

Earl C. Henwood, 48, Buried On Saturday

The funeral of Earl C. Henwood, 48, of Carverton Road, Trucksville, was held last Saturday afternoon from Williams Funeral Home, Dallas.

Mr. Henwood, a registered pharmacist, died last Wednesday morning at 10:15 in Wilkes-Barre Veterans Administration Hospital where he had been admitted three hours earlier.

Stricken with a cerebral hemorrhage at his home, he was taken to hospital in an ambulance. Mr. Henwood had been ill seven years and was discharged from the same institution about two weeks ago.

Deceased had been associated in the operation of Earl's Drug Store, Trucksville, with his father, Earl C.

Henwood, Sr., who died February 21, 1911, in Kingston, son of Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Sassaman Henwood of Shavertown and the late Earl C. Henwood, Sr.

A resident of Kingston seven years he lived in Hazelton until 1951 when he moved to the Back Mountain area. A registered pharmacist, he graduated from Hazleton High School and Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and Science. A veteran of World War 2, he was a pharmacist with the Army.

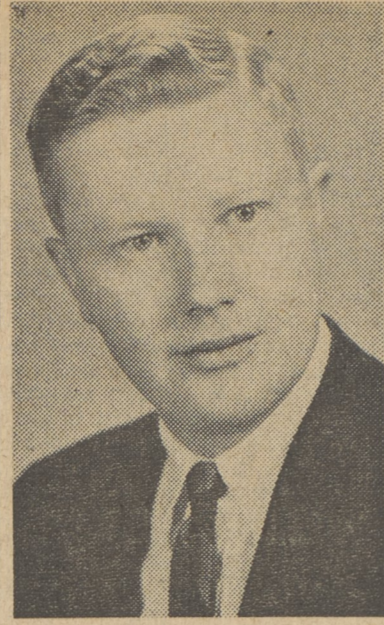

Mr. Henwood was a member of Trucksville Methodist Church, John A. Brasher Lodge 743, F&AM, of Dormont; St. Clair Royal Arch Chapter 305, Dieu le Veut Commandery 45, Knights Templar, and Irem Temple. He had been president of Kingston Township Civic Association until his illness and was a member of Dallas Kiwanis Club.

Surviving in addition to his mother is his wife, the former Ruth Him, a teacher in Dallas Junior High School.

Fearlessness is the mother of confidence.

Rev. Richard S. Wenzel

One of the young ministers who has recently come to this area is Rev. Richard Sebert Wenzel, who took the pastorate of the Maple Grove Charge May 24, of last year, while still a student at Drew Theological Seminary. From September until January, 1960, when he finished at Drew, he commuted back and forth, but recently he has been a permanent resident of the eight-room parsonage at Maple Grove, and is settling down to get more fully acquainted with the congregations of his three churches.

As do most ministers of scattered charges of Methodism, he deprecates the lack of time which keeps him from Sunday School sessions, because of obligations to the adult members. Conducting services each Sunday morning at Maple Grove, Loyalville, and Meeker, keeps him on the move.

He is fortunate in having excellent Sunday School superintendents: Wilfred Ide at Loyalville; Thomas Donsavage at Meeker, and Elwood Ruckel at Maple Grove.

He enjoys working with young people, taking them on hikes, and encouraging them to play baseball, his favorite sport.

Rev. Wenzel has had the valuable experience of working in a retail store between the years of high school and college, thus obtaining an understanding of what makes people tick when they are not on parade or schooled to their best behavior.

During the four years between graduation from Abington High School in 1948 and matriculation at Muhlenberg College, he worked for the ASP at Clark's Summit. After finishing at Muhlenberg in 1956, he entered Drew, having by that time definitely decided to embrace the ministry.

Family background was a potent molder of young Richard's future. He was brought up in a religious-minded household where family worship was the norm. His brother, Donald, five years older than he, is at 35, a minister of a Methodist Charge at Old Forge. Donald and Richard graduated from Theological Seminary the same month, Richard from Drew, Donald from Moravia.

Mrs. Sebert Wenzel, Rev. Wenzel's mother, was left a widow four years ago. Both she and her husband were Scranton natives.

Donald is married and has two children.

Richard is a bachelor, fending for himself as he rattles around in a large parsonage. Vel, he reports, militates against dishpan hands, but up to date he has not tackled the washing machine.

He is looking forward to doing some fishing, but missed the first day of trout season. Saturday is a busy day for the clergy, especially when three churches must be con-

Shavertown Bible Church To Mark
Fifteenth Anniversary May 8

Shavertown Bible Church had its beginning in April, 1945. At that time, meetings were held in Shavertown Fire Hall. Having found them a success and having a group of Christians who were desirous of forming an independent church, it was decided to organize what is now known as the Shavertown Bible Church.

On April 27, 1945, the executive committee held its first meeting and extended an invitation to Rev. Russell Edmondson to become pastor.

Rev. Edmondson comes from Long Island and received his training at New York University, Shelton College, and Barrington College, Providence, R.I. The invitation was accepted and on May 4, 1945, installation of the pastor took place. Rev.

Edmondson has served these fifteen years, and as far as continuous years of service is concerned is the oldest Protestant pastor in the Back Mountain area.

Shavertown Bible Church is self-governing and interdenominational. It is affiliated with the independent fundamental churches of America, and is a constituent member of the American Council of Christian Churches.

Fifteenth anniversary services will be held Sunday, May 8, with Rev. Frank Vulture of Oceanside, L. I., as guest speaker. Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Brandon of Jermyrn will provide special music. The public is cordially invited to attend services at 11 a.m. and 6 p.m.

Retreat State Hospital Invites Residents To Open House May 1

Retreat State Hospital will hold its annual Open House Sunday afternoon, May 1, 1 to 6. Events will include guided tours through the buildings, demonstrations by patients in the auditorium, and mental health films.

The Open House is sponsored by the hospital and by the Women's Auxiliary to Luzerne County Medical Society in recognition of National Mental Health Week.

A new feature at Retreat is the Clothing Corner, set up by Molly O'Donnell, director of volunteers. In this shop, patients try on donated clothing and choose accessories as in a regular store, while volunteers act as clerks.

Visitor From England Will Go Home With Many Happy Memories

Mrs. Edward Hodges is returning to England late this month, with many pleasant backward glances at a community which has received her warmly. For the past two months she has been staying with her daughter, Mrs. Arthur Calkins, Jr., and hopes to return at some later date.

April 29, she sails for Southampton on the SS America, and upon landing goes to York, in the north of England to make a new home with her husband, in charge of plane movements for the Royal Air Force. She has a son, Paul, also with the RAF, a lieutenant in Security. And in September she expects a third grandchild, young Paul, Jr.

In this scattered area, there are a number of Methodist ministers who must serve several congregations. Rev. Edwin Lintern has the Center Moreland Charge, with three churches Center Moreland, Dymond Hollow, East Dallas. Rev. Kenneth O'Neill has Lehman, Idetown, and Jackson. Rev. William Reid has Carverton, Orange, and Mt. Zion. Rev. John Gordon has Alderson, Noxen, Kunkle, and Ruggles.

"Everywhere that I have visited there has been a warm welcome. Your shops and supermarkets are really wonderful. The staff especially, are all most attentive and polite."

"I quite envy my daughter being able to live in America, and am very proud and happy that she has married such a nice American, and that she is to become an American citizen."

"Here in the States you all seem to be one big happy family, so different, alas, from my own country, where even I can feel a stranger. So with all my heart I thank everyone who has helped to make my brief stay so pleasant."

Thank you,
Vicky Hodges.

Mother-Daughter Tea
Women of Dallas Methodist Church plan a Mother-Daughter tea May 5, from 7 to 9 p.m. in the educational building basement. Reservations may be made through Tuesday, May 3, with Mrs. Bruce Davies, Mrs. Ralph Dixon, or Mrs. Walter Mohr.

Dallas Ambulance
Dallas Community Ambulance crew for the coming week: Steve Hartman, captain; Bob Casey, J. Shaffer, Howard Johns, John Sheehan.

Automobiles were offered to consumers "completely equipped" for the first time in 1910.

It was while the Hodges were stationed in Cyprus that the family met the young State Department man, Arthur Calkins, Jr. who later married the Hodges daughter. Mrs. Hodges has promised to write for the Dallas Post an account of life under bombing which she experienced while on the Isle of Cyprus. The wife of a Royal Air Force man gathers plenty of experiences in moving about the world.

Mrs. Hodges takes it from here: "Before I very reluctantly leave America, may I through your paper thank all the many people I have met, for their hospitality and kindness. The surprise shower that Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Calkins gave for me was quite the nicest thing that has happened to me. Nowhere in the world—and I have lived in Singapore and latterly in Cyprus—is there such a nice custom."

He attended Cornell University and while in Wilkes-Barre was actively identified with the Community Welfare organization and other civic and cultural bodies.

Mr. Anspacher was a member of Temple B'nai B'rith.

For the last 30 years he had been actively identified with Camp Kewanee, a boy's camp that had been founded in 1916 by his mother and late father. Currently the camp was operated by himself and his wife, the former Alice Glou who had been a teacher in Plymouth schools.

Also surviving are his mother, Mrs. Bertha Anspacher, now of Cincinnati, Ohio, and a brother, Edgar, Los Angeles, Calif.

Funeral services were conducted Monday at 10:30 at the funeral home, 348 South River Street, with interment private. Rabbi Albert Friedlander officiated.
