

Lehman Upsets Redskins 12-6

Dallas Township Lads Taste First Defeat

After winning three straight, Dallas Redskins were stopped by Lehman 12-0, at Lehman. Lehman's first score was set up when Slocum, Lehman quarterback, intercepted a pass and raced 34 yards before he was stopped on the Dallas 7. Lopasky crashed over for the touchdown. The try for the extra point was unsuccessful.

In the second quarter neither team was able to score, and the half ended with Lehman in front 6-0.

The final score was made in the fourth period when Lopasky passed to Norris for the touchdown, the play covering 20 yards. The extra point was blocked. The game ended with Dallas on the short of a 12-0 score.

TUBELESS TIRES FOR 1955

DETROIT—All five of Chrysler Corporation's completely new passenger car lines for 1955 will have tubeless tires as standard equipment, at no extra cost to the motorist. Miss Joanne Hosier provides a preview peek at one of the new tires installed on one of the company's 1955 cars which will be introduced this fall. Far more resistant to punctures, the new tires also afford much greater protection against blowouts than previously-used tube-type tires. In taxicab fleet tests, use of tubeless tires reduced the overall average of "flats" to only four per 100,000 miles, an 80 per cent decrease. Chances of blowouts occurring are substantially reduced with tubeless tires. Lighter and cooler-running, the tubeless tire, on 1955 Chrysler Corporation passenger cars are expected to provide up to 12 per cent more tire mileage.

said. These stores and industries pay the entire cost for their own installations."

"When Civil Defense was first set up, it was decided to confine the bell and light system to centers of 5,000 population. Now that has been changed. We hope very shortly to have the system in operation here."

"Beserker explained the siren signals by saying that a continual three-minute warble is sent out when the red light flashes. The all-clear is sounded when the white light flashes. This is a straight one-minute siren blast followed by a minute of silence, another minute of straight blast and a minute of silence then another minute of straight blast.

To Vote On Charter

The recently acquired Borough building houses Council Chambers, offices of the Burgess, road, fire and ambulance equipment. To offset its original cost, rentals of $1,878 annually are received from State Liquor Store, second floor apartment, and small building at the rear.

Question by Mitchell Jenkins: Is it more advantageous for the Borough to retain its present form of government?

Dr. Mailey: Of course.

Harry Ohlman: Why take a step backward?

Dr. Mailey: Yes, why? You have answered your own question.

Preceding the open forum, Charles Rinehimer introduced Dr. Eugene S. Farley, president of Wilkes College as moderator.

Dr. Farley introduced Father Roger P. Quilty, Kings College, who spoke on city management in small communities; Dr. Mailey, who explained the differences between second class township government and that of a borough; and Atty. Brown, speaking for the clients who seek annulment of the Borough charter.

Harry Ohlman Is Reelected

200 School Directors Name Dillon Auditor

Harry L. Ohlman, Dallas Borough school director, and Bernard E. Piorkowski, Wyoming Borough school director, were elected to the county board of schools directors Wednesday afternoon at the closing session of the annual Luzerne County school directors' meeting at the Jewish Community Center, Wilkes-Barre.

Ohlman, who had served out the unexpired term of Russell Hoover, Dallas R. D. 1, the last year, was reelected for a six-year term.

Piorkowski defeated Walter J. Bujno, Mocanaqua, who was seeking reelection.

Ohlman and Piorkowski will start their new terms on the county board the first Monday of July, 1955.

James Dillon of Jenkins Township was elected auditor for one year.

Approximately 200 directors from 64 districts affiliated with the county schools office attended yesterday's meeting.

Dr. Murray A. Cayley, author and lecturer, spoke on "Getting a Kick Out of Life." Selections were played by the Forty Fort High School Band, directed by Reese E. Pelton.

In his talk, Dr. Cayley said the greatest single cause of mental illness is the failure of an individual to achieve a sense of worth in his contribution to society.

Speaking on the importance of the school directors' role in education, Dr. Cayley told how our educational system is a bar to totalitarianism in America.

He listed as the three main points in having a proper philosophy of life: 1. Determine what to do in life. 2. Have interest in doing fine work in life regardless of the pay involved. 3. Giving oneself to a cause greater than yourself.

In his annual report to the school directors, County Superintendent of Schools Eugene S. Teter stressed that the plan of organizing joint boards "follows the best thinking in the philosophy of school administration."

He stated that a better educational program can be offered to the youth and directors can get more services for each dollar spent.

"We, in the county schools office, believe that the survival of the operation of public schools in several areas depends upon the organization of larger attendance areas. Directors operating small school systems and small jointures should act now," Teter said.

Teter said that new buildings or additions to buildings, for which rental subsidy has been approved by the Department of Public Instruction, have been erected or are nearing completion in the following districts: Hunlock Township, Lehman-Jackson Joint, Nescopeck Area Joint, Ross Township, Salem Township, Sugarloaf Township and West Hazleton Borough.

Applications for building projects to be erected by local authorities with State rental subsidy have been approved by the DPI for Duryea Borough and Northwest Joint, Teter said.

"School building facilities are still needed in the county. Board members should encourage members of the General Assembly to vote for an increase in the amount of money for school building purposes to be subsidized by the State."

In his report on the closing of one-room schools, Teter said seven one-room buildings were closed during the year and 131 one-room schools have been closed since 1911.

At a county board meeting in the county schools office, which followed the annual meeting, the directors approved the following budgets: Avoca, Duryea, Exeter, Exeter Township, Fairview-Rice Joint, Jenkins Township, Jenkins-Yatesville Joint, Rice, Ross and Dorrance Townships.

Following auditors report were approved: Avoca, Exeter Township, Freeland, Hanover Township, Laffin, Lake, Luzerne, Nescopeck Area Joint, Nescopeck Borough, New Columbus, Pringle, Rice Township and Swoyersville.

Bills totaling $374.35 for the directors' annual meeting were approved for payment.

All directors attended the meeting. Next meeting will be held November 22 at 7 p.m. in the county schools office.

Black Angus Calf Lost Near Chase In Woods

A black angus heifer calf is ranging the woods between Huntsville and Chase. When Walter Palmer dropped in to run a classified ad after its disappearance, he said it had broken through a new four-strand barbed-wire fence and an older three-strand one, and made for the woods. He sighted it a few hours later, cajoled it within a few feet of the opening in the barbed wire, but with a flirt of its heels it was gone again. He hopes that no trigger-happy hunter will mistake it for a rabbit tomorrow when small-game season opens.

After the United States purchased the Danish West Indies in 1917, the name was changed to Virgin Islands.
