Mrs. Keturah Gosart Buried At Kocher

Mrs. Keturah Gosart, Meadow Lake, was buried in Kocher Cemetery Thursday afternoon, following services conducted by Rev. Norman W. Clemens, pastor of First Methodist Church, Wilkes-Barre, at the Luther M. Kniffen Funeral Home.

Mrs. Gosart, 67, was stricken with a cerebral hemorrhage two weeks prior to her death, and admitted to Nesbitt Memorial Hospital a week later, where she died Monday evening without regaining consciousness. She had been in poor health all summer, suffering from high blood pressure.

Mrs. Gosart, a partner in the State Transfer Company, moved to the Back Mountain seven years ago, but retained all social and church connections in Wilkes-Barre. She was a member of First Methodist Church.

She was born in Luzerne, daughter of the late James and Martha Moore.

Survivors are: her husband, Frank; a son Howard Meshar, of Wilkes-Barre; brother, George Moore, Wilkes-Barre; three sisters: Mrs. Ida Rineman and Mrs. Sue Mott, Wyoming; and Mrs. Effie Vanderpool, Towanda; and four grandchildren.

Peter Westfield, 55, Buried At Orcutt

Peter Westfield, owner-operator of a gas and service station two miles from Harveys Lake on Route 29, was buried in Orcutt Cemetery Tuesday afternoon. Services were conducted from the home by Rev. Ruth L. Underwood.

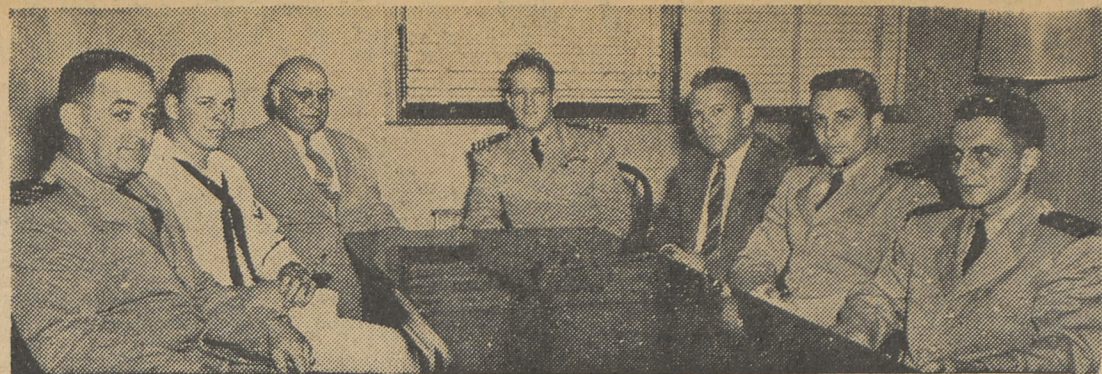

Mr. Westfield, 55, died Sunday morning at 2:30 in Nesbitt Memorial Hospital, where he had been admitted the previous day following a sudden heart attack. He had suffered from occasional heart attacks for several years.

Known affectionately by the entire neighborhood as "Pete," Mr. Westfield opened the filling station eighteen years ago. It was closed for the first time during the days of the funeral.

He was born in Wilkes-Barre. Mr. Westfield is survived by his widow, the former Myrtle Traver, of Noxen; a son David, Langley Field, Virginia; three sisters: Mrs. Anna Kline, Mrs. Frances Bauer, and Mrs. Emma Morgandollar, Wilkes-Barre; and a brother, Fred, Rochester, N. Y.

Local Man On Naval Reserve Open House Committee

Lt. John Stusnick, extreme right, Shavertown, is a member of the Naval Reserve committee planning an Open House for Tuesday night, September 27 at the U. S. Naval Reserve Training Center, Kingston. Lt. Stusnick is attached to Division 56 which is planning the event with the aid of the West Side Rotary. He explains that the Open House has been planned to acquaint residents of Wyoming Valley with the vast facilities of the training center and the Naval Reserve program of Surface Battalion 18. The Open House will begin at 7:30 at the Naval

Peter Westfield

(A Tribute)

In the passing of Peter Westfield a void will be left in the hearts of many in the Back Mountain. Mr. Westfield's gas station was a meeting place for young and old on hot summer evenings or on the long, snowy nights of winter.

Genial and generous "Pete" always had a good word; stimulating the conversation with shrewd remarks about politics or ready with a humorous story. An evening at Pete's was something to look forward to.

Young men preferred his place because of the clean, kindly reception that always awaited them. They and many others will hold him long in memory.

"Who lived in the house by the side of the road and was a friend of man?"

Nanticoke Girl Becomes Bride Of John D. Hughes

Labor Day at 10 a.m., Ann Marie Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Baker, Nanticoke, married John D. Hughes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hughes of Saginaw Avenue, Dallas. Rev. Albert Kaczmarek performed the ceremony and celebrated the nuptial mass. Stacia Podolec was soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father wore ankle length gown of silk and Alencon lace made with draped bodice, scalloped boat neckline and bouffant skirt of nylon net with silk overskirt. Her fingertip veil of silk illusion fell from a scalloped lace cap and she carried a swing bouquet of Eucharist lilies and a crystal rosary, gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Celia Zylencicki of Landing, N. J. was matron of honor. She chose ballerina length gown of peacock blue taffeta styled with fitted bodice, boat neckline, short sleeves and full bouffant skirt. She wore a matching headpiece and carried a cascade bouquet of pink roses and pompons. The flower girl, Barbara Hughes, sister of the bridegroom, selected pink ankle length gown of nylon organdy, made with peterpan collar, puffed sleeves, and full skirt with matching sash. She carried a basket of pink rose buds and forget me nots.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the American Legion Home in Nanticoke and the couple left for Lake Placid. They are residing on Grandview Avenue, New Goss Manor.

Jointure Holds Special Session

More Teachers May Be Answer

Dallas Borough-Kingston Township Joint School Board held a special meeting Tuesday evening, to consider whether additional teachers should be employed in the elementary schools of the district.

The district has three elementary schools and has provided an extra teacher for grades one and three. The school grades where the size of the classes was of particular interest were grades two, three, four and six. An increase of forty-five pupils has enrolled in grades one to six. Most of the nearby schools report a decrease in enrollment for those grades.

The several problems involved are: where will the school board get the money to pay the salaries of any additional teachers; what empty classrooms are available; how would the pupils be transported to the additional class, since the increased number of pupils is not near any one of the elementary schools.

The finance committee was instructed to check the budget items and report on the possibility of financing the hiring of additional teachers and equipping additional classrooms.

Enrollment: Last year This year

Kindergarten ..... 85 135

Elementary Schools 590 635

Secondary Schools 409 409
