Carry Flag Given By Legion Post

Fourteen Air Explorer Scouts took part in Sunday afternoon's parade in Kingston marking "I am An American Day." Bob Pizar carried the new flag presented by the sponsors of the squadron, Daddow Isaacs Post, American Legion. Leslie Barstow, Jr. carried the Flag of the United States of America.

In the squadron marching formation were: John Sheehan, Bob Besecker, William Hall, Blair Hadde, Richard Besteder, Robert Eidam, Lyttle Perry, Fred Anderson, Michael Quare, and Alan Root.

Joseph Harris, assistant advisor, was present. Jack Stanley and Percy Love drove in Duke Isaacs station wagon.

In other portion of the parade, Daddow Isaacs Post was represented by a car in which rode Commander Fred Cockayne; Joseph Kravitz, Commander Elect; and Mrs. Doris Malin, Auxiliary president. John Judge was the driver.

The parade, showing flags of the forty-eight states, formed at the Narrows, and proceeded up Wyoming Avenue to Market, and east on Market to the Kingston High School athletic field, where there was a patriotic program, with presentation of certificates to young people who had attained citizenship with their twenty-first birthdays.

Star Farmer of North Atlantic Region

Victor Cappucci, upper left above, 19-year-old Tunkhannock Future Farmers of America member, was named the FFA's champion farmer of the 12-state North Atlantic Region in a ceremony Saturday night at the Eastern States Exposition, Springfield, Mass. Victor's prize was the top quality

Tunkhannock Future Farmer Takes Top Honors In North Atlantic Area

Victor Cappucci, Jr., 19-year-old member of the Tunkhannock, Pa., Future Farmers of America chapter, was named Star State Farmer of the North Atlantic Region tonight during the Governor's Night Program at the opening of the Eastern States Exposition.

Young Cappucci received a registered Holstein heifer calf as his award, presented by the Sears, Roebuck Foundation. He, along with the other award candidates from 12 states, were given expense-paid trips to the Exposition.

The Pennsylvania Future Farmer, graduated from high school in 1954, has been operating a 285 acre dairy farm with his father. He purchased a nearby 165 acre farm of his own last spring. Victor has moved his dairy cattle and other stock to the new farm, and plans to set up real housekeeping when he and his high school sweetheart, Miss Mildred Clark, are married next month.

Victor started his FFA career in 1950 when he enrolled as a freshman in vocational agriculture and started 150 capons and one heifer calf as farming projects. He invested profits and borrowed capital in the program, and expanded rapidly. His dairy herd now includes 3 producing cows, 17 heifers just starting to produce milk, and four calves. He already owns a share of the machinery and equipment that he will need on his new farm.

It was a fortunate purchase that enabled him to have his own farm. The farm was owned by a businessman who was moving to the South and it included two houses. Victor was able to buy the entire farm for $17,000, then sell the big house for $14,000. He still has most of the land, a modern bungalow in which he will live, and the other farm buildings.

In addition to his outstanding progress in farming, Victor has shown exceptional leadership ability. He served one year as vice-president and two years as president of the 75-member Tunkhannock FFA chapter, and was elected last spring to the office of State FFA vice-president. In high school he was a member of the Honor Society and president of his Freshman class.
