Dallas Resident Becomes Citizen At Impressive Ceremonies July 1

A resident of the Back Mountain became a citizen of the United States at impressive ceremonies in Scranton Friday afternoon, appearing among 400 candidates, 100 of them from Luzerne County.

Mrs. Alvah Jones, born within the sound of Bow's Bells at Lambeth Walk in London, is now a citizen, entitled to all the privileges of citizenship.

What does it mean to gain citizenship?

Mrs. Jones, the Renee of Renee Collie Kennels on Main Street, Dallas, was required to study the Constitution of the United States, the Bill of Rights, the history of the Nation, the Four Freedoms. She had to pass a rigid examination on these points.

What is the inscription on the Statue of Liberty?

Mrs. Jones is letter perfect.

At her first preliminary examination, she had to bring two witnesses who had known her for more than five years in this country, who could swear to her character.

For her final examination, she had to bring proof that she had lived in the same house for five years, and had been an exemplary resident during that time.

Preparing to leave Dallas for Scranton Friday morning, she stopped to answer questions, and explain why she was so elated. Her mother, Mrs. Grace Elizabeth Henson, became a citizen two years ago, along with her father, Vincent, now deceased.

Mrs. Henson lives with Renee, and Renee's two little boys, David and Dale. David, 11, plays in the Little League, catcher for Dallas Miner's team. Dale, eight years old, has ambitions to be a carrier for the Dallas Post. Hewing straight to the line Friday morning, he asked for a job and then, as an aside, said, "My mother's going to be a citizen today."

A telephone call to Mrs. Jones made connections with her mother, instead, who laid the foundations for the story, and finally with a greatly excited Renee, fresh from the tub, who bubbled with enthusiasm.

"Every time I see folks staying away from the polls," she said, "I feel like telling them what a privilege it is, to be able to vote in a free country, to have some small part in this great Nation's affairs. The thing I am going to do after being naturalized, is register. Probably offices will not be open over fourth of July weekend, but I can do it on Tuesday. Registering to vote will pay me for the years of study."

She went on: "People who are born in this country think of citizenship as being as free as the air they
