Free Methodist Conference

Survivor Of Tokyo Bomb Mission, Speaker

The 83rd Annual session of the New York Conference of the Free Methodist Church of North America will convene on the DeMund's Road camp ground Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock.

The presiding officer will be Rev. C. E. Anderson, a General Conference evangelist, who has been appointed by the area bishop, Dr. L. R. Marston, to serve in his place for this session. Rev. Anderson travels throughout the eastern United States in the interest of founding and organizing new churches. He is serving his second quadrennial term in his present office, to which he was elected by the General Conference of the Free Methodist Church.

A renowned person to be a guest of the conference, and to bring the missionary message in the Sunday afternoon service, August 6, is Rev. Jacob ("Jake") DeShazer. One of the Doolittle fliers when Tokyo was bombed, captured by the Japanese, converted in a prison camp, called God to prepare himself as a missionary and return to Japan with the gospel of Christ, DeShazer has had outstanding success, and has been honored by many religious and secular groups.

One of the business features of perennial interest in the conference is the arrangement of pastoral relations for the ensuing year. The reading of these appointments at the conclusion of the business sitting Saturday afternoon usually draws a full house.

Over 200 pastors, delegates and visitors are expected by the registration committee, chairman of which is Mrs. Marvin Swezey, of the Outlet Free Methodist Church. Rev. H. D. Olver, of Trucksville, District Superintendent of the Wilkes-Barre District, heads the entertainment committee.

Earlier Monthly Benefits For Women Getting Social Security

The new amendments to the social security law will mean earlier monthly benefits to over 2,500 retired women workers, widows of deceased workers and wives of retired workers who are receiving social Security benefits, states Christopher G. Boland, manager of the Wilkes-Barre District Office of the Social Security Administration. According to District Office estimates, he explained, there are over 2,500 women over age 62 but under age 65 who are eligible in the Wilkes-Barre District Office area.

He pointed out that applications are now being taken from widows of insured workers who are now age 62 or over and added that proof of age and proof of marriage is needed in each case.

Boland stressed that no applications are accepted at present from wives of retired workers and from retired women workers if they are not 65 even though they have reached age 62. The reason given is that such applicants would receive benefits before they are 65 at a reduced rate if they elect to do so. However, as the new law was just passed, it is necessary to await the preparation and receipt of the proper application forms on which the applicant will make his election.

Boland stated that although his office will be glad to give any information possible, if the visit by such persons is postponed for a few weeks, it may mean that a second visit will not be required later. He stressed that as the first month for which benefits under the new law will be payable is November, there will be no delay or any loss of benefits by postponing such a visit until next month.

Boland stated that the new law provides for benefits to qualified disabled workers 50 years of age or over beginning in July 1957, but the law also states that no applications for disability benefits can be accepted before October 1, 1956. He pointed out that under the new law, the disability payment will be reduced while the worker is receiving disability benefits from another Federal Agency or under a State or Federal Workmen's compensation law.

Coverage under the social security law has been extended to all the self-employed professional groups previously not covered except for doctors of medicine. Now covered beginning with the first taxable year that ends after 1955, are self-employed lawyers, dentists, chiropractors, veterinarians, naturopaths, osteopaths and optometrists.

To meet the cost of the increase in benefits, the social security tax on the worker and the employer will be increased 3/4 of one per cent, and the tax on the self-employed person will be increased 3/8 of one per cent effective January 1, 1957.
