dawson, Lanesboro, the least injured, suffered from bruises and shock.

Rev. Hilbert and his passengers were on their way to join the evangelistic campaign in Trenton. All three pastors had been scheduled to speak in various churches during the week of Nov. 3 to 11.

Meeker

Meeker Methodist Church will serve a home style turkey supper with all the trimmings and home made pie. All you can eat. Serving starts at 5:30 p. m. Thursday evening, November 15. Come and bring your friends.

Mrs. Letitia M. Frear Buried At Sunnyside

Mrs. Letitia Miller Frear, 72, died Sunday morning after a lingering illness, at her home in Eatonville. Funeral services were conducted Wednesday afternoon from the Eaton Road Baptist Church by Rev. Carl Brandon, assisted by Rev. E. W. Osmun, a former pastor.

Burial was in Sunnyside Cemetery, with neighbors and friends of the family as pallbearers: Charles Adams, Lee Phillips, Stanley Brennan, Allen Giberson, Byron Miner, and Elmer Shaffer.

A member of Centermoreland Methodist Church, Mrs. Frear attended the Baptist church in Eatonville with her husband, and brought up her children according to its tenets.

Mrs. Frear was born in Centermoreland, daughter of the late Henry and Sarah Smith Miller. Before marriage to S. Arthur Frear, who survives her, she taught school in Wyoming and Luzerne counties. Had she lived until April she would have celebrated her 47th wedding anniversary.

Upon marriage and establishment in the Frear family homestead, now in the hands of her son Lee, she pioneered in the raising of turkeys, a bird seldom raised profitably in the earlier days, and was highly successful. Her son Lee, inheriting her way with poultry, operates a hatchery as well as doing general farming.

Mrs. Frear has another son, Dr. Donald Frear, a research chemist at Pennsylvania State College. Her daughter Margaret teaches physical education in Junior High School in Binghamton. There are two sisters, Mrs. Lorenzo Fitch, Kingston; and Miss Josephine Miller, Luzerne, formerly of Dallas; a brother Gideon, Harveys Lake; four grandchildren, and several nieces and nephews.

Evening Grosbeaks Seen

George Dean, Shrine View, reports a pair of evening grosbeaks at his feeder on Monday, the earliest ones he has ever seen here.

Junior Choir Will Entertain Lehman PTA At Lake Silkworth

Since the building program at Lehman-Jackson school is still in progress, the next general meeting of Lehman-Jackson P. T. A. will be held at Lake Silkworth Fire House on Monday evening, November 12, at 8.

Entertainment will be provided by the Junior Chorus under the direction of Mr. Gerrity.

Members of the chorus are: Janice Anstett, Janice Bronson, Alice Mae Britt, Marie Bombick, Gladys Baird, Janice Bertram, Janet Cornell, Margo Davenport, Edna Moore, Carol Dodson, Mary Everts, Claire Fullerton, Margaret Gardecki, Alice Gardecki, Esther Ide, Mary Ann Kupstas, Marie Kachmar, Beverly Major, Grace Major, Joyce Major, Janice Miniski, Betty Doran, Sylvia Nicholas, Shirley Park, Bonnie Piper, Dorothy Price, Dorothy Polisky, Barbara Radginski.

Following the program refreshments will be served.

The Publicity and Membership chairman wishes to announce that the membership drive will end on November 9. To date, total membership is 607.
