Depressed, Dies By Own Hand

Amos Whitesell, 50, Shoots Himself

Amos R. Whitesell, 50, Hunlock Creek RD, died by his own hand Friday night, while in a mood of deep depression about his failing health. He left his apartment above Guy Kindig's store sometime during the evening, and was discovered early Saturday morning in the store basement when his wife, alarmed at his absence, noticed a light burning. The inquest by Deputy Coroner Alfred Bronson and Joseph Yaskus, Shickshinny barracks, revealed that Mr. Whitesell had shot himself with a rifle, the bullet penetrating the axillary artery in the shoulder and causing death by extensive hemorrhage.

Funeral services were held from the Bronson Funeral Home Tuesday afternoon, Rev. Oscar Saxe conducting. Burial was at Mossville Cemetery.

He was born at Hunlock Creek, son of the late Fletcher and Ella Hummel Whitesell.

He is survived by his widow, Edna; four children: Mrs. Arden Lanning, Johnson City; Robert, Binghamton; Peggy and Beth, students at Shickshinny schools, at home; three grandchildren; brothers and sisters: Stanley, Mrs. William Neville, and Mrs. Charles Wilson, Hunlock Creek; Lyman, Vestal, N. Y.; Herman, Sweet Valley; Mrs. Roland Culver, Bloomingdale; Mrs. A. Cragle, Muhlenburg; Mrs. Chates Bound, Binghamton; Mrs. Alfred Burman, Mountain Top.

Harold F. Ross Victim Of Sudden Heart Attack

Harold F. Ross, native of Ross Township, recently of Philadelphia, died of a heart attack at his summer home in Broadway Saturday afternoon, on his 48th birthday. He and his wife had arrived the night before to get the place in shape for the summer.

He was buried in Maple Grove Cemetery Thursday afternoon, following services from the Bronson Funeral Home, conducted by Rev. Oscar Saxe.

It is a matter of common conjecture that Ross Township was named for Mr. Ross's forebears, pioneer settlers of the area.

Mr. Ross, a sufferer from heart trouble, expected to retire to the home in Broadway upon retirement from his employment as dispatcher for the M & M Transport Company, in Philadelphia. He was a member of the United Brethren Church in Germantown.

He is survived by his widow, Phyllis; children, Barbara and Phyllis, at home; Mrs. Edward Sikora, Wilkes-Barre; Harold, Dushore; one grandchild; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Ross, Fairmount Spring; a brother, Herbert, Bloomingdale; and a sister, Mrs. Robert Dohl, R. N., Wilmington, Del., with him at the moment he dropped dead.

Mrs. Adda Kitchen, 92, Lies At Cedar Crest

Mrs. Adda Kitchen, Trucksville, one of the oldest members of the Dallas Post's Eighty-Plus Club, passed away suddenly just before midnight last Thursday, at the age of 92, suffering from a heart attack. She was buried in Cedar Crest Cemetery Monday afternoon, the body lying in state in Trucksville Free Methodist Church for an hour before funeral services were conducted at 2 by Rev. Dana Dimmick and Rev. Herbert Oliver.

Mrs. Kitchen had been in failing health for the past year, but was able to be up and around. Five years ago she made spectacular recovery from a grave illness when 87 years old.

She was born in Columbia County near Mordansville, her maiden name Beers. After marriage to the late George W. Kitchen, deceased in 1938, she moved to Millville. In 1903, Mr. Kitchen became manager of a stock farm in Mifflinville, and six years later moved to the Stegmaier farm near Trucksville. In 1913 the family moved to the family farm on Mt. Airy Road, and since 1940 have lived on Pioneer Avenue.

Survivors are her daughter, Mrs. Ianthe K. Sommers, with whom she lived; a son, Walter, secretary of World University Service, New York City; two grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements by Woolbert.
