

Coughlin Trims Lake Grapplers

Heavy-Weight III, Hopfer Substitutes

Thursday evening, Lake-Noxen boys wrestled the Coughlin "B" Team on their own mats. Although they lost to the superior Coughlin team, they showed great improvement over their two previous meets. They have wrestled representative teams from both Plymouth and Lehman-Jackson High Schools.

Lake-Noxen team lost the first few bouts to Coughlin but rallied when Charles Williams, 133 pounds, pinned his opponent, Yudiski, Roy Swingle, who had never wrestled in a meet before, decisioned Behler of Coughlin. Dave Westfield was also part of the rally as he pinned Borys in the third period. Due to illness our heavyweight was unable to wrestle, therefore Ronald Hopfer, who had previously wrestled in the 165 pound class, took over the duties of the heavyweight. He put up a gallant battle, but his much larger opponent defeated him.

Power Shovel Strikes Drain, Waterworks

Excavation for a new home to be constructed for Robert Hughes, on Norton Avenue by Whitesell Brothers, came to a sudden halt Friday afternoon when a power shovel operated by Hoover-Milbrod struck a drain for surface water leading down from Lehman Avenue. Within a matter of minutes there was a swimming pool, but after consultation the shovel operator continued with excavation, bringing up as much water as soil. During the weekend freeze, solid ice formed on top of the water.

Hillside Farm Sells Multiplying Flock

Four Dorset ewes sold to Arthur Killian, Montour County, by Hillside Farms, increased and multiplied in the interval between purchase and delivery, producing six lambs in a single week.

This is the year when winning candidates will be sworn into office and cussed out afterward.
