

Readers Pleased With Thanksgiving Issue

WILL FILE IT AWAY

Dear Editor and Staff:
 Congratulations on your Thanksgiving Issue of The Post.
 It came about noon today and I have spent most of the afternoon and evening reading it. I find it extremely interesting and informative. Local history has always been a hobby with me.

While living in Wilkes-Barre, I made quite a study of Wyoming Valley history and occasionally gave talks on that subject. After moving to the Back Mountain area I soon realized that I was living in a community with a very interesting early history and I have been picking up scraps of it from time to time.

Today The Post arrived with a wealth of interesting material. Not only does it depict that early history but it also shows the progress and development of the community throughout the years in a most attractive manner.

That copy of The Post will be filed in my library as a ready reference on Back Mountain people and places.

Again my heartiest congratulations.
 Sincerely,
 George W. Houck,
 831 Grove Street, N.
 St. Petersburg, 4, Florida.

HELPS TOWARD UNIFICATION

Dear Dallas Post Staff:
 What an issue! You folks have done a magnificent job. Like a master welder, certainly there has been more accomplished toward unification of the Back Mountain area than dozens of committee meetings.
 You have proved that all have a great deal to be proud of and each community is working toward a similar goal. In a fast moving and speedy age, the only boundaries are man made.

May we place an order for a booklet, just like the paper, each section having its grand pictorial sheet—just as you published it. Although it cannot be read in a day—it sure will be—every word of it—

Again—like all the Back Mountain—you have our sincere admiration for so tremendous a task that has been so well done.

Sincerely,
 Alfred and Mildred Bronson,
 Sweet Valley.

DOESN'T RESENT SCOOP

Dear Editor:
 May I join what I am sure is a host of others in congratulating you on your Thanksgiving Issue. It is an outstanding job and I am reading it with much enjoyment. Incidentally, I cannot find it in my heart to resent the front page scoop you gave to the "Miners."

Sincerely yours,
 Frank Anderson,
 President
 Miners National Bank.

ENJOYED BOYHOOD SCENES

Dear Editor:
 Mrs. Buckman and I both enjoyed last week's historical issue of the "Post." You made a grand effort and produced a strikingly fine special issue. Congratulations. I have personally enjoyed reading about, and seeing pictures of the old Dallas and Lake area which I knew summers as a boy.

Sincerely yours,
 Lewis T. Buckman, M. D.,
 Wilkes-Barre.

ACROSS THE YEARS

Dear Editor:
 You sure did a bang up job with the anniversary issue. It sure took me back to scenes and experiences which I had in the days when mother and I drove to Dallas to take the trolley to Wilkes-Barre, perhaps once each season. And Billy Goss, I have often seen him look just like that.

If you ever again get the urge to print old pictures I have some oldies of father and mother at the Centermoreland home, father in the cart or mother in the sleigh, driving through a tunnel of snow which was nearly as high as the horses' back. I like the picture of old Dr. Laing. Dr. Henry, Dr. Spencer, and father began practicing about the same time. Many of the articles and pictures will go in my scrap book.

Am curious to know whose house it is near Centermoreland; will ask you sometime.

Sincerely,
 Edna B. Howell,
 Shavertown, Pa.
 Mrs. Howell is the daughter of the late grand old country physician, Dr. C. L. Boston, of Centermoreland and Noxen.—Editor.

REMARKABLE JOB

Dear Editor:
 I want to tell you what a really remarkable job I think the Community Progress edition of your newspaper is. I could never have imagined that you could have put together anything nearly so ambitious and I can readily see how much effort and thought has gone into it. It is a remarkable achievement. Kindest regards and best wishes for the holiday season.

Yours sincerely,
 Julius Long Stern,
 Idetown, Pa.

PRESS WORK IS PERFECT

Dear Editor:
 May I compliment you on the splendid job you and your staff did in publishing the Dallas Post Community Progress Edition.

In all my years with PNPA I do not think I have seen its equal in weekly newspaper publishing. Your press work is perfect and content is such that it will be read thoroughly by anyone identified with, or interested in, the "Back Mountain" section.

Theodore A. Serrill,
 Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers' Assoc.,
 Harrisburg.

PERPETUAL TREAT

Dear Editor:
 Your 64th Anniversary issue is a pictorial and reportorial delight. And it couldn't have been published at a more appropriate time. Many thanks to you and all the others for the perpetual treat of this issue of the Post. This is one paper which is going to be saved.

Sincerely,
 Margie Stout,
 Shavertown, Pa.

LIKED THE PICTURES

Dear Editor:
 Your special edition on the Back Mountain area done in brown was a fine piece of work. The unusually sharp reproduction of your numerous cuts, both in the news stories and the ads, certainly attracted the eye. However you did it they certainly did stand out. Wishing you continued success, I remain,

Sincerely,
 Charles A. Berry,
 Wilkes-Barre Record.

WANTS TO KEEP IT

Dear Editor:
 I just received and looked through your Post. Will you please send one to my sister, Mrs. K. E. Fitzgerald, Huston, Texas. I don't want to send mine on for I want it myself.

Lena T. McNeal,
 St. Petersburg, Fla.

AGAINST SPECIAL EDITIONS

Dear Editor:
 Congratulations! That paper of yours this week was a masterpiece of which any publisher could well be proud.

Generally speaking, I'm against "special editions" for they're usually something that the reader glances at and discards. But I am sure that everybody who sees that splendid paper of yours will do just what I'm going to do—take it home to read through over the week-end. My very best wishes to you for a happy holiday season and years of continued success ahead.

Sincerely,
 Pauline Lacey,

MISSED THE "Y"

Dear Editor:
 Last week's Post was just stupendous, super-colossal and something of which you certainly could be very, very proud. I read each page with keen interest and real delight.

I am awfully sorry, however, that we missed the opportunity of mentioning the Back Mountain YMCA in any part of that entire issue. Most of us feel that a definite contribution has been made in the life of the youngsters from their experiences in the Back Mountain "Y." Next time I hope we will be sure and include the Back Mountain "Y."

Cordially yours,
 J. H. Godtriving,
 YMCA, Wilkes-Barre.

A GRAND JOB

Dear Editor:
 What a grand job you did on last week's issue!

Appreciatively,
 Oce Beryl Austin,
 Beaumont, Pa.

Oce did a swell job of bringing the old history at Beaumont up to date, telling who lives in the old houses now and what became of the descendants of the early settlers. It took hours of research and visiting with old timers. Incidentally she used the facts in her class room—all of which adds up to a good teacher.

A "MASTERPIECE"

Dear Editor:
 Just a short note to congratulate you on the splendid special edition of the Dallas Post which appeared last week. All of us here at PNPA thought it was truly a "masterpiece." Interestingly, I note that the Wilkes-Barre Sunday Independent thinks quite highly of your work according to an editorial appearing in yesterday's Independent. I am enclosing a clip of this in case you have not already seen it.

Very truly yours,
 M. W. Denison,
 Mid-Atlantic Weeklies,
 Harrisburg, Pa.
