TODAY'S meditation

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

The Lord turned the captivity of Job, when he prayed for his friends. (Job 42:10.) Read Job 42:7-10 or James 5:16-20.

The Book of Job deals with the problems of human suffering, especially suffering which seems unjust. Job was a God-loving man, but sorrow, loss, and suffering fell upon him with crushing blows.

Three of his friends come to study him and his calamity. They attempt to find the cause for his troubles. They agree that Job's trials must have come upon him because of personal sin, something wrong he has done but which he will not admit. Job ever asserts his purity of intentions and his freedom from sin.

Finally, Job comes to the place where he forgets himself and his sufferings and losses and takes pity on his would-be comforters. He prays for them. When he does this, he is released from his captivity, freed from his suffering.

Something always happens when one prays for others. The greatest blessings come to them and us when we forget ourselves in our concern for others. Our greatest prayers are our prayers for others.

Our Father, we desire so many things for ourselves. But help us to forget ourselves in the larger desire to see blessings bestowed upon the needy, the hungry, and the suffering in the world today. Release new powers of life to all through our concern for them. In Christ's name, Amen.

Keller Displays Old Surveyor's Chain Owned By Great Grandfather

"Tell Zel Garinger that he's not the only local man that possesses farm and industrial antiques" grinned S. H. Keller Tuesday afternoon as he tossed a 33-foot rusted chain across the counter to Ralph Rood. "Know what it is?" questioned still grinning broadly.

"Sure I do", said Ralph, "It's an old surveyor's chain. I haven't seen one like it for thirty years".

Mr. Keller said the old chain belonged to his great grandfather who used it in Herkimer County, New York, and that it had come down to him through his father the late, Peter M. Keller, who died in 1914.

Although called a "chain" it is made up of a series of thin steel rods with wooden handles at each end. When stretched to its full length it measures 33 feet or two rods or perches of 16½ feet each.

Mr. Keller estimates that it must be 100 to 150 years old.

"Would you sell it?" someone asked.

"No, sir, not for a $100" Mr. Keller added, "It's a real family antique".
