

Mrs. Stella W. LeVan Dies In Philadelphia

Mrs. Stella Williams LeVan, 81, born in Loyalville and a former resident of Lehman, died in Philadelphia Sunday afternoon at the Presbyterian Home where she had been living for a number of years.

Mrs. LeVan suffered a stroke two weeks ago. Her death was not unexpected.

In addition to a son, James, who lives in Philadelphia, Mrs. LeVan is survived by a brother, James Williams, and several nieces and nephews in the Back Mountain Region. Bess Kinetob is her first cousin.

Funeral services will be held in Philadelphia on Friday.

Mrs. Agnes Harper Dies At Sister's Home, Noxen

Mrs. Agnes Devine Harper, Brooklyn, N. Y., died at the home of her sister, Mrs. Gomer Thomas, Noxen, at noon on Sunday, two days before her fifty-second birthday. She had been in ill health for some months.

Mrs. Harper graduated from Noxen schools, and in 1918 from the Robert Packer Hospital training school in Sayre. For twelve years she served as a nurse in the Navy, on troop ships and on shore, from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

She is survived by her husband, Thomas; her sister, Mrs. Gomer Thomas; and two nieces, Mrs. E. W. Felegy, Minnesota, and Mrs. William Lee, Jr., Dallas.

Funeral services are scheduled for Wednesday at 11, from the home in Noxen, with Rev. Joseph Nallin, Church of the Nativity, Tunkhannock, officiating, and burial in the family plot at Orcutt Cemetery.

Mrs. Valera Henry Dies, Formerly of Shavertown

Friends of Mrs. Valera E. Henry who knew and loved her during her long residence in Shavertown after her late husband's retirement from the Methodist ministry, will be sorry to hear that she passed away at 83 in the Crowe Nursing Home, Canton.

She broke her hip in 1947, and while laid up with that infirmity, put in her time learning to read Braille. She had been nearly blind for some time before the accident, became totally blind during the last two years of her life.

She is remembered in Shavertown, where she lived for fourteen years after her husband's death, as much interested in Church, Sunday School and Bible work, and also as a great gardener. She and her husband developed a large garden on East Center Street, planting trees and shrubbery as well as flowers. Old acquaintances say that she was consistently cheerful, no matter what happened.

Surviving are three sons, Robert M. Laureldale; Clinton E., Syracuse, N. Y.; and Neal D., Camden, a sister, Mrs. Charles M. Rhoades, Cleveland; seven grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

REWARD FOR AN EARLY RISER

SPORTING A JAUNTY CAP, President Truman shakes hands with John David Lawer, 12-year-old Key West youngster. The boy, wishing to meet the Chief Executive, got up bright and early and took up a position he thought Truman might pass on his regular morning walk. Shortly after, he was rewarded as you see in photo above. (International Soundphoto)
