Dallas Community Ambulance Drive Gains Momentum, Deadline April 15

The current drive for funds for Dallas Community Ambulance will close April 15. William Wright, chairman of the drive, said that less than half the homes in Township and Borough have been contacted...

As Mr. Wright expressed it, the community has been "driven" to death, with one fund raising project on top of another, and the Red Cross rollcall still going on.

Paul Hoover and Leland Wentzel, both of Lehman, were present upon invitation to talk about their new community ambulance, which they said was entirely satisfactory in spite of its modest purchase price.

Dallas Ambulance Association hopes to purchase a new model, but there is a number of good buys in used ambulances on the market...

The membership voted to request the Dallas Post to publish a list of donors, but without stating amounts.

Norti Betti, president, in the absence of Atty. Robert Fleming, reported that the charter, drawn up for a non-profit organization, would be ready shortly...

The appended list of donors is as complete as it can be at the present time. If names have been omitted, such omission will be rectified unless donors wish to remain anonymous.
