

People Learn The Hard Way

Most hunters are good citizens, but occasionally game protectors encounter persons who perpetually flaunt the law in defiance of pen- his hunting privileges restored. alties and restrictions placed upon

On November 1, a Cassville, Huntingdon County man was ar- the gun rack in a Huntingdon Counfor hunting and killing 6 gray squir- the game in the woods is not worth rels during the Governor's hunting the life of one person." ban. On the 29th of the same month, game protectors again arrested this man for illegally killing and possessing 2 deer in close season.

this year proved the start of an Game Commission. unlucky streak for a man living tectors on that date for killing deer game hunters, including those who Miller tells that early in Novemrevoked. Not satisfied, the same their kills at once, either by the shield of his car while he was huntman was caught hunting deer on big game kill card attached to their ing hickory nuts. It read: 'Don't offense the perpetual violator was The time, place (county and town- any kind since the Governor closed I want my boy to have a dog fined the maximum penalty and, ship), sex, weight, and number of the season? Get out of the woods a lengthy stay.

A Montgomery County man appears to be out to set somewhat of a rerord as an "outlaw hunter", their future sport. having been prosecuted each year for three consecutive years. In 1950 he killed an antierless deer during the buck season and ingeniously Law, which provides for the con-publicity to fill 800 columns, Junius attached antlers, but was detected fiscation of equipment illegally used B. Wood says in an article in Naand paid a penalty of $100 with in the spotlighting of deer, the tion's Business. revocation of hunting privileges. In Game Commission has confiscated 1951 he secured a license under an automobile so used and is offer- The Veterans Administration's assumed name and hunted two days, ing it for sale, resulting in a higher penalty. This The Game Commission confiscated found by the Citizens Committee now they just dress to torment."year, he again hunted during a a 1951 Pontiac car on June 20. The for the Hoover Report to be carry- Emil Coleman. period when hunting privileges had auto was used in the illegal, night ing an average work load of 450 been suspended and killed a buck killing of a deer in Lycoming Coun-policies each, compared with a work deer. The fine for this offense was ty on Novembe 30, 1951, by a load of 1,762 policies per employee agers establish with their parents of the hearing on the last case, the hunter requested permission to deposit his guns with the Court, just to avoid further temptation, until such time as he would have

Warning Is Well Placed

The inscription on a board above rested by game protectors and fined ty sportsman's camp reads: "All tions as given in the November the roster law.

Report Big Game Kills

In another case, November 13 of kills to the Harrisburg office of the animals in the state to report their ties collected totaled $15,179.31, near McVeytown, Mifflin County and deer harvests is important to tried to help enforce the Governor's He'll learn from them much easier He was picked up by game pro- the Commission. Successful big hunting ban in his own little way. in close season and for hunting are permitted by law to hunt with- ber a sportsman showed him a A dog would show him how to love small game while his license was out license, are requested to report note that was placed on the wind-December 3. This being the third hunting license or by postal card. you know there is no hunting of in addition, was placed in jail for antler points, if any, should be and stay out." furnished. Full cooperation of the nimrods is helpful to the Commission in developing and managing Worth Repeating . . .

To Sell Forfeited Auto

In accordance with the Game been getting enough government still more severe. At the completion spotlight attached to the vehicle. in private business.

The lapse of time was due to litigation in the case.

The Pontiac will be sold at public auction at Eck's Central Storage Garage, Williamsport, at 10

Violations Reviewed

a.m. on December 30.

small game season, to date, were: next time we need a good home for hunting in safety zones; hunting a dog. without license, on borrowed license, or non-residents hunting on Dear Mrs. Risley: resident license; carrying loaded I have followed with considerable guns in vehicles; and killing deer interest your stories of puppies in close season.

killing illegal deer; license viola- care and affection. hunting; loaded guns in cars; shooting at random; and violations of

In October of this year, 481 per- P.S. I am enclosing a copy of a The Pennsylvania Game Law re- sons were prosecuted for game law poem I copied from some source, it quires hunters who bag big game infractions in Pennsylvania. Penal- may have been the Post. If not I Really Meant No Hunting Game Protector Paul R. Miller, I want my boy to have a dog Knowledge of the extent of hear Butler, says it is evident someone

In one week, a city newspaper has

15,432 insurance employees were

Robert L. Whalen, Trucksville, our neighbor, sent us the following Game Commission records show letter and poem this week. We enthat, in the order given, the pre- joyed both and thought you would dominating violations in the 1952 too. You bet we'll call him the abandoned in the Dallas area and In the bear and buck deer sea- your efforts to secure homes where son, game law breakers fell into they will receive care and affecthese principal classifications, in tion I should be glad to welcome the order of numbers prosecuted: a puppy and will guarantee both > Very truly yours, Robert L. Whalen Trucksville, Pa. Phone 4-5561.

Myra Risley

am sure you will appreciate it.

Than he would learn from me

And bear no grudge or hate: I'm not so good at that myself But dogs will do it straight

To be his pal and friend So he may learn that friendship Is faithful to the end

There never yet has been a dog Who learned to double-cross Nor catered to you when you won Then dropped you when you lost

-Marty Hale

And I Quote . . .

"Women used to dress to kill;

"The relationship many teen is touch and go."-Albert A. Franck

THE DALLAS POST

"More than a newspaper a community institution' ESTABLISHED 1889

Member Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers' Association

A non-partisan liberal progressive newspaper published every Friday morning at the Dallas Post plant. Lehman Avenue, Dallas, Pennsylvania.

Entered as second-class matter at the post office at Dallas, Pa., under the Act of March 3, 1879. Subscription rates: $3.00 a year; $2.00 six months. No subscriptions accepted for less than six months. Out-of state subscriptions: $3.50 a year; $2.50 six months or less. Back issues, more than one week old, 10c.

Single copies, at a rate of 8c each, can be obtained every Friday morning at the following newsstands: Dallas—Berts Drug Store Bowman's Restaurant, Evans Restaurant, Smith's Economy Store; Shavertown—Evans Drug Store; Hall's Drug Store; Trucksville—Gregory's Store; Idetown— Cave's Store; Huntsville—Barnes Store; Fernbrook—Reeses Store; Sweet Valley—Britt's Store; Lehman—Moore's Store.

When requesting a change of address subscribers are asked to give their old as well as new address.

Allow two weeks for changes of address or new subscription to be placed on mailing list.

We will not be responsible for the return of unsolicited manuscripts, phoelf-addressed, stamped envelope is en-closed, and in no case will this material be held for more than 30 days.

National display advertising rates 63c per column inch. Transient rates 75c.

Local display advertising rates 60c per column inch; specified position 70c per inch.

Political advertising $1.10 per inch. Advertising copy received on Thursday will be charged at 75c per column inch. Classified rates 4c per word. Minimum charge 75c. All charged ads 10c additional.

Unless paid for at advertising rates, we can give no assurance that announcements of plays, parties, rummage sales or any affair for raising money will appear in a specific issue.

Preference will in all instances be given to editorial matter which has not previously appeared in publication.

Editor and Publisher HOWARD W. RISLEY Associate Editors MYRA ZEISER RISLEY MRS. T. M. B. HICKS Advertising Manager ROBERT F. BACHMAN

ONLY

From The Post of ten and twenty years ago this week.

From The Issue Of December 25, 1942

Greetings on the front page from High School principals to their boys in the armed services. T. A. Wilspeaks for Dallas Borough Raymond E. Kuhnert for Dallas Township; Austin Snyder for Leh-

Contributors to the Outpost are: Robert A. Ray, Cherry Point, N.C.; Kenneth Davis, Scott Field, Ill. Arthur D. Dunn, Johnson Field, N.C.; Louis Kelly, Virginia; Glenn Knecht, Arkansas; Joseph W. Woolbert, Denver: Tommy Evans, New Zealand.

It's the annual Christmas issue, printed in green ink, gay with garlands, keeping up the morale at home because so many households in the Back Mountain are taking a leaf out of the dining table so it won't look too lonesome at dinner without Junior. Porter Michael dies at 68.

Cranberries, 19c per lb; sweet potatoes, 5c per lb; lemons, 3 for 10; turkeys, 44c per lb; strong sleds, $1.49; cherries in fondant, 39c per

Marion Disque is in training for the WAAC's at Des Moines.

Merry Christmas to a world at

From The Issue Of December 23, 1932

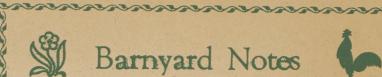

Christmas issue, with Arthur Lee recalling Christmas in the trenches during the first World War.

Icy roads endanger traffic. Snow on the hills for coasting, ice on the ponds for skating. First cold weather of the year.

Auxiliary, Dr. Henry M. Laing Fire Company, is ready with Christ mas cheer for the needy.

Salted peanuts, 10c per lb; sour pie cherries, 2 cans 19c; lobster, 25c per can; apple sauce, 2 cans 15c; Brazil nuts, 2 lbs. for 25c; cigarettes, popular brands, $1.25 per carton; cranberries, 2 lbs for 25c; pumpkin, sold pack, 2 cans for 15c; peanut brittle, 2 lbs, 25 cents 'Sheriff's sales abound in this and ecent issues.

Editorial comment says that the errible year of 1932, launched with lighted angells. such high hopes, is about to end. Back Mountain give place to Lake Suburban Region.

Barnyard Notes

and the second second second second I shall never forget Christmas Eve twenty-two years ago. It was one of the most rewarding experiences of my twenty-five years as a newspaper man.

No matter how self-satisfied I may become, no matter how many of this world's goods I may gather, I shall still remember it; for it was an experience that would make the heart of any man humble and fix for all time his faith in the decency and love of one man for Yesterday from the files of The Dallas Post for December 1930, I ran across an item by Rev. G. Elston Ruff, former pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Shavertown.

In part he said: More than three million people are out of work -and that is a conservative estimate of the number.

For every wage earner there are women and children in need

-some of them starving. This isn't a situation peculiar to New England or the middle west. It exists in Dallas and the towns around. Such an emergency calls for something special on our part. Let us give to help these neighbors this Christmas."

Then further down the page was this boxed item.

TEARS AT TWELVE

Just twelve years old, unhappy and crying at this season of the year when all little girls should be the happiest, a quiet little girl, poorly clad, walked hesitantly into Jim Oliver's store to look at the toys on Friday. Timidly she asked Art Brown if she might hold one of the dollies. Then she took it in her arms, mothering and fondling it. As she sat rocking it in a toy chair, tears began to stream down her cheeks. She knows she is not going to have any toys this year. She's brave and she doesn't mind. But the touch of the little doll in her arms brought the tears that she had tried so hard to hold back. Art consoled her-told her Santa Claus might bring her the dolly, and she replied seriously through her tears, "There isn't going to be any Santa Claus at our house this year." Since last Christmas, she explained, her daddy hasn't had a steady job. There has been sickness; the chickens he tried to raise on his little plot of ground at Huntsville all have died. There are ten brothers and sisters in her family. There is a scant amount to eat. In her heart she knows there just can't be any toys this year. Whether there is enough food to go around that table of twelve -depends.

That Christmas more than eighty families received assistance in some form from a Community Christmas Fund contributed to by all Back Mountain churches, service clubs and civic organizations. A. L. Parks, head of Parks Baking Company sent out 100 loaves of bread, part of 2,000 he distributed in Wyoming Valley.

Typical orders from the Community Fund included 25 pounds of flour, a three to five pound roast of pork, 5 pounds of sugar, 2 pounds of beans, bread, butter, 2 pounds of candy, 1 dozen oranges, 1 peck of potatoes, box of pancake flour, Karo syrup, 1 pound of coffee, 3 pounds of cookies, oatmeal and lard. The quantities varied with the size of the family. Where arctics were needed they were distributed to children.

Perhaps you have wondered whether the little girl whose story was published in The Post got her doll or whether her smaller brothers and sisters had food for Christmas.

Late Christmas Eve, long after most residents of Dallas were in bed, a lady who had been touched by her plight stopped at the child's home and left the doll—and one for her sister—and toys enough for all the other children. They had been provided by the late Jim Oliver who combed his shelves to see that those youngsters had a glorious Christmas. A day later, clutching her doll close to her breast, the little girl trudged three miles through the heavy snow to find the name of the lady so that she could name her dolly after her.

But toys were not all that was needed in that family. The father, a skilled sheet metal worker, had been out of work for a year. The mother bravely held the family together, canning vegetables and fruit from the garden. She patched the children's clothes, made every cent go as far as possible.

Christmas Eve found the group without food. There was no flour, sugar, bread or any of the other necessities. There was no soap. One glance at the house showed that soap was a commodity used there. The children's clothes were clean and neatly ironed and

When the lady was admitted to the living room, she saw in the corner a pathetic little Christmas tree, trimmed with bits of ribbon and home-made ornaments. There was a light shining from one of the upper rooms—there was no other light in the house.

"Your little girl was in Dallas the other day and saw a doll she liked. Will she get it for Christmas?" she asked.

"She loved that doll," replied the mother, "but she won't get it. I had $5 for Christmas. The neighbors have been good-but it won't go around."

Then all the courage left her as a barefooted little girl in a bathrobe came down the dimly lighted stairway. She had done her best to keep the spirit of Christmas alive for her little flock. The tears just wouldn't stay back.

"Never mind," said the lady. "We've got the dolly here and there will be other things in the morning." And as she spoke, she bent over and with an understanding heart, kissed the woman who somehow at the moment resembled another mother-nineteen hundred and thirty years ago.

Perhaps that was the greatest Christmas gift of all for the man who stood silently in the hallway.

And the dolly's name? Louise. Most of the benefactors in this story are dead now. But somewhere, I suspect, there is a little girl grown to motherhood who will remember the name of that dolly and the woman who gave it.-Mrs. Lewis Mitten.

LIGHTED ANGELS YOU MAKE YOURSELF

Give the holiday punchbowl a | To make the base use a round place of honor on a small round tin pan and make seven round holes

I gold foil paper for the wings.

table set off with a centerpiece of in the bottom. Ream until large emough to insert Christmas tree These curly haired paper angels sockets in them. Line holes with Eugene Lazarus suggests the name whose cone-shaped skirts hid Christ- electrical tape and insert sockets mas tree bulbs can be fashioned with and bulbs. (Pan will be upside the help of the pattern below. When down.) Place angels over bulbs carecut, attach head and wings to cone- fully, making sure skirts are not shaped paper cups (the kind your touching bulbs, For a final touch, Being a good husband is like any drug store uses for sodas) and in-place a large Christmas candle in other job-much easier if you get vert them over a lighted base. Use the center and circle the lighted angels with Christmas greens

10 Machell Ave.

Christmas...what a hold it has on the hearts and imaginations of man! Its spirit puts a beauty and joy into our lives

so we may carry good cheer and good will wherever we go.

In this spirit of deep-down

gladness we wish our friends

a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

T. Williams FUNERAL HOME

Phone 4-4101

Dallas