Car Crashes Pole At Pikes Creek

Teen-Agers Escape Serious Injury

Seven teen-agers, four boys and three girls, escaped death Tuesday night at 11 when the car in which they were returning from Wolfe's Grove roller skating rink struck another car almost head-on at Pikes Creek, rolled down the road, and hit a utility pole.

The car, driven at high speed, left the road at the curve near Charles Updyke's barn, swerved back from the shoulder, crashed into the second car with the left front, and rolled over before coming to rest on its side against the pole.

David Davenport, 61, Shickshinny, driver of the second car, seeing the car coming, out of control, pulled off the road, pursued by the flying car. His car is badly damaged. The young driver did not carry insurance.

The Alfred Bronson ambulance took five of the victims to Nesbitt Hospital. Mr. Rittenhouse, of Hunlocks Creek, following with two more. The driver, Marvin Puterbaugh, 18, Plymouth, was the most seriously injured. Flesh was stripped from his right hand and he bled from scalp wounds.

Mrs. Fred Updyke, hearing the car roar down the hill, said, "He'll never make that turn," and with that there was the sound of the crash. Other neighbors concur that the car was speeding.

standing along the main street for two or three hours in advance. There are a great many picnic tables and plenty of seating space where families can remain in comfort until the first strains of the band. The parade breaks up as it passes Wolfe's Grove.

Two church groups will serve dinner, beginning at 11:30, but those spectators unable to procure dinner at the Christian Church or the Church of Christ will find plenty of food at concession stands in the Grove.

Drivers of cars are advised to come early to avoid the traffic jam which always develops just before the parade starts at 2 p.m. With four extra parking lots, there will be plenty of space for cars, but reaching the spaces is another story, cars travelling bumper to bumper during the final twenty minutes.
