It was his idea seconded by associate producer Emmett Rogers to plan a special campaign to accommodate visiting playgoers at "No Time For Sergeants."

The comedy hit is unlikely to play any except key cities because of the heavy scenic requirements and the cast and crew of 60 people. The settings designed by Peter Larkin require four baggage cars to trans-port the novel effects. Included in the ingenious sets are a bomber in full flight, a parachute rescue and full stage dissolves from a Georgia mountain cabin, to a town square to an Air Force classification center, to a midnight forest trysting spot—all in the twinkling of an eye. Mr. Evans points out that better seat locations are available for Wednesday matinees and performances from Monday through Thursday nights. However, the box office will accommodate visitors at weekends also. Based on MacHyman's popular novel, "No Time For Sergeants" is also a current hit in London, Chicago, and Vienna. In Chicago it is in its seventh month chicago it is in its seventh month at the Erlanger, in London in its Fast New Press eighth at Her Majesty's Theatre. The New York company is headed by Charles Hohman, Rex Everhart, Arte Johnson, Howard Freeman, Have Your Car Checked Royal Beal, James Millhollin, Eric the Way the 500-Mile Race Fleming and Will Geer. The hit adapted by Ira Levin was staged by Morton DeCosta. Playgoers echo drama critic John Chapman's com-"BEAR. SAFETY CHEK times I've ever spent in any thea-

A 3/c JAMES O. McCAFFREY

A 3/c James O. McCaffrey, Sandy Bottom Beach, is spending a twelve day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McCaffrey, before leaving March 19 for Smoky Hill, Kantraining.

McCaffrey, 18, took basic training at Lackland Air Base in Texas, and advanced work at the technical school at Denver Air Base, graduating February 19.

Graduating last June from Lake-Noxen High School, he enlisted in October, after spending the summer in developing the family project at Sandy Bottom, Harveys Lake.

While at Lake-Noxen, McCaffrey wrestled in the heavy-weight class, took the lead in both senior and junior class plays, and was editor of the Year Book. His mother, the former Margaret moderator.
