By MARY ANN LASKOWSKI

WELCOME

Students and faculty welcome Mrs. Edmund Ulatowski who replaces Mrs. Dorothy Jones as girls' athletics instructor.

While Mrs. Ulatowski attended College Misericordia she especially enjoyed work on the debating team and public speaking. She was also active in the Literary Club. Working on a newspaper staff and doing year-book work are two things she would like to do.

While at Lehman Building, Mrs. Ulatowski will coach the girls' basketball team and act as sponsor of the Pep Club.

We hope all is pleasant during her stay.

CHEERLEADERS

Miss Godwin is taking the position as advisor of the cheerleaders. The girls are learning new cheers for the basketball and wrestling seasons.

along with brushing up on some of the old ones.

Miss Godwin is Music Supervisor in the Elementary Buildings.

SENIORS

Miss Senior and Mr. Senior chosen from Lake Building are Judy Shalata and Grover Anderson.

Judy has participated in Band, Chorus and Tri-Hi-Y for four years, being secretary of Tri-Hi-Y for one year. She has been on the Honor Roll and newspaper staff where she was Assistant Editor and Editor. She is President of Student Council and has been a member for three years. Judy is co-editor of the Senior yearbook. She has been in the Junior and Senior plays.

Grover also has been in Band for four years and Chorus for one year. He has belonged to the Clicker Camera Club, President of the Dance Band Club, and a member of the Rifle Club. He is vice-president of Student Council and has been a member for two years. He has been a member of the National Honor Society for two years. Grover is on the yearbook staff and participated in both the Junior and Senior plays. During the summer he attended Keystone Boys State which gives boys an opportunity to participate in problems of local and state government.

Miss Senior and Mr. Senior from both schools will be featured in the yearbook.

LETTERMAN'S CLUB

The Lettermen from both schools met at Lehman Building last Monday and elected the following officers: President, Jack Donnelly; Vice-President, Donald Anesi; Secretary, Bill Norwig; Treasurer, Bill Morse; and Sergeant-of-Arms, Edward Ladamus.

The boys are planning an active year and the students are asked to help them in what ever they attempt.

The deadline for School News in The Dallas Post is Monday at noon.

WESTMORELAND High School News

The Samuels Twins,
Karen and Sharon

First edition of "The Westmorelander" was distributed the day before Thanksgiving, and everyone had a leisurely chance to read it while enjoying the Thanksgiving holidays.

The staff did a fine job, and the news was appreciated by all. The next will be the Christmas edition.

Mr. Evans, Mr. Jenkins and Mr. Kirk are advisors to the following staff: Editor-in-chief, David Stout; Asst. Editors, Linda Wolfe and Judith Newberry; Art, Bonnie Gross, Lynne Jordan and Beverly King; Sports, Marlon Rimple; Production Managers, Judith Newberry, Martha Muncie and Kathy Siket; Westmoreland Staff, Inez Ryman, Kathy Siket, Elizabeth May, Charles Repotski, Sharon DeRemer, Rochelle Mendelsohn, Terry Kozick, Laura Spel, Dorothy Martin, Louise Sutton, James Strauser, Barbara Urban, Dale Maza, Olga Jurysta, Joy Redmond, Jon Schollenberger, Beverly Race, Richard Brown and Barbara Muncie.

SENIOR PLAY

The cast of "Home Sweet Homicide" gave an excellent performance Friday evening, November 18, to a large audience of parents and friends. Their performance proved how hard they had rehearsed. The mystery comedy, was based on the antics of two sisters and a brother trying to solve the murder of a neighbor, while creating a series of problems for their mother and the police. Lynne Jordan and Annabelle Ambrose played wonderful parts in creating comedy humor with their brother, portrayed excellently by Roy Hall. The rest of the cast did a fine job and everyone thought it one of our best plays.

BASKETBALL

The basketball team will play its first exhibition game Tuesday, at home. It has already played two scrimmage games with West Side Catholic with each team winning a game. Everyone is hepped up for the season to begin in earnest.

The following are on the squad: Ronnie Trewern, Wesley Evans, Edgar Inman, Robert Letts, Thomas

The wrestling team has been limbering up for several days in preparation for its first match, December 7. The following students under the coaching of George Dombeck, are on the team: Student Managers are Roy Hall and Jerry Richards. Seniors: Thomas Bozek, John Duris, George Jacobs, David Kimble, Russ Parsons, Francis Stocker, Robert Taylor, Ralph Walp, David Wellhofer, Bill Whittaker, David Williams, and Kenneth Thomas; Juniors: Jon Butler, Charles Kishbaugh, Stuart Stahl, Howard Steele; Sophomores: Donald Anderson, Howard Dover, Jon Shaffer, Joseph Shrey, Del Voight, Don Wardell, Robert Nekrasz, and Donald Andrews.

REPORT CARDS

First report cards of the year were issued last week, and we finally learned how we were doing in classes. Some of us did fine; others not so well. At any rate now we know just where we stand, and we can get down to work more seriously for better grades. We wish to congratulate all who were studious enough to be on the Honor Roll.

MISCELLANEOUS NEWS

Parent Council and the Band Association held meetings Tuesday, November 22, in the Auditorium.

Mr. Dolbear, our student driver instructor, has received a new Chevrolet Impala for driver training. Not everyone gets the chance to learn to drive with a new car. We're very fortunate.

Wrestling will also begin in early December, but as of now there is no head coach. Coach Shiner has resigned. However, within a short time, we hope Dr. Mellman will

AT THE COLLEGE

JEAN DRAPIEWSKI

Lewis Carroll's Walrus would surely agree that "the time has come"—the quiet of a vacation weekend is the time to answer questions. Many of our why's in the upperclassman camp really flow into one big challenge: "What is the nature of this strange brew before us, the thoughts of the Freshman?" A way to the answer just occurred to us—we'll let the freshmen describe the mixture themselves.

For weeks in English 101, they have been turning their eyes inward to find driftwood for the fire of freshman themes—here burn their thoughts. Let's look at some of them.

In her theme "Age of Contrasts" Sharon Johnson reveals that freshmen have put their minds into good hard training. They are learning to know their world so that they can use it as builders and artists. She says:

"Research is a word which has become an integral part of our daily lives because, as Americans, we wish to achieve a great deal for ourselves and for the generations to come. Thus, we see the discoveries in medicine, in science, and in agriculture that have so characterized the twentieth century. Another interest is in culture.

"Never before in our history have we shown such interest in such cultural media as music, drama, and art. As a nation, we are not content merely to rest on our laurels. Whatever the outcome may be, we continually strive for greater things. This has always been one of the most outstanding characteristics of our country. It is, in my opinion, our greatest strength."

In Patricia Hatches' theme "The Generations Before" we see that the freshmen are wise enough to take all of the richness of their cultural heritage and use this as a light to make their own living into a poet's journey. Patricia describes the influence of her parents' stories. This is what she has learned from her mother's memories:

I can picture her mother as a tiny woman in native costume, with tightly-wound silken braids of snow white hair framing her Austrian face. I can see her, in my mind's eye, tending the large garden in back of her house, or scattering corn to the chickens and geese at their feeding time. I can almost hear her singing appoint another coach who will give the team the same spirit that Mr. Shiner did.

softly as she rocked her tiny daughter, Margaret, to sleep in the evening twilight. And I can see Granddad coming home from the mines, imposingly tall and German looking, covered from head to toe with soot and coal. I can almost taste their supper of "halupkies" or "lepche", which are treats my mother makes for our family even today."

Then Patricia describes her father's family:

"My father's family, on the other hand, was a large one, and I never tire of his tales of his three brothers and eight sisters and the many pranks and jokes they shared. How his mother must have worked to feed and clothe her twelve children! I can see her now as she must have looked standing at the huge outside oven, doing the weekly baking. . . . I can see the younger members of the family dutifully carrying the clear jars of canned vegetables and fruit into the fruit cellar, already lined with crocks of sauerkraut and dill pickles in readiness for the coming winter. I can almost hear their merry laughter as they sat in the living room listening to records on their handcranked victrola, one of their few luxuries."

Patricia is really speaking in the best American tradition when she concludes:

"I'm so proud of all of them, and the rich heritage they gave me. . . . What greater legacy could our ancestors have given us than a rich, tradition-filled past upon which to build our future?"

R ALL PRESCRIPTIONS MUST BE CAREFULLY CHECKED

A pharmacist first studies every prescription before compounding. The dosage is checked for safety. We make certain we know exactly what your physician wants. If we are in doubt we call the physician for more information. Then, you get your prescription quickly.

That is why most new prescriptions cannot safely be ordered by mail. You would lose too much time and this personal checking between the physician and pharmacist, if compounded in a distant state, far from your physician.

★ YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

DALLAS Junior High NEWS

JOANNE HADSALL

Student Council is considering a list of items to purchase for use in the Junior High School. Students having an idea or recommendation may mention it to their homeroom representative on Student Council.

The dance held on Friday, November 18, was a success. The Student Council is compiling a code of ethics and regulations for Junior High School and social functions. The homerooms are asked to discuss this and come up with some good suggestions.

Plans are being made for the Christmas dance, to be held December 21. A band will be provided and other details will be published at a later date.

November twenty-first was the tenth anniversary of the Wilkes-Barre Philharmonic Association. As a celebration they presented a youth concert for the area schools. Eighty-six boys and girls attended from Junior High School.

The program opened with the lighting of ten anniversary candles and the "Star Spangled Banner." The first selection was an overture, "Academic Festival" by Brahms. The harp soloist demonstrated special affects such as chords, arpeggios, and harmonics on the harp. The first and third movements and the finale of Sibelius' Symphony #2 in D Major was the next selection. The last number, "March of the Toreador" from "Carmen", was greatly enjoyed. Ferdinand Liva was the conductor.

Junior High Falcons have finished their football season with a two-win, two-loss record. Mr. Dolbear and Mr. Shiner, the Falcons' coaches, extend their thanks to all the boys who came out for football, and are looking for a fine turnout next year.
