Girls Of Troop 200 Grateful To Weckessers For Wildwood

Troop 200 enjoyed a three-day camping trip to Wildwood July 8 to 10, accompanied by leaders, Mesdames Jack Barnes, George Bauman, Edgar Hughes, nurse, and George Layaou, cook, all mothers of the girls.

Mrs. Dolly Dierolf, along with others, met the girls in Dallas to pick up bed rolls and other necessary equipment. A few things were forgotten, a few tears shed, but all arrived at camp in a happy mood.

Water front director, Beverly Carlson, met us and gave instructions which we must obey. The Kaper Chart was posted while girls unpacked and explored the Lodge. We swam after which preparations were made for dinner.

Ann Kramer, from a Wilkes-Barre Troop, was a guest. She and Ann Barnes put on the evening program with puppets representing Juliette Lowe and Lord Baden Powell. After some dancing we departed for bed at 9:30 which seemed to be the most fun of all. The girls tried to stay awake to see if Beverly really did check on them at 10:30.

Thursday morning, an hour later than planned, we got off to a good start with a two-hour hike over the beautiful Wildwood grounds. The girls loved it and the leaders, not having much knowledge of nature, at least recognized fungi and concentrated on a collection of specimens. A delicious lunch was prepared by Mrs. Layaou, and then we made lanyards for knives and other objects. Mrs. Ray Titus and daughter Sharon, spent the day with us and instructed the girls in crafts. A former assistant leader, she has been a Scout since Brownie days and knows Scouting from A to Z.

We cooked our dinner over a fire built by the girls and a Scouts Own was planned and presented by Jane Layaou and Peggy Rood followed by songs around the camp fire. We had hamburgers, potatoes, onions and carrots cooked in foil over the hot coals; for dessert we had the very much loved "some mores" made from roasted marshmallows, chocolate squares and graham crackers. We hiked back to the lodge and played a few dancing games and off to bed.

All girls remained the full time with a minimum of tears. This was the first time camping for many girls and none were older than eleven so we believe this to be a good record.

Friday morning, the girls working on swimmer's badge went to the dock with Beverly Carlson. Pat Bauman passed her Swimmer's Badge. The others almost made it and with practice, Beverly thinks they can make it before camp closes.

Free Methodist Camp Meeting Opens Tonight

East Dallas Free Methodist Camp Meeting will open this evening at 7:45, and will close on Sunday, July 26. Rev. Albert Reining, pastor of Dallas Free Methodist Church, is camp manager. Rev. G. L. Payne, former pastor in this area and later district superintendent and conference superintendent, will be the director, speaking each day and residing on the grounds.

Daily schedule will start at 7 a. m. with morning prayers. At 10, there will be a program for children, for the FMY, and for the women's societies.

At 11, morning services will be conducted by evangelist Rev. Lavery Reinhold, from the staff of Roberts Wesleyan College in North Chili, N. Y.

After lunch, the FMY will meet. There will be a capella practice, and a Bible School for children. At 2:30 there will be a camp service.

Time is allowed for recreation later in the afternoon, before supper and the evening service.

On the closing Sunday, Rachel Smiley, for thirty years a missionary in the Dominican Republic, will speak at 2:30.

Bible School is under direction of Rev. Milton Faulkner of Willow Grove, a former pastor at Nescopeck. Rev. Donald Baker, South Canaan, district FMY president, has charge of the Youth program.

Recreation and handicraft are under direction of Rev. Coral Ide of Waverly. The program will include handball and volleyball.

Eleven circuits of the Wilkes-Barre District will take part in an annual event which has been traditional in this area for nearly fifty years. Accommodations can handle regular residential enrollment of nearly 200 in the two dormitories, the barracks for boys and girls, and the thirty-six cabins. Over the weekend, 400 to 500 people will congregate.

This summer, sanitary facilities have been greatly improved. A large spring and a deep drilled well furnish water.

Roberts Wesleyan male quartet will be an attraction July 19 to 24, appearing at all general services. Visiting ministers will speak.

Information may be obtained from Rev. Reining.
