

Reynold's Class Meeting Next Wednesday

Members of Reynold's Class, Trucksville Methodist Church, are urged to attend the meeting, Wednesday evening, August 10, 8:00, at the home of president, Mrs. Wilson Cease, East Dallas. Other hostesses are: Mesdames Margaret Dykman, Mayme Dymond, Russell Evans, Florence Finney, S. D. Finney, and Harry Glace.

Card Of Thanks

The family of the late Elwood Oney wishes to extend sincere thanks to all those who assisted in any way during the recent bereavement, those who sent flowers, cards of sympathy, donations, lent cars, and performed acts of personal service.

Mrs. Grace Downing, 84, Buried At Bethel Hill

Mrs. Grace Downing, Pleasant Valley, was buried at Bethel Hill Monday afternoon, Rev. Oscar Saxe and Rev. Frederick Hiecock conducting services from the Bronson Funeral Home.

Mrs. Downing, 84, a resident of Pleasant Valley for most of her life, died Friday at noon. She belonged to the Pleasant Valley Methodist Church and its W.C.S. She was born in Berwick, daughter of the late Thomas J. and Catherine Albertson Holmes.

Surviving are her husband John R.; daughters, Mrs. Odessa Mott, Patterson Grove; Mrs. Irving Diltz, Pleasant Valley; Mrs. Martha Stevens, Broadway; 17 grandchildren and 33 great-grandchildren.

Speaker For FMY

REV. ELDON SAYRE

New York Conference Free Methodist Youth Camp will be held August 8 to 14 at the East Dallas camp ground. The opening rally will be held on the athletic field Monday evening at seven. Every evening, thereafter Rev. J. D. Harvey will speak in the tabernacle at seven thirty. Roberts Wesleyan College Male Quartet will be at the camp for the first three days.

Morning hours will be filled with Bible study, recreation, field trips, and a variety program entitled, Stepping into Leadership, directed by Rev. Grove Armstrong. Afternoons are given over to recreation, crafts and acapella.

Afterglow programs will top off the days activities each evening at 9:30, usually are the most popular of all camping activities. Rev. Eldon Sayre, superintendent of the Free Methodist mission work in Southern Rhodesia will speak to the young people at different times during the week.

Rev. Howard Deats of the Bowman's Creek Free Methodist Church is buyer for the camp.

Local YMCA Concluding Day-Camp, Offers Ten Days At Camp Kresge

YMCA Day Camp at Harveys Lake is concluding this week, and Branch YMCA Camp at Camp Kresge, on Beaver Lake, starts its annual ten-day session for boys and girls, August 10. Applicants in the 8 to 16 year age group are asked to get in touch with William Hawke at the Back Mountain Y building in Shavertown, ORchard 4-6901. The cost is moderate, and the benefits unlimited.

A complete program of water sports is offered, along with hiking and nature study. Mr. Hawke, and George Jenkins, secretary of the Parsons YMCA branch, will supervise.

Teen Canteen dances, will start again on Wednesday, August 24, 8 to 11 p. m. Discontinued during the summer, they will be held weekly. Door prizes are offered.

About fifty Day-campers enjoyed the program for a six weeks period this summer, transported by car pools.

from Walt Whitman; Don Reeves, of Falls, dug the trenches for underground cables; Elbert Dornblazer did the electrical hook-up for outdoor lighting of the three flood lights on each side of the lot. Metal standards instead of telephone poles carry the load on the far side of the lot.

Improvements to the lot in advance of the auction, says Rev. Edwin Lintner, are of a permanent nature, and will be of value throughout the years to come.

The barbecue will be served both evenings, and auctioneering will take place, rain or shine, next Friday and Saturday. Receipts will go toward the building fund, looking toward a more capacious edifice to accommodate the growing congregation.

Alabaugh, and Brent Smith.

Mr. Spencer, until entering the Carbon County Home some time ago, had spent his entire life in Dallas Township. Infirmities of advancing age dictated his move. While in the Home, he fell and broke his hip, developing pneumonia after admission to Hazelton Hospital.

A brother Horace died at 93, last January. A brother, Washington, more familiarly known as Wash, died at 91 five years ago, filled with the zest of living to the last, and refusing to be beholden to anybody.

A sister, Mrs. E. B. Worthington of Forty Port, lived to be 82. William Penn of Iowa and Mrs. Rose Anderson of Dallas died in their seventies.

Mr. Spencer's parents, John and Irene Hall Spencer, were of pioneer stock in the Back Mountain. The Spencer acreage was once a large section, sold off piece by piece as demand for smaller farms increased.

A bachelor, Mr. Spencer leaves no lineal descendants. He leaves numerous nieces and nephews.

Center Moreland Auction To Offer A Valiant Sedan And Swimming Pool

Two large items will be offered for sale at the Center Moreland Methodist Church Auction, a sedan, and a swimming pool.

Preparations are about complete for the August 12 and 13 auction and chicken barbecue, with men of the church putting finishing touches to the grounds. Ralph Weaver is grounds chairman.

Eight telephone poles procured from Commonwealth Telephone Company after the recent telephone exchange improvements, are being utilized. Three are standing erect, dropped into their deep holes by a Pennsylvania Power and Light hoist. The remaining five poles are used as bumpers in the newly graded parking lot.

William J. Jones Is Buried At Hollenback

William J. Jones, Shavertown, was buried on Friday in Hollenback Cemetery, following services conducted by Rev. H. J. Shillaban, pastor of the Heights Baptist Church from the Snowden Funeral Home.

Mr. Jones, who retired four years ago from employment with the Glen Alden Corporation, where he served as bratticeman for many years, died Wednesday morning at his home on Hillcrest Avenue, after several months illness.

A native of Wilkes-Barre, he moved in 1925 to Shavertown, from the home on the Heights where he had lived for many years.

He leaves his widow, the former Gertrude Walsh of Pittston; a daughter, Mrs. Francis O'Hara of Shavertown; a son, Herbert Jones of Bethlehem; a brother, Thomas, Wilkes-Barre; sisters, Mrs. Mae Johns and Mrs. Clifford Phillips, Wilkes-Barre; and six grand children. A daughter Shirley Jones died in 1944.

Largely Attended Services For Elwood Oney On Sun.

Children of the late Elwood Oney came great distances to attend his funeral on Sunday. The chapel at Nulton's Funeral Home was filled to capacity, and the funeral cortege to Koher Cemetery contained sixty-three cars. Rev. Joseph Doviak officiated, and Mrs. Grover Anderson sang one of Mr. Oney's favorite selections.

Mr. Oney, 69, died Thursday morning after a long illness, at his home at Harveys Lake.

A painter and paperhanger until retirement three years ago, Mr. Oney frequently worked with his brother, Amos, of Shavertown, who was injured in an accident three years ago.

Mr. Oney was for a time a police officer under Captain Ruth; he served a term on the Laketon school board; was a member of the election board; and secretary of Ruggles Cemetery Association.

He had a beautiful voice, able to take any part in singing, and could play any instrument. He taught his children to do part-singing in the Sunday evening sessions around the piano, and his musical talent has descended to his grandchildren.

He was born in Lanna, near Stroudsburg, son of the late Thomas and Mary Shupp Oney, who moved to Harveys Lake shortly afterward. He attended Laketon schools.

Surviving are his wife, the former Bertha Crispell; children, Mrs. Pauline Gamrot, Miami, Fla.; Mrs. June Vosburg, Lorton, Va.; Mrs. Betty Strzelczyk, Harveys Lake; Mrs. Mabel Matovsky, Deal, N. J.; Mrs. Ruth Harrison, Noxen; Mrs. Lois Newbold, Westminster, Colo.; Mrs. Janet Reynolds and Rebecca, Philadelphia; George, Mrs. Elsie Petrillo and Mrs. Jean Macri, Wilkes-Barre; Fred, Andrew and Eunice, at home; Byron, South Dakota; 41 grandchildren; brothers and sisters, Marvin, St. Petersburg, Fla.; Amos, Trucks-ville; Jess, Wilkes-Barre; Clarence, Kingston; Mrs. Mattie Casterline and Milo, Harveys Lake; Mrs. Blanche Gallagher, Binghamton, N. Y.; and Mrs. Susie Wickham, Benton.
