Youth Drowned At Evans Falls

Sudden Death For Lone Fisherman

Three State Troopers from Tunkhannock Barracks found the body of Richard Byron DeRemer at the bottom of a deep pool under Evans Falls Wednesday morning at 7:20. Fishing alone, young DeRemer, 20, was last seen at 7 p.m. Tuesday evening. His father, Charles DeRemer, became alarmed at 11 p.m. when his son did not return to his home at Evans Falls, and searched along the stream for an hour, alerting State Police at midnight.

Edwin Walker, Aloysius McKimney, and Mauro Forte, hampered by darkness in their inspection of known deep pools along that section of Bowman's Creek, did not make their grim find until well past daylight. The pool, carved out of rock by the cataract, is fifteen feet deep at this point, the surface concealing what lies beneath by foam and debris.

The clue to the tragedy was a fishing rod lying on the bank beside a bull-head.

The assumption is that Richard attempted to scale a ledge, slipped in his heavy waders, clutched for safety, and was unable to hold himself up in the smother of water when his boots filled.

He will be buried tomorrow afternoon from the Evans Falls Methodist Church, Rev. Charles Chayer conducting. Interment will follow in Orcutt Cemetery.

Richard was born in Noxen. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles DeRemer; a sister Louise, and a brother Roland.

Stolen Car Found

Members were invited to visit the loan exhibit at the First Presbyterian Church House after the program.

Annual election of officers showed Mrs. Ernest G. Smith returned to the presidency, Nicolo Cortiglia, summer resident of Beaumont and well known portrait painter, reminded membership of the clothes-line exhibit scheduled for Thursday and Friday of this week in Public Square, weather permitting.

Others present were Mesdames Charles Nicol, Jr., Elwood Swingle, James Beseker, Jr., Roger Owens, Thomas Templin, John Porter, William Stewart.
