

Blue and White Is The Symbol of One School And One Community

The 2,300 students in Dallas School District are proud of their new military blue and white uniforms purchased this year by the union school district, and they are one in spirit behind the teams, bands and cheerleaders who wear them.

Blue and white replaces the old orange and black of Kingston Township and the red and white of Dallas Township, color combinations that once symbolized intense rivalry between the students of those schools.

The student body of the combined schools selected the new colors and picked the nickname "Mountaineers" for its athletic teams.

This year for the first time these students are attending Senior High School at Westmoreland and Junior High School at the Dallas Township building.

Also for the first time a complete Junior High School program of athletics, music and activities is being inaugurated. These teams and musical organizations are equipped with new uniforms. One hundred and four Junior High School boys were out for football (seventy-eight of them are shown in the lower right hand picture.) These boys, playing on teams of equal weight, will have an opportunity to enjoy competitive football at an earlier age than ever before.

Thanksgiving
We certainly have a lot to be thankful for in observing Thanksgiving, especially this year. For one thing, we're in America, a democracy handed down to us by our forefathers who have also given us Pennsylvania, harboring this wof-derful community. We're thankful that after many years we can be together in one school enabling us to make new friends, attain a good education, and surge forward as a senior high school.

We'll all look forward to a Thanksgiving dinner featuring turkey, cranberry sauce, mashed potatoes and gravy, and perhaps, we can also look forward to a good Thanksgiving football game.

These things shouldn't be all that we look for in Thanksgiving. We should sincerely think of our heritage, our families, school, teachers, community, freedom to worship, unlimited opportunities, and countless things which we overlook in everyday life.

As we give grace at Thanksgiving let us think of these blessings and give thanks to those who have made America a democracy, and ask God, "Give us this day our daily bread."

Bloomsburg Safety Conference
Tuesday five representatives of the Safety Council attended Bloomsburg Safety Conference. Carol Jackson and Elaine Kozemchak, Safety

Council president, acted as delegates while Virginia Morgan, Judith Hankey and Lois Ryman acted as representatives. George McCutcheon, Council advisor, accompanied the group.

Awards Presented
Football jackets were awarded to five senior boys at Friday assembly. The program opened with the "Star Spangled Banner." Robert Moyer led the opening exercises. In commemoration of Veterans' Day, Barbara Brown read the poem, "Tribute to an Unknown Soldier."

Mr. Thomas Jenkins, faculty manager, introduced Mrs. Robert Shotwell, who explained that the Booster Club purchases jackets and other awards for the teams.

Jackets were presented by their mothers to Wayne Long, manager; Larry Farr, Richard Besteder, Robert Shotwell and Robert Spare. The jackets are two-tone blue with the team nickname "Mountaineers" on the back.

Senior cheerleaders, Sharon John, Beth Weaver and Ellouise Holmgren, were presented with sterling-silver bracelets by their mothers. Inscribed on each bracelet were the names of the girls on the cheering squad. After the presentation, the cheerleaders led an enthusiastic audience in a pep rally.

Attention
Booster Club dance in the gym tomorrow night, from 8 to 11. The club is made up of mothers of Westmoreland athletes and cheerleaders. They raise funds to purchase jackets for the teams and bracelets for the cheerleaders. They have a big job to do. Give them your support. Admission to Saturday's dance is only a quarter. See you there!

American Education Week
Throughout the week the spotlight was on education and its multiple activities in observance of American Education Week.

Tuesday evening musical education was stressed as several of our outstanding musicians performed for the Band Parents' Association.

Parents thronged the hallways on Wednesday evening. Open house was held in connection with P.T.A.

Following a tour of the individual class rooms, members and friends assembled in the auditorium to hear Wesley Davies, assistant county superintendent, speak on "Trends in Education." Everyone enjoyed the O. E. S. choir which gave sev-

Another Joining in the Joindre
The two bands from Lake and Lehman are now one big band. It includes 105 instruments. Mr. Miliauskas is the new director of the band and Mr. Gerrity has charge of all the vocal work at both schools. We will be starting band practice for our concert very shortly. We will alternate schools.

Girls' Basketball
Some of the girls who are going out for basketball will attend a clinic at Coughlin High School tomorrow. They will hear a lecture and see some of the teams put on an exhibition. We hope they enjoy themselves.

The Old L. J. R. Band
The old L. J. R. band held a party on Wednesday in honor of the old band, the band sponsors and the school board. Band members furnished the entertainment for the adults. These were refreshments. We had a wonderful time.
