

Burgess Warns Weeds Must Be Cut This Month

Burgess Thomas Morgan has issued a warning to all owners of vacant lots in Dallas Borough to cut their weeds and to keep them cut throughout the summer.

"In previous years," he said, "we have waited almost until the weeds went to seed before warning lot owners. This year it will be different. We are issuing this warning in plenty of time so that weeds can be cut before they go to seed."

"Weeds in vacant lots present a health menace and a fire hazard in addition to being unsightly. Hay fever sufferers, especially, are inconvenienced when weeds are not cut."

Burgess Morgan urged all good citizens to cut their weeds at once so that the town will present a tidy appearance for the library auction.

Back Mountain Weekend Runs True To Form, But Nobody Was Killed

The Back Mountain weekend was characterized by two accidents from which victims escaped death by a miracle: a four-way traffic crash at Birch Grove, and a motor-boat-row-boat collision at Harveys Lake.

Two anglers from Wilkes-Barre lost their boat and several hundred dollars worth of gear, and were left floundering in deep water off Warden Place Saturday night, when the operator of a motorboat rammed it, throwing the frantically signalling fishermen into the water and completely demolishing the boat.

Richard Burnat, 25, told Chief Edgar Hughes that he thought he had hit a piece of driftwood, and that he had to make for Point Breeze in a hurry to keep his own boat from swamping, as water poured through a hole in the bow.

John Zorzi, Harveys Lake, and two men from Sugar Notch rescued the fishermen, who were later examined at Wyoming Hospital and pronounced uninjured.

At Birch Grove a few hours later, a multiple crash involved cars driven by Back Mountain residents, all headed north. Four persons were injured.

McCrorry Store To Open Here During August

Personnel Is Now Being Interviewed For Positions

The new McCrorry Junior Department Store will open in Back Mountain Shopping Center during the first week in August.

This was learned yesterday from Thomas Hobbs, store manager, who with Claire DeGeorgio, personnel director, yesterday interviewed scores of applicants for positions at the store.

Miss DeGeorgio, who has been with the company for twenty-four years and has entire charge of personnel for the Pennsylvania area, will continue interviewing and hiring personnel daily at the old Acme Market in Shavertown. Her home is in Allentown.

Mr. Hobbs said he plans to open the store with approximately forty to fifty local employees and with a few key personnel from other locations.

Executives from stores in York, Lancaster, Lebanon, Allentown, Reading, Pottstown, and Waynesboro will also be present.

For the past several weeks merchandise and fixtures for the new store have been stored in the old Acme Market. At the moment plasterers are applying the white coat to the interior of the big new store which is rapidly nearing completion in the Shopping Center.

Mr. Hobbs, who has been with the company for the past twelve years, expects to make his home with his family at 33 East Center Street, Shavertown. He comes to this area from Kewanee, Illinois, where he was store manager. He is presently staying at Dallas Motel while his wife, Tina, and their children, Lynn, 11, and Tom, Jr., 9, are with her parents in Connecticut. The children will attend Shavertown public schools.

For the past three months Mr. Hobbs has been in Hazleton ordering merchandise for the new store. This will be the third store he has managed and the first new store he has opened. It will also be his first experience with a self-service store.

Police Determined To Cut Speed By Continuous Use Of Speed Traps

In a determined effort to cut down speeding on Back Mountain streets and rural highways, Dallas Township and Dallas Borough police are operating speed traps several nights each week and will continue to operate them until fall.

According to Chief of Police Irwin Coolbaugh the traps in Dallas Township have been highly successful and a number of motorists have been given hearings and fined.

"We intend," he said, "to work every street and road where we receive complaints of excessive speeding. You can take it for granted that the Pioneer Avenue and Overbrook Avenue areas are going to receive special attention mornings, late afternoons and evenings. We have been operating traps on Lower Demunds, Overbrook and Pioneer Avenues and we expect to step up the tempo."

Chief Russell Honeywell said Lake Street, Huntsville Road and Lower Main Street traps have been productive of a number of arrests. He warned all local motorists to use judgment in their driving speeds. Those who exceed the posted speeds will receive the same treatment as out of town drivers.

Burgess Tom Morgan has instructed the police to continue the use of speed traps throughout the summer months.

A Young Mother Looks At The Crisis In Japan, After Living In The Orient

Editorial note: This was written in a personal letter, by a young mother of six children who spent nearly three years in Japan. She is back in this country now, stationed with her Air Force husband in Boulder, Colorado. The material seemed too important to overlook.

—Editor

The news from Japan is quite disastrous, I believe, in that the government is letting itself be swayed by students who have no right to be even politically minded. I cannot understand why the heads of the University are not stepping in and doing something about it.

I have lived in Japan long enough and known enough students to realize that Japanese students are like all other kids... hot-headed, unthinking, and easily led.

Of course all the lesser Japanese are easily led, just like children. Promise them an extra bowl of rice, and they love you like mad until someone offers a bigger bowl with larger rice kernels.

Kishi has stood up under great strain, and I'm sure he could stand up under this if he only would. If the Americans allow themselves to be forced out of Japan, then the way I see it communism is definitely on the way in... our only choice will be a war, or giving in gracefully.

I feel so definitely that tragedy for all of us is just around the corner, and I feel desperate to see my folks again before it is too late. It is silly to become panicky, and I don't feel in a panic, but I guess it is natural to want a family to be together once more before it is all over with. I only hope that when it happens, I have all my children under my roof with me so that we can die as a family with dignity.

I have a feeling that the United States will back down under the new pressure, as we have backed down before. I cannot understand a nation with so much power, being such a fence-sitter. We cannot afford to take a weak stand in anything against Russia... certainly giving up our bases all over the world is not the way to hold off war.

Khrushchev of course is most clever in threatening and needling Japan, and the Japanese are swallowing it, hook, line and sinker. They are as yet incapable of defending themselves... Charlie worked hand in glove with their air force, and they have nothing with which to work. They are obsolete in their methods of training their men. The Americans are flying their jets over Japan, not to just protect Americans, but to protect the Japanese as well, and they know it, but they hate to admit it.

We have built up their cities; helped educate their people; defended their country; lifted up their economy; and helped them to become one of the greatest industrial nations of the world. But of course they are perfectly willing to forget this.

The common man was starved before and during the war over there, and the common man welcomed the American and his aid with open arms.

The maids over there could really give the Americans an eyeful and an earful... they know which side their bread is buttered on... and yet, during election times when all of us gladly offered to give the servants the day off so that they could vote, they turned it down.

They are not educated to democracy... they love it, and love its freedom, but they haven't the slightest idea that democracy must be preserved by the people themselves.

They learn by rote in their schools, and their lives are lived by rote as a result. They are never taught to actually think for themselves at all.

If Kishi resigns and the government falls, Japan will pay bitterly for allowing robot students to rule the lives of every man on the islands.

Thrown From Tractor As It Plunges Over Bank

A sixteen year old Carverton boy, thrown from an overturning tractor Tuesday morning at 11:30, was admitted to Nesbitt Memorial Hospital with a punctured upper left arm, and wide destruction of tissues.

Harry Sands, cousin of Ralph Sands, who has made his home since last September at Sanddale, was mounted on the Allis Chalmers W-D-45, when it slipped over a fifteen foot bank, throwing the boy free as it fell.

Harry is son of Mr. and Mrs. James Sands of Mehoopany.

Ralph rushed his nephew to the hospital in his automobile.
