Kunkle Methodists Lay Final Plans For Fair

Plans are practically completed for Kunkle Methodist Church participation at Bloomsburg State Fair. E. R. Kerlin has arranged for a large trailer truck from Farmers Exchange, Conyngham, and James Traver will lend his truck, also. Austin Wertman will drive a Devens Mill truck.

Mrs. Ray Henney has charge of getting workers and arranging for their transportation. Residents having cars available are asked to get in touch with her, and those willing to work in the food stand may register their names.

Mrs. Forest Kunkle has charge of the pie section, Mrs. Daniel Meeker the making of menu signs.

Mrs. Dorothy Dodson, Mrs. William Eckert, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Kerlin, Mrs. Russell Miers, and Mrs. Ralph Ashburner, head the planning committee.

Men of the church and community who have free time the Saturday before fair opening, are cordially invited to help set up the tent and install the facilities at Bloomsburg.

Barbara Malkemes Takes Art Course At Capital

Barbara Melkemes, the Kingston Township High School girl who made a reputation for herself decorating shop windows and houses for holiday seasons, is now enrolled in National Art School in Washington, D. C.

Barbara, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Malkemes, E. Franklin Street, Shavertown, graduated from Westmoreland in June. She did art work on the year book during her senior year. She left for Washington September 2, commuting daily to art school from Bethesda, Md., where she lives with her sister, Mrs. Claude Lapp.

She reports that already the class has visited the art museums in Washington and has had a chance to make sketches of a ship in the harbor, in addition to classroom assignments. Barbara has a head for mathematics, too, as well as for art, and at 18 is a pretty good business woman.
