A happy, happy Thanksgiving to you all! I'd like to give you a few thoughts I've had, to help you to sit down on Thanksgiving for just ten minutes and be thankful and remember why Thanksgiving is! First, if you have some loved ones far away from you, be thankful for the ones you have close by. If you don't have a great big turkey and all the trimmings, be thankful for the ordinary meal you're eating, there are many who aren't eating. If you don't have the best job on earth, be thankful you have one at all. If you haven't the best and newest clothes, be thankful for the old ones, many people are cold. If your house isn't the most modern and beautiful, be thankful, it's a house and not a hut. And lastly, if you don't feel just right towards your friends and neighbors, be thankful you're alive and can do something about it. When you have your little grievances against school boards, laws, and taxes, be thankful you live in this great free land. I am!

The service on Sunday by the Brandon family was very beautiful and inspiring. Attendance was wonderful, over 100. We are very grateful for your coming out.

Our birthday congratulations go to Mrs. Almon Rood this week. We wish you happiness and health.
