

Kennel Club Dog Show Scheduled For October 31, Kingston Armory

Donald A. Smith, president of the Back Mountain Kennel Club, announces the 14th annual all-breed dog show and obedience trials Saturday October 31 at West Side Armory Kingston from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

The show attracts several hundred pure-bred dogs and exhibitors from a dozen states. The Back Mountain Kennel Club affair is an American Kennel Club Member Show at which dogs of more than 112 recognized breeds may compete for points toward championship titles in their breed. In obedience trials, dogs of all breeds are scored on their ability to carry out prescribed exercises and commands, earning credit toward an obedience degree.

Judging begins at 10 a. m. The event will be "benched", with spectators able to see all of the dogs at anytime between noon and 3:30. Between those hours, all dogs not being judged in the rings, can be seen on the benches.

Dr. William A. Wicks, Mt. Greenwood Rd., vice-president of the club, is chairman of the show. A. Lee Stewart, Jr., Dallas, co-chairman. Rev. Duane H. Collins Wilkes-Barre is chairman of obedience trials.

Other club officers and committee heads are: Mrs. Mary Louise Post, treasurer; Mrs. Thomas B. Robinson, secretary; Thomas B. Robinson, delegate to American Kennel Club; Mrs. Milton Frank and H. E. Edwards, advertising; Mrs. A. Lee Stewart, Jr., and Mrs. William A. Wicks, trophies; Mrs. Robert Jewell, food; Robert Jewell, publicity; and Mrs. Edgar May, hospitality. Veterinarians are: Dr. Richard S. Post, Shavertown, and Dr. John J. Parente, Wilkes-Barre.

Members of the Durbin Sunday School Class, Dallas Methodist Church, will operate the food concession. Proceeds will go to the Church Building Fund.

Local Teachers On Panel At Sunbury PSEA Session

"Space for Individual Learning" was the topic discussed in the elementary section at Northeast Educational Conference in Sunbury, with Mildred Garinger, president of the elementary department or Northeast PSEA acting as moderator.

Of the five panelists, two were area teachers: William A. Austin, supervisor of elementary education in Dallas Schools, and Patricia Fox, elementary guidance coordinator in the same system. Others were Frances Smith, Wilkes College; David Phillips, Kingston schools; and Kenneth Roberts, Bloomsburg State Teachers College.

Approximately 500 teachers attended.

One Of The Early Red Cross First Aid Classes

This First Aid Class composed entirely of Dallas women was one of the first trained by Wyoming Valley Chapter American Red Cross. The photograph was taken during or shortly after World War I, probably in 1918, at the final class session in the old Coal Exchange Building in Wilkes-Barre, then the headquarters of the Red Cross.

Of those in the class only Mrs. Whipp, Miss DeWolfe, Lena Hallock, Mrs. Hughey and Gertrude Wilson are living.
