SHOULD BABY ATTEND MORNING SERVICES?

Dear Editor:

Circumstances do alter cases, but in this instance a careful examination should be made of the conscience of the young mother and young father who appear at a dignified morning or evening church service with new little Junior in arms, grumbling away about his cold milk and the cruel gas pains racking his little body.

Now, no one denies that Junior is the perfect little cherub; but certainly, most of the Sunday morning congregation would much rather see him and hear him back home in his own nursery; or call upon him downstairs in the warm, specially provided baby's nursery which the Church has handled so effectively for just such emergencies.

True, the young parents should be able to ALSO know what the sermon is all about, and the other Christian people in that gathering would, I know, like to help them

On The Back Mt. Scene

Some News and Notes, and maybe some Jokes Brought To You By Back Mt. Lumber & Coal Co.

WRITTEN AND EDITED BY "BOB" BACHMAN

Now that Christmas is on the way it reminds us of an event that happened last Christmas which gave us quite a chuckle. A grandfather came into the Back Mt. Lumber & Coal Company with his two-year-old grandson. Being of considerable means, money was no object and the old gentleman was prepared to buy the biggest, most expensive gift in the store for his favorite grandson. The boy took a long time to look everything over but, of all things, a little iron and ironing board caught his fancy. His grandfather, and our various salespeople tried their best to get him interested in a tricycle, an electric train and many others but, you guessed it . . . he went home with the one thing he liked best, the 4.98 iron and ironing board.

Even the barber pole has a history. It dates back to 1461 when the barbers of London were incorporated by Edward IV. By royal edict these wielders of the comb, brush and razor were the only persons licensed to practice surgery. To advertise services that included not only a shave and a haircut but appendectomies as well, each barber displayed a striped pole from which was suspended a basin. The ribbon around the pole indicated a sort of tourniquet twisted around the arm previous to blood letting and the basin beneath symbolized the vessel for receiving blood. Gruesome wasn't it? The only place to see the sensational new "Ginny" doll in this area is at our Shavertown store . . . if you are buying a doll for anyone this Christmas for goodness sake be sure to see the "Ginny" doll first.

Some time ago Charles Long, farm equipment dealer in Sweet Valley, was talking to a local preacher when another fellow came into the store. This man was quite upset and started shouting in a loud voice, using very profane language and being generally abusive. After he had calmed down "Charlie" called him over and said, "Mr. Jones, I want you to meet Reverend so-and-so". The man left without saying a single word and "Charlie" claims this fellow has been a perfect gentleman every time he has come into the store since.

A small boy leading a donkey passed a naval base. A couple of sailors wanted to have some fun with the boy. "Why are you holding on to your brother so tightly sonny?" said one of them. "So he won't join the Navy," the youngster replied without blinking an eye.

"Morry" Chernin, manager at our Dallas Store says he's all set for Christmas. He has a beautiful selection of toys and, this year, the gift department here is enlarged considerably. Come in and look it over.

If you're like lots of other folks here in the country you've got water in your basement. Try our new Vel-Von for wet cellars . . . it puts a plastic coating on cement block or concrete walls that's sure to keep out the moisture.

Congratulations to our neighbor, St. Paul's Lutheran Church on your expansion program. It gives one a good feeling to see that churches need to be enlarged too. You've come a long way since your church was first organized with 29 charter members.

We got a pointer from "Winnie" Hoover this week about the Lay-Away Plan that ought to help lots of folks. She tells us that many times we run out of small gifts and toys before Christmas and lots of you don't realize that we're glad to lay-away a group of small items for you the same as we do many big items. So, even if you want to pick out your Christmas tree decorations before they are all gone, by all means come in and do it now.

Um-um, Pork and Sauerkraut, a meal that sticks to a man's ribs . . . and it's being served at the Shavertown Methodist Church from 5 to 7:30 p.m. on November 15 by the Boy Scouts of Troop 231. How can you go wrong for a $1.00. Take your kids at half-price.

Send in any news or jokes you have for this column and, if we use it, you'll get $1.00 on the purchase of any item in either of our stores.

to be just a little more comfortable and relaxed through the very short hour which is now allotted for morning worship in most Protestant Churches.

For three Sundays in a row it has been impossible for some church goers to follow the beautiful, painstakingly prepared sermons, which have been real "gems" of Biblical history, due to a couple of restless, uncomfortable and tireless little infants out-of-place, and trying desperately to tell their parents so.

It should not be necessary to remind these fine, well meaning, proud parents that it is just a little selfish, on their part, to bring Junior to services too soon; and that there are churches where it is not accepted as being in good taste.

Can't we get together and separate the almost too short, precious morning service hour in our nice old Church from the daily nursery hour on the Sabbath Day—so that the young parents and congregation, as a whole, can partake of the beauty, relaxation from care and the state of Grace which our Minister endeavors to bring to all of us, with the help of Almighty God on this, His day?

Crippled Redskin Team Crushes Wilkes-Barre Township 27 to 0

by Richard Joos

Dallas Township's undefeated Redskins will meet Wyoming Seminary Squires tomorrow on the Seminary Field in Kingston.

Dallas Township minus three important injured starters, made a brilliant showing in the last three quarters Saturday to beat Wilkes-Barre Township 27-0 on Memorial Field.

The first quarter showed little gain by either team and it looked like a tight game would follow. But Dallas broke loose early in the second quarter with Dick Harris going around left end from the seven-yard line to score. Jerome Thomas made good his place kick and the Redskins led 7-0 at the half.

Dale Wagner recovered a Wilkes-Barre fumble on the Wilkes-Barre 17 and George Clemow, four plays later, plunged over from the 4 for another Redskin touchdown. Dallas led at the end of the 3rd quarter 13-0.

The Redskin domination of the game was clearly shown in the last quarter. Jerome Thomas intercepted a Wilkes-Barre pass and eluded three would-be tacklers for a 15-yard touchdown. Jerome then made good his place kick to give Dallas a 20-0 lead.

With two minutes to go in the final period, John Sholtis flipped Conrad Higgins a 20 yard pass for a would-be touchdown but a penalty called the play back. It was fourth down with 22 yards to go for first down and 25 for a touchdown. Sholtis called the same play and passed to Higgins again. Although there were two defensive men on his back Higgins caught the ball on practically the same spot as the previous play. Jerome Thomas made good his third place kick to give the Redskins a 27-0 victory.

The Wilkes-Barreans had a group of fairly well built boys who looked as if they could do better but they never threatened seriously.

Dallas had 10 first downs to Wilkes-Barre Township's 8 but this is deceiving. Dallas had 114 yards gained running to Wilkes-Barre 6.
