Married October 2

MRS. EDWARD J. STEMPIEN

At a very pretty wedding, Saturday, October 2, at 10 a.m., Rita Petroski, daughter of Mrs. Dominic Petroski of Sweet Valley, became the bride of Edward J. Stempien, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kasimir Stempien of Muhlenburg, Rev. C. J. Sikorski performed the ceremony in Church, Our Lady of Mount Carmel, Lake Silkworth before an altar banked with palms and white gladioli and chrysanthemums.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Barney Petroski, wore gown of white lace and tulle designed with fitted lace bodice, mandarin collar and long tapering sleeves. Her apron skirt of lace with tulle back fell into a chapel length train. Her Juliet cap was attached to a plain hand rolled veil of French illusion and she carried a Colonial bouquet of white roses.

Maid of honor was Eleanor Slesinsky, cousin of the bride of Binghamton, N. Y. and bridesmaids, Dolores Kosakowski, Hunlock Creek, Dolores Lisinski, Muhlenburg and Marie Pucci, Glen Lyon. They all wore shrimp colored net gowns styled with strapless bodices, matching stoles, bouffant skirts, and matching hats. They carried yellow roses tied with shrimp streamers.

Mrs. Petroski, mother of the bride, selected gray taffeta street length dress with powder blue accessories and Mrs. Stempien, mother of the bridegroom, mauve lace dress with matching accessories. Mrs. John Selinski, Forest City, maternal grandmother of the bride, chose burgundy lace dress with matching accessories. All wore shoulder bouquets of orchids.

Following the ceremony, breakfast for about fifty guests was served at St. Michael's Hall in Breslau. In the evening a reception for about two hundred guests was held at St. Michael's Hall after which the couple left for Florida.

Mrs. Stempien is a graduate of Lehman Ross Township High School and has been employed at the Dolly Dress Shop in Wilkes-Barre. Mr. Stempien attended Lehman High School and owns his own farm at Muhlenburg where he raises prize Guernsey cows.

Miss Lois Jean Ide Marries Fred P. Hughes On Saturday

Lois Jean Ide, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Ide, of Loyalville, married Fred P. Hughes, son of Mrs. Geraldine Hughes, South Welles Street, Wilkes-Barre, and Fred A. Hughes, of Dover, N. J., Saturday at 2:30 p.m. Rev. Albert Hillard performed the double ring ceremony in Loyalville Methodist Church before an altar flanked with bouquets of white gladioli and carnations and lighted by tall white tapers. Following the ceremony the bride couple received Holy Communion.

Mrs. Cletus Holcomb played the wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore floor length white satin gown, styled with strapless bodice and long sleeved lace jacket, high neckline and bouffant skirt. Her fingertip veil of nylon lace fell from a coronet edged with seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of white roses centered with an orchid.

Mathilda Meyers, of Wilkes-Barre, was maid of honor. She selected floor length gown of gold net, fashioned with tight bodice and full skirt, velvet jacket and net stole. She wore a matching coronet and carried talisman roses. Miss Meyers made her own gown and that of the bride.

Both Mrs. Ide, mother of the bride, and Mrs. Lewis, mother of the bridegroom, selected navy street dresses, matching accessories and shoulder bouquets of red roses.

Best man was Ivor Hughes, brother of the groom, and ushers, David and Richard Ide, brother and cousin of the bride.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors and the couple left for their new apartment at 59 Second Avenue, Kingston.

Mrs. Hughes is a graduate of Lehman High School and has been employed at Natona Mills. Mr. Hughes was graduated from GAR High School and served for eleven years with the U. S. Army.
