Woman Lawyer Taken By Death

Miss Sophia O'Hara Was Political Leader

Pennsylvania's No. 1 Republican career woman, silver-haired Atty. Sophia M. R. O'Hara, 72, died Monday night at Mercy Hospital, Wilkes-Barre, following a heart attack.

Born in Wilkes-Barre, but a resident of Kingston for the past thirty years, Miss O'Hara was a top Republican leader and office holder for three decades.

She served as Secretary of the Commonwealth from 1939 to 1943 and as Secretary of Welfare from 1943 to 1947, and as Deputy State Attorney General from 1927 to 1935.

For almost twenty years she served as president of the Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women. Private funeral services were held Thursday morning from St. Ignatius Church, Kingston. Interment was in St. Mary's Cemetery, Hanover Township.

Youth Career Day Attracts 338 Students

Speakers Advise What To Seek In Choosing Career

Fourth Back Mountain Career Day was held at Wilkes-Barre YMCA on Tuesday with 338 students attending. Schools represented were Dallas-Franklin, Lake-Noxen and Westmoreland.

Rev. Jule Ayers, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, Wilkes-Barre, was the guest speaker. He spoke on "My Career." Rev. Ayers gave the students three points to take into consideration when deciding upon a career: (1) get to know yourself (2) be yourself (3) get along with other people. He urged the students to seek to find God's Will for their life. He concluded his talk by emphasizing that no matter what career one pursues, he will be a blessing to his fellowmen, if he combines the kind of person he is and his abilities with the needs of the world.

The summary of the Career Day program was given by Eugene Teter, Superintendent of Luzerne County Schools, on the subject "Let's Talk About Tomorrow." The question he asked the students was "What are you going to do about what you heard in the various career conferences you've had during the day?" He sighted the example of a champion in any field, giving these four points which make for success: (1) a champion uses that which he has (2) a champion trains and keeps fit, (3) a champion always does his level best, (4) a champion never gives up.

Between the main address and the summary, students attended two separate sessions during which time they were privileged to hear an expert present and discuss questions in a chosen field. Vocations presented during these two periods were: Secretary, stenographer, typist, receptionist, bookkeeping, accountant, dramatics, mechanical engineer, farming, social work, electrical engineering, radio announcer and repairmen, machine trade, tool designer, mechanics, forestry and game warden, modeling, dressmaking, actress, beautician, music, nursing, air pilot, air hostess, telephone operator, police service and FBI, teacher, women and men armed services, aviation mechanics, commercial artist, interior decorating, journalism, minister, YW and YMCA secretary.

J. H. Williams, executive secretary of the Back Mountain Town and Country YMCA, opened the general assembly session of the Career Day program. This program for the students of the Back Mountain area schools is sponsored jointly by the Dallas Kiwanis Club and the Back Mountain YMCA.

C. E. Beerweiler, president of the Wilkes-Barre YMCAs welcomed the students and R. E. Neal, president of the Dallas Kiwanis Club and a director of the Back Mountain YMCA, gave brief remarks.

The invocation was given by Miss Eunice Traver, chaplain of Lake-Noxen Tri Hi-Y Club, and the benediction by Richard Hislop, chaplain of the Dallas-Franklin Hi-Y Club.

Templin Given National Honor

Times and waters will not wear away our abiding memories of his sustained kindness. He has served as a competent usher in the Cathedral of Civilization. He stands tall against the sky line of this community. We here attest that he is a rare jewel in the crown of achievement. HE IS AN ADEQUATE American and a creative citizen of the Kingdom of God and the United States of America.

The audience rose in silent tribute as the baton was lifted from a triangular box signifying the Constitution, Bill of Rights, and Declaration of Independence. Mr. Snyder stated that Mr. Templin's name will be placed on the national list and will be number seven. In closing, Mr. Snyder lighted a candle of memory as a tribute to a man who has given so much light and unselfish, creative work in education. Mr. Templin gave a most touching response in recognition of the honor bestowed on him.

Mr. Comstock and Mr. Davies sang the "Marseille," the national French anthem.

Dr. Harold C. Buckman, district superintendent of Wyoming Valley Methodist Churches, gave a closing prayer which was followed by the Star Spangled Banner.

Carr Consolidated To Close Local Plant

Federal Judge Albert L. Watson this week approved the appointment of three trustees in the reorganization of the Carr Consolidated Biscuit Company. The firm operates plants in Boston, Mass.; Chicago, Ill., and Wilkes-Barre. It will close its Wilkes-Barre plant in an effort to stop losses of $10,000 per week. Trustees are F. T. Armstrong, president Wilkes-Barre Chamber of Commerce; Bruce F. Stewart, Pottsville, and Jack H. Rathbone, 39-year old Wichita, Kansas, business executive.

Ruth E. Nichols Dies At General

Funeral Services Tomorrow At 2

Mrs. Ruth Ellsworth Nichols, 63, passed away at General Hospital yesterday morning at 8, conscious to the last, but mercifully released from pain. Admitted hopelessly ill on Easter Monday, Mrs. Nichols had her five children with her almost constantly. Her husband, G. Wilbur Nichols, was with her when she died.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2 from the Frederick Funeral Home, Wyoming Avenue, Forty Fort, conducted by Rev. Arthur Mayo, pastor of the White Church on the Hill, of which Mrs. Nichols was a member. Rev. Robert Webster, former pastor, will assist. Friends may call this afternoon 2 to 4, or in the evening 7 to 10.

Mrs. Nichols was preeminently a home lover, sewing for her children and her eight grandchildren, always on call to take over a daughter's or son's home when a baby was expected, the true focus of family life. She had been ill since December, but retained her cheerfulness and sense of proportion, her first thought for her family. Stricken with Leukemia, she had become increasingly wracked by pain during the last weeks of her life, with transfusions helping to ameliorate the inexorable progress of the disease, and affording relief during the last hours.

Mrs. Nichols was a native of Forty Fort, daughter of the late Leonard W. and Carrie Kunkle Ellsworth. Thirty-three years ago she and her husband moved with their children to Trucksville. Mrs. Nichols belonged to Service Mothers Club of Trucksville during the war years. Her African violets were her hobby.

She is survived by her husband, G. Wilbur Nichols, elevated the day before her death, to the position of Comptroller of Glen Alden Coal Company; five children: Sheldon, Corning, N. Y.; Mrs. Marjorie Hall, Pittsfield, Mass.; Mrs. Josephine Beisecker, Hyattsville, Md.; George W., Jr., and Frederick Allen, both of Trucksville.

Free enterprise is a natural result of the American form of government, which says in so many words that the more men do for themselves, and the less government does for them, the better off we all will be.—Felix Morley.

Cost of Living Lower

The Government reported this week that the cost of living again dropped slightly in March, but an official said price declines did not mean a depression was in the offing. The consumer price index put the decline at one-half of one per cent below last October's record high. It was the fourth decline since October.

Sutton Says Mud Yields To Dust Over In Korea

Mrs. Lawrence Sutton, Kunkle, receives three or four letters a week from her son, Lawrence, stationed with a radio outfit in the Seoul area, Korea, but she remains completely in the dark as to conditions there, except that the weather was first muddy and then dusty. Lawrence has been there since January, is enjoying his experience overseas, but like most Back Mountain boys is anxious to get back home.

"What Protestants Believe"

We Believe in Christian Perfection

God's grace is manifested not only in the forgiveness of our sins but is also creatively redemptive, the power that works in us to make us perfect in love. Nothing short of perfection, Christlikeness in thought, word, and deed, can measure God's loving purpose for us. It is our faith that the fundamental change wrought in the individual by regeneration is a dynamic process which by growth in grace moves toward "mature manhood, to the measure of the stature of the fullness of Christ." We may quench the Spirit and fall from grace but our divine destiny is perfect love and holiness in this life.
