Oak Hill

Here we are again, friends, after another week's absence due to a lack of news or the desire of people to report it to us. We know that some think an item has to be outstanding for others to be interested in it. But in a paper such as the Post, and in the Back Mountain area, and particularly Oak Hill, everything is newsworthy. We believe it is a good way to make friends.

Therefore, we ask all to call in items to us each week. Whether you've made a jaunt to a neighboring community, have had company, gone away for a week-end, had a meeting of your card club, or had illness in your family, we would sincerely like to have you call us. The number is 9-6797. Many thanks for your help in keeping Oak Hill in the news, and particular thanks to the girls who have helped so far.

This weather has certainly thrown our former prediction about the advent of Spring to the winds. We might say that it wasn't a prediction so much as wishful thinking, but we've taken a good ribbing for it. However, we're still optimistic and ready to begin planning picnics and fishing trips any time the weather shows the slightest sign of "Spring in the air."

This cold weather has almost begun a courtship between our young one and a pretty lass of about 5. We hadn't been on the ice at Harveys Lake very long last Sunday when the aforementioned lass fell rather hard on her (well, anyway, she fell), and our little hero rushed over to give her a hand. She was so consumed by gratitude that she took him by the hand and rushed over to her mother to introduce him. Our little bachelor became so alarmed that he took refuge behind his daddy's legs, and so the day was saved.

We can see gradual changes in our development every day such as homes changing hands and new ones being built. New people move in and old friends move out. Most of the vacant lots in the lower section are now having homes erected upon them. Off hand, we can think of three new homes as yet unoccupied and one into which the people have recently moved. Before we know it, the whole upper circle will be completed and Whitesell Brothers will open another one to fill their quota of 200 homes for Oak Hill.

Harding firemen held their monthly meeting on Tuesday night in their newly erected hose house. This meeting was for the men, women and children. Several speeches were made, one was by D. C. Bishop urging the men to be more perfect in attendance, and the importance of this organization to all the men of the community. The president recognized the Ladies Auxiliary, at which time a poem was read, composed by Mrs. Hazel Robbins.

To the men of our new place, Some of your problems we'll try to face
 Whether winter, summer, day or night,
 Some of your darkness we'll turn to light.

A few of your troubles we vanished away
 Two thousand four hundred came your way,
 Some day you will need a few more of those
 Dollars, to help out a little with your foes.

Oh! why should we so favored be!
 Our conscience always asks?
 I know, the results we all can see
 The way we are now, finishing our tasks.

And now to our friends we'll say good-night,
 At our place we spread a welcome light,
 We'll help, with zeal, our best, to give
 To all who have the desire to live.

At this time the new officers for 1957 were seated. Daniel Ball, Justice of Peace of Harding, swore them in office. President, Joseph Clifford; Vice President, Peter Miller; Financial Secretary, George Code-

Hontz Speaks On Youths' Problems

Rotary Clubs Present Check To YMCA Board

An appreciative audience heard Dr. Carl E. Hontz last week talk on the value of the YMCA in the community.

Dr. Hontz, main speaker at the Sixth Annual Meeting of the Back Mountain Branch Town and Country YMCA, put before those assembled, many challenging questions. Intermixed with meaningful quotation, Dr. Hontz gave interesting facts on the problem of delinquency in our time and the effect that organizations such as our 'Y' has upon it.

He described the adolescent as a segregated individual needing a bridge to connect adolescence with manhood and womanhood. He stated that this bridge is first the parents, then the Church, and thirdly, community groups such as the YMCA.

Included on the evening's agenda was James R. Edwards, who gave an interesting report on the 'Y' Teen Club and its Council. Mae Kingsbury, also a member of the Council, offered the Invocation.

The Dallas Rotary Club and Rotaryans, presented to R. E. Neal, Chairman of the YMCA Board of Management, a check to be used in the purchase of new equipment for the Teen Center. It was noted that the youth of the 'Y' Teen Club had worked together with the Rotaryans at the Rotary Turkey Dinner Bake Sale, held in November.

Hospital Auxiliary Needs White Shirts

Back Mountain Branch of Wyoming Valley Hospital Auxiliary will meet with Miss Frances Dorrance, Church Street, Dallas, Wednesday afternoon at 2, to sew for the hospital. Collars and cuffs are removed, and the remainder of the garment used for a short night shirt. The demand is unlimited.

Salk Shots For 602 Children

January Inoculations Done At Westmoreland

Polio shots were given to 602 pupils in Dallas Borough - Kingston Township schools during January by Dr. F. Budd Schooley, assisted by Dr. Jennie Hill RN, school nurse.

At Dallas Borough January 11 and 14, nine pupils got their first shots, 89 their second, and thirteen their third, a total of 111.

At Truicksville, January 15, 72 children got their second shots, three their final shot, a total of 75.

Westmoreland High School, January 16, 253 students were inoculated for the first time, four for the second, sixteen for the third.

At Shavertown, January 18, 143 pupils were inoculated: 88 for the first shot, ten for the second, 45 for the third.

Completely protected now are 77 students, with 175 students lacking only the final shot, due seven months from now, and 350 requiring a second shot next month, a third seven months—from that date.

Second shots will be given at Dallas - Franklin - Monroe Township school Wednesday, January 30, at 9 a.m. by Dr. A. A. Mascali.

Six students from the Beaumont School, missing their first shots at the school in January, were taken by William A. Austin, Supervisor of Elementary Schools, to Tunkhannock January 16 to receive the shots at the clinic.

Teachers and pupils who assisted with administration of vaccine in the Westmoreland jointure schools were:

At Dallas, Mrs. Genevieve Balogh, art supervisor, who registered pre-school children; Luella Carr and Marleen Futch, sixth grade girls.

At Shavertown: Mrs. Balogh; Sandra Hilstolsky and Barbara Urban, sixth grade.

Truicksville: Janice Yozviak, who registered pre-school children; Margaret Perkins and Vernalee Pritchard, sixth grade.

Westmoreland: Mrs. Balogh; Ann Murphy and Esther Gordon, seniors.
