Miss Carol O. Kern Becomes Bride Of Louisville, Ky., Man

Saturday at 11 a. m., Carol O. Kern, daughter of Mrs. Marion Kern and the late Edwin Kern of Harveys Lake, became the bride of James P. Arnold, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Arnold of Louisville, Ky. Father Francis Kane performed the double ring ceremony in Lady of Victory Chapel, Harveys Lake, before an altar decorated with white pompons.

Attendants were Kathleen Kern and Richard Kern, sister and brother of the bride, both of Harveys Lake.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, William Kern of Newark, N. J., wore gown styled with tight lace bodice with high neckline and long tight sleeves and full length skirt of taffeta with lace inserts. Her finger tip veil fell from a crown of seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of white roses.

Miss Kern selected blue net and lace floor length gown with bolero and crown of blue net. She carried yellow roses.

Mrs. Kern, mother of the bride, chose black street dress, white accessories and shoulder bouquet of pink and white roses.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride.

Miss Kern is a graduate of Lehman High School and Delaware Hospital School of Nursing, Wilmington, Del. Mr. Arnold was graduated from St. Xavier School at Louisville and is employed as a horse trainer in Kentucky.

The couple will reside at Louisville.

Former Harveys Lake Man Is Married To Sylvia Becker

The marriage of Sylvia Becker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Becker of Forty Fort, and Richard Moyer, son of Mrs. Vineta Moyer of Philadelphia, formerly of Harveys Lake, took place Saturday, September 15, at the Hawleyton Methodist Church, Hawleyton, N. Y. Rev. Ernest George performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with white gladioli and carnations and lighted cathedral tapers. Stanley Houck of Binghanton, N. Y., sang "Because," "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride wore white gown of lace over taffeta made along princess lines. Her matching bolero had long tight fitting sleeves and high neckline circled with appliqued lace daisies. Her shoulder length veil fell from a tight fitting cap of white feathers and sequins and she carried a cascade bouquet of white gardenias.

Mrs. Donald James of Meshoppen was matron of honor. She wore sleeveless gown of white lace over blush pink taffeta, also made along princess lines, and crown of pink flowers and maline in her hair. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink and white carnations.

Donald James of the United States Navy acted as best man.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the social room of the church.

Mrs. Moyer is a graduate of Fort High School, class of 1953, and Nesbitt Hospital School of Nursing. Mr. Moyer was also graduated from Fort High School and is now a Fire Control Technician, Second Class, with the U. S. Navy aboard the Aircraft Carrier U. S. S. San La, out of San Diego, Cal.

Immediately following the reception the couple left for San Diego where they are making their home.

Poet's Corner

"NOT GROWING OLD"

"For which cause we faint, but though our outward man perishes yet the inward man is renewed day by day." (2 Cor. 4:16-18).

They say that I am growing old; I've heard them tell it times untold, In language plain and bold— But I'm NOT growing old.

This frail old shell in which I dwell Is growing old, I know full well— But I am not the shell.

What if my hair is turning grey? Grey hairs are honorable, they say. What if my eyesight's growing dim? I still can see to follow Him Who sacrificed His life for me Upon the cross of Calvary.

What should I care if Time's old plow Has left its furrows on my brow? Another house, not made with hand, Awaits me in the Glory Land.

What though I falter in my walk? What though my tongue refuses to talk? I still can tread the narrow way. I still can watch, and praise and pray.

My hearing may not be as keen As in the past it may have been, Still, I can hear my Saviour say, In whispers soft, "This is the way."

The outward man, do what I can To lengthen out this life's short span, Shall perish, and return to dust, As everything in nature must.

The inward man, the Scriptures say, Is growing stronger every day. Then how can I be growing old When safe within my Saviour's fold?

Ere long my soul shall fly away And leave this tenement of clay; This robe of flesh I'll drop, and rise To seize the "everlasting prize." I'll meet you on the streets of gold, And prove that I'm not growing old.

—John E. Roberts.
