Old Ladies' Home Will Welcome Visitors On Annual Donation Day

By MARGARET ROBINSON Old friends and new, please give special thought and consideration to the Old Ladies' Home, 450 Carey Avenue, Wilkes-Barre, this year. The state has passed new fire safety laws and, because of this, extensive changes must be made in the Home. The lovely open stairway that graces the front hall and continues up through the second and third floors must be removed and replaced with a closed one of fireproof material. Changes also must be made in the elevator, kitchen, and two new exits from the cellar.

The entrance fee the guests pay, covers only a small measure of the expenses of the Home, and it has been due to your generous contributions in the past that we have been able to carry on. We want to urge our many good friends to try to interest others in this wonderful home for elderly women. Here they live happily, without worry, for they know if sickness comes there is always a nurse on duty and a well equipped infirmary. Even if they must leave their rooms for the infirmary they still are at home and among their friends.

The age for entering the home is now 70 years. We have 44 guests, five over 90; twelve over 85. Twenty-nine of these ladies voted in the last elections. A former Back Mountain resident, Mrs. Bessie Gibbs from Orchard Knob Farm, shares honors with Mrs. Eliza Bonham from Shick-shinny as the oldest guests. They have reached the age of 95. Mrs.

Gibbs has been in the home twenty-five years. Other guests who formerly made their home in this area are Miss Emily Avery, Dallas; Mrs. Grace Anderson, Shreve View; Miss Grace White, Trucksville; Mrs. Ella Howlett and Mrs. Agnes Totten, Shavertown; and Miss Elizabeth Parks, Idetown.

Board members who are Back Mountain residents are Mrs. Mae Townend, Mrs. R. S. Ferguson, Mrs. W. F. Newberry, Mrs. Floyd Sanders, Miss Margaret Wood and Mrs. James Robinson. Those who reside here in the summer are Mrs. Malcolm Burnside, president of the Board; Mrs. Andrew Sordoni, Mrs. Arthur James, Mrs. F. Thoburn Armstrong, all of Harveys Lake; Miss Anna Kutzner of Idetown, and Mrs. William Conyngnam, Hillside Farm.

Any donation which would be useful in running a home is most welcome: linens, canned goods, coal and that ever needed item, money. If it is impossible for you to attend the tea, any member of the Board would be happy to receive your donation, or send it directly to the Home. Guests and Board Members, however, are looking forward to welcoming you at the tea. Remember the date, Friday, November 20, 2 to 5.

Resident guests of the Home will offer many interesting hand-made items for sale at the bazaar booths set up in the front parlor. Revenue from the bazaar goes toward upkeep of the Home.

Acme Cranberries Not Contaminated

In view of the situation which has developed as a result of the announcement of the use of poisonous insecticides on cranberries, Acme Market buyers have contacted the sources of supply for cranked the sources of supply for all cranberry products and received assurances that are summarized in the sign which was posted in all markets Wednesday morning.

The message is as follows: Cranberries and cranberry products offered for sale in ACME Markets are all grown and processed either in Massachusetts or New Jersey. Our growers and processors have certified that their products are free from any contamination or harmful chemicals.
