Calendar Says Son, Dad, Both Ten Years Old

A fourth Leaper, Elwood Ruckel, of Lake Silkworth, celebrated his tenth birthday February 29. His son Jay will be the same age as his Dad, come July 8, when he turns ten. Mr. Ruckel, in spite of his youth, is employed in the office of Recorder of Wills at Luzerne County Courthouse.

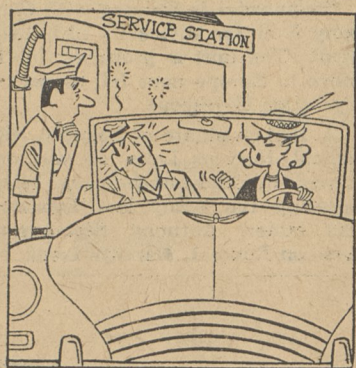

There must be at least five more Leapers in the Back Mountain. If you know of anybody who celebrated a birthday February 29, write or phone the Dallas Post.

Wool Growers To Meet Wednesday At Jackson

Sheep and Wool Growers will meet Wednesday evening at 7:30, at Jackson Fire Hall, to hear a talk on the Lamb Pool and the Wool Pool, presented by Thomas King, specialist in his field, from Pennsylvania State University. Slides will be shown by Mr. Chadwick, Luzerne County Farm agent, and explained by Mr. King.

Charles Hemenway, president of the Year old Wool Growers Association will preside. Alex Tough is secretary.

Jackson Turkey Supper April 7

Firemen Served 2,220 In October

Another famous turkey supper will be given by Jackson Township Volunteer Fire Department on Saturday April 7. Serving will be Country Style and will start at 4:30. Tickets are available through the Committee, Fred Fielding, James Roushey and Edward Jeffery or any of the firemen.

Edward Kropp, Harold Bertram and Wesley Lamoreaux are in charge of arrangements.

Paul Snyder is chairman of the kitchen. Dennis Bonning, chief of police, will handle parking assisted by Robert Cooper and Walter Coolbaugh.

Preparation and serving will be by the Ladies Auxiliary. Hazle Fielding, president, will be in charge of the dining room while Freda Snyder is in charge of the preparation of the supper.

Last October more than 2200 suppers were served in the two Saturday nights with representatives of nine states attending, the farthest being California.

Approximately 240 people can be served in the fire hall at one seating.

Ladies Auxiliary will have a "white elephant" table and also have "home" baked goods for sale in the meeting room. Pendred Rice, chairlady of the ways and means committee will be in charge.

Lehman Schools Plagued By Faculty, Pupil, Ills

Lehman schools limped along on Monday with six faculty members absent. Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Marchakitus and Miss Hanna Culp, from the main school and Mrs. William LaBar of Ross Township elementary were ill. Mr. and Mrs. John Armstrong were absent because of the death of Mrs. Armstrong's father, Patrick Barrett, of Larksville.

Gordon Johnson, custodian at Lehman, has been on sick leave for two weeks, and expects to be given tests at General Hospital. A. B. Simms is taking his place temporarily. Mrs. Culp is still out with a strep throat. Scarlet fever still develops sporadically, a case at a time, with twenty children out of classes in the elementary school as an average.
