

Reception For Rev. McClelland

Prince Of Peace Sunday Afternoon

Women of the Prince of Peace Episcopal Church will entertain for the new rector and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. William McClelland, at a reception from two to four in the Parish Hall on Sunday afternoon.

Rev. McClelland and his family will be officially introduced to the Back Mountain area at this reception. All pastors of other churches have been invited, and the hosts committee hopes that neighbors and friends as well as members of the congregation will drop in.

POST PUBLISHES EARLY NEXT WEEK, MATERIAL MUST BE HERE EARLY

The Dallas Post will publish early next week, on account of Thanksgiving. Advertisers and correspondents are reminded to get their material to us Monday at the latest, as the paper will be printed Tuesday afternoon and be on the street and in the mail Wednesday morning.

DEALING FROM BOTTOM

Entirely too many people try to get the upper hand by dealing from the bottom.

Dallas Methodist WSCS To Hold Supper-Bazaar

Dallas Methodist W.S.C.S. will hold a bazaar and cafeteria supper in the church tomorrow night starting at 5:30 o'clock. There will be a great variety of handmade articles, a bake sale, a fish pond, movies for children and the following supper items: homemade vegetable soup, spaghetti and meat balls, hot dogs, chicken on biscuit, candied yams, creamed frozen peas, glazed carrots, pepper cabbage, homemade rolls, butter, pie, cake, coffee, tea and chocolate milk.

NESBITTS FIND DALLAS ON THE MAP AS THEY ENPLANE TO BERMUDA

"What town do you people come from?"

"We're from Dallas, Pennsylvania. You probably never heard of it before."

"Oh yes, we have. That's the place where you have the Library Auction every year."

That was a snippet of conversation between the Abram Nesbitts and two fellow passengers on the Bermuda plane. The plane reached a point one hour's air travel from Bermuda and turned back to New York to park its passengers overnight in a Flushing hotel. The plane made it the next day, landing without incident at an airport bathed in sunshine instead of shrouded in fog.

Lighted Home Expresses Holiday Happiness Within

Let your home express your Christmas spirit. A gaily lighted house is tangible evidence of the holiday warmth and cheer within. Use your own ideas for original designs taking full advantage of architectural features of your house. Bells and stars used to decorate the home pictured above are products of the home workshop.

By ROBERT DORSEY
Holiday Lighting Specialist

Large or small, new or old, any home takes on a festive appearance when lighted for the holidays. Gay colored lights twinkling through feathery greens help reflect the holiday warmth and cheer indoors.

Whether you make your own decorations or buy ready-made commercial ones, it's not too early to start planning your outdoor decorations.

Early Planning

Early planning will pay dividends toward getting the most out of your equipment. If you're decorating your home for the first time, consider the architectural features

Make Own Bells

The large picture window also becomes an important feature of the design with its trio of lighted bells.

The bells, fashioned in a home workshop, were cut from masonite, painted white and dusted with artificial snow. The bells were then outlined with red bulbs in sockets. (Sockets and wiring was concealed from view by covering the backs of the bells with aluminum foil). Notice how one lighted bulb serves as a clapper on each bell. To complete the arrangement the lighted bells are "tied" together with graceful loops of tinsel and satin bows.

Blue stars in the upstairs front windows and lighted candelabras at each side of the picture window complete the design.

For homemakers who are all thumbs when making things there are several styles of ready-made stars, bells and candles available.

Competition Sponsored By Medical Society

Luzerne County Medical Society has launched its 1953 Health Poster Contest for students in parochial and public schools throughout the county. Each year, in conjunction with the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania, the contest is conducted by the county medical society to make children aware of good health habits and sickness prevention. Posters are to illustrate some phase of preventive medicine or general health as relates to the family doctor. Size of posters is not to exceed 22 by 30 inches, and the media used may be crayons, colored pencils, water colors, show card or tempora colors, cut paper or oil paints.

In order that the children of the same age group may compete with one another, there are four divisions: grades one to three; four to six; seven to nine, and ten to twelve, with a first and second cash prize in each division. Winners in the county contest are sent to the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania, and are entered in the state contest at the annual meeting of the State Society in September, 1953, where they will compete with winners from the other counties in the state. There are substantial cash prizes for winners in the state contest, and their posters will become the official posters of the State Society and will be displayed at the annual meeting and in schools throughout the state during the ensuing year.

Dr. Stephen A. Jones, Public Relations Chairman of the Luzerne County Medical Society, and Mrs. John F. Drapiewski, Poster Contest Chairman for the Woman's Auxiliary, who are handling details of the contest, have sent letters to all supervising principals, school superintendents, high and elementary school principals and art teachers throughout the county giving details of the contest.

Mrs. Mae M. Newton Buried Thursday

Mrs. Mae M. Newton, 60, a resident of Sweet Valley since marriage to Edgar Newton in 1938, passed away Monday night at Mercy Hospital where she had been a patient since October 31. Funeral services were conducted from a Wilkes-Barre funeral home Thursday afternoon by Rev. Ira Button, with burial in Maple Hill Cemetery.

Mrs. Newton had been in failing health since Easter time but had kept up and around until recently. She and her husband, both of them fond of children, had had charge of one of the cottages at Children's Service Center, Wilkes-Barre, until increasing ill health forced her retirement.

Clever in flower arrangement, Mrs. Newton made up corsages during holiday seasons for Kettle's Florist Shop, and was expert at wedding bouquets and corsages.

She attended Sweet Valley Christian Church.

Mrs. Newton, at that time Mrs. Mae Woodley, was married to Mr. Newton by Rev. Ira Button. A native of Wilkes-Barre, daughter of Edward and Annie Reese Martin, she had lived for some years in Retsoff, N. Y.

She is survived by her husband and three sisters, Mrs. David Morgan and Mrs. Abner Bevan, Philadelphia; and Mrs. Lawry Benny, Allentown.

Preliminary funeral arrangements were made by Alfred D. Bronson.
