Mr. And Mrs. James Simpson To Celebrate Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. James Simpson will celebrate their forty-fifth wedding anniversary Monday, February 28, with a family dinner at their home in Lehman. Their only son, Edwin and his wife and son, Billy, will come down from Binghamton, N. Y., for the occasion.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Simpson were born in Scotland. Mr. Simpson who has always been devoted to horses, first came to America with a load of Clydesdales for J. C. Daylor, Newport, R. I., millionaire. He was followed by Mary Duncan and the couple was married in Newport on February 28, 1909.

For the next five years, Mr. Simpson showed the Daylor Clydesdales at shows all over the country and on one occasion made a trip back to Scotland for another load of show horses. That was the last time he saw his mother, since deceased, and his father, now eighty-seven. The elder Mr. Simpson hopes to fly to America this summer and visit his son and family at Lehman.

In 1922 Mr. Simpson met the John Conynghams while showing horses at Madison Square Garden and left the Daylor estate to come to Hayfield Farm where he has been showing and caring for Clydesdales ever since.

Two years ago he had as guests his sister whom he hadn't seen since she was seven and her three children, aged ten, nine and four. Her husband is manager of a large farm in Glasgow.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Simpson are members of Lehman Methodist Church.

LAKE GIRL SCOUTS

Mrs. Elizabeth Milbrodt

Girl Scout Troop 65, Harveys Lake, spent an overnight at Ledges, home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Rossman over the weekend. They arrived after school Friday carrying their bed rolls. When they were settled, they made their supper, washed dishes and went sleighing. After a pleasant time in the snow, they gathered around the fireplace where blazed a cheery fire and sang to the accompaniment of the guitar and banjo, then toasted marshmallows.

Although it was late when all was quiet, every one was up at 5 a.m. Saturday and went for an early morning hike before breakfast. The trail they took wound up the mountainside through groves of hemlock. On their return, they all ate a very hearty cooked breakfast and when breakfast work was finished, they learned how to make a camp bed properly and roll it in a compact roll.

Midmorning activities included exploring the ledges and hauling stone on a sled to rebuild an old fire place. They cooked a delicious vegetable soup out of doors and then took another hike through the woods and snow, stopping at a clear cold spring for a refreshing drink. The highlight of that trip was a snowball fight. On returning, all settled down to hear about an Indian pageant to be presented to parents this spring.

After the evening meal, there was more singing and a "good night circle," and the girls left for their several homes to await patiently the colored movies taken of the trip by Harry Rossman.

Those who went on the hike were Dianne Gregg, Barbara Hannibal, Paulette Loomis, Patsy Swire, Sue Dodd, Rae Ann Harvey, Mrs. Elizabeth Milbrodt, Tiera Milbrodt, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rossman.

Tickets To March 14th
Bridal Fashion Show
Going Like "Hot Cakes"

Engaged girls who are interested in seeing the lovely fashions for brides to be modeled at the Zimmerman Bridal Salon, Public Square, Wilkes-Barre, the evening of March 14th are urged to pick up their free tickets early. Mr. Louis Hess, store owner, said, "They're going like hot cakes."

The March 14th private showing will include not only fashions for the bride but lovely and practical gowns for bridesmaids and mothers, many of which are designed to be worn on occasions other than the wedding. Wedding gowns start at $49.95; bridesmaids gowns at $24.95.

The March 14th fashion show promises an interesting evening for all who attend, with refreshments and prizes and a bevy of exciting fashions. Mr. Hess urges girls to stop for free tickets today; persons who live out of town may order tickets by mail.

Zimmerman's still have a supply of "Brides Magazine" and "Modern Bride" for Spring 1955. These magazines are being given to engaged girls who stop at the store as a gift from Zimmermans.

Warden William Healey Addresses Dallas PTA

Warden William Healey of Wilkes-Barre, gave a splendid talk on Juvenile Delinquency at the meeting of Dallas Borough Parent Teacher Association Monday evening. He emphasized the importance of home and church training for good citizenship, stating that most crimes occurred after school hours, and were therefore the responsibility of parents, not of teachers. He blamed comics, television shows and some movies for giving children criminal ideas.

Kirk Schweiss reported on revision of the school bus law and urged parents to write to Roy Parry, House of Representatives, Box 88, Harrisburg, asking him to support it. Sixty dollars was cleared on the recent card party.

Judged Best Actress

Louise Loucks, formerly of Terrace Drive, Dallas, was judged the best actress in Saturday night's competition at Wyoming Seminary, arranged as an inter-society presentation. Miss Loucks' society, the Adelpia - Amphycution, won the award for the best performance, presenting "The House of Greed."

Miss Loucks is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Loucks, of Kings-ton.
