Nancy Daring In State Contest

To Enter Fashion Show In Harrisburg April 8

Nancy Daring, winner of the Luzerne County Vogue Contest, open to members of the Federated Women's Club, will compete with winners from the other 66 counties in Pennsylvania Wednesday in Harrisburg.

Winners from each county will take part in a fashion show at Pomeroy's Department Store in Harrisburg, modelling their own prizewinning ensembles at 2:30.

Mrs. Raymond Daring, Dallas, representing Dallas Junior Woman's Club as well as Luzerne County, will wear the blue wool spring ensemble which she made for herself, using a Vogue pattern and directions. The contest regulations called for an outfit suitable for club-woman wear, dressy and chic; but not elaborate.

Mrs. Daring's ensemble is already on display in Harrisburg, to be judged for workmanship and style. Winners of the State contest will Inpete on a National level.

Couple Held For Liquor

Agents Raid Home In Lake Township

A Lake Township man and his wife were each held in $1,000 bail for court following appearance be-fore Alderman S. Miles Barber, Public Square, last week for possession В. of illegally obtained liquor. Defendants were Peter Dragon and his wife, Mrs. Mary Dragon-both of Lake Township. Prosecutor was an agent of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board. It was pointed out at the hearing that the Dragons do not operate a tavern.

They operate a picnic grove opposite the Newell Wood estate which they rent out during the summer months for clambakes and outings.

Formal charges against the Dragons were: Possession of liquor not purchased from a Pennsylvania Liquor Store, and possession of liquor in packages not having the official rticle 4, Section 491, Subsections 2 and 4 of Act 21 of the Liquor Code Rev.
