DRESS-UP-DAYS
Students looked sharp the last two Fridays. Dress Up Days were held by the Student Council to encourage students to come to school a little neater than usual.

Last week Mr. Mark's seventh grade home room had the most students dressed up.

We can't force students to come dressed up but, it would be nice to have the whole school have 100% this Friday.

JUNIOR PLAY
The Juniors have selected their play. The committee, consisting of Karen Gable, Diana Sampson, Carol Toluba and Henry Stefanowicz, selected "The Unguided Miss" by William Davidson.

SENIOR CHORUS
Mr. Gerrity has announced that the Senior Chorus practice each Wednesday after school. It is important that each member comes because it is the only chance that choruses have to practice together. Concert music ranges from negro spirituals to lovely waltzes.

TEACHERS
We are glad to have with us a few students from College Misericordia. I will be telling you more about them in the next few weeks.

We also have two new regular teachers. They have been with us since the second semester started. I will also be telling you about them.

GIRLS SPORTS
The girls basketball team has been neglected this year, so we are going to try and make up to them this week.

They have a record of two wins and three losses. They lost to Lackawanna Trail, West Side Central and Westmoreland; and won over Forty-Fort and Meyers.

In the Forty-Fort game Janice Niezgod was high score with twelve points. The score for the game was 36 to 34.

Last Thursday the girls beat Meyers 48 to 37. Phyllis Price was high score with 16 points.

Today after school they will try to make it another win over Lackawanna Trail.

PROM PLANNING
It's time to start planning for the annual Junior-Senior Prom to be held in the spring.

The committees have been formed and are functioning quite well. General chairman is Doug Trumbower with Bev Lord as co-chairman. Chairman and co-chairman for programs, invitations and reservations are Regina Galley and Lorelle Briggs. The band chairmen are Pat Hoover and Bill Morris, on the receiving line committee are Marie Hardisky and Tom Field. Refreshments are to be taken care of by Sandra Yellitz and Linda Swelgin. The decorations chairman are Ivor Williams for organization and Ben Rusiloski for order and finances.

This year the Prom is being paid for by both Junior classes and the Senior Class from Lehman building. This will be the first prom that is being planned by and will be attended by students of the joint buildings.

REMINDER
Don't forget the Bake Sale this Saturday at Davenport's Drug Store in Kingston. If you would support this fund raising activity, it would be appreciated.

This Week AT THE COLLEGE

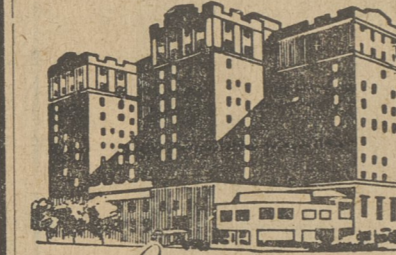

JEAN DRAPIEWSKI

Snow has proved the biggest challenge to normal academic routine at Misericordia since Christmas. Battling with the various snowfalls to clear roadways and parking lots has become a tournament as fierce as any of those sponsored by King Arthur and his Knights of the Round Table. The students' fighting all the transportation problems that have formed the retinue of the Snow Knight has certainly been in the best heroic tradition. And what is the stage of battle at present? The Snow Knight follows the end of each battle with another challenge and falls down to capture every road. There is no winner; the battles are draws. Students just manage to make classes, and practice teachers have been able to climb over the snow drifts to carry out their missions. This is the kind of living that gives inspiration for the future. In the midst of later battles, we'll listen to memory's call: "REMEMBER THE SNOWS OF '61!"—then we'll gain heart to push on to victory.

Last weekend several members of MISS RECORDIA's staff attended the "Third Annual Student Editors' Conference on International Affairs Press Club in New York, February 10-13. Gloria Klassen, editor-in-chief of MISS RECORDIA, was a scholarship participant in the Conference. She was accompanied by Ann McDonough, news reporter; Barbara Brown, make-up editor; Joan Burke, news reporter; Marie Drobniak, news editor; and Judy Fenstemacher, feature editor.

Misericordia's basketball team continued undefeated in four games with a victory over Wilkes College, February 7, in the Wilkes Gym. Next game is this Friday evening at Look Haven State College. The physical education majors always present a difficult game for Misericordia's Highlanders. Full Steam Ahead for this game.

WESTMORELAND High School News

SNOW! SNOW! SNOW!

We love it! Or did we! It gave us an unexpected vacation from school, but most of us had to spend the extra time shoveling out the family car and cleaning off the sidewalks. This part of the world was covered with the white stuff and the beauty of whipped cream lay on the land, looking good enough to eat. But by now we are all eager for some nice warm days and not quite so much snow.

GIRLS' BASKETBALL
Our girls' basketball team has been doing a wonderful job this year. Last Wednesday in Westmoreland gym they won a very close victory over West Side Central Catholic with a score of 52-51. Both teams were undefeated until this game. During the last 3 minutes of the game Westmoreland took the lead and held it to the end. The starting forwards against Central Catholic were Marilyn Eck, with 24 points; Annabelle Ambrose, with 20 points; and Nancy Harris, with 8 points. The guards also did terrific floor work. The starting guards were Lynne Jordan, Elsa Orchard, and Sally Moyer. Miss Mabel Jenkins, the girls' coach, has done a fine job with the girls this year.

KEY CLUB
The Key Club and Keyettes are very much in the news again with their plans for a bake sale, which is to be held Saturday, February 11. The proceeds of this sale go to the March of Dimes.

CONGRATULATIONS
We'd like to congratulate three of our students who have proven their musical ability work, and been selected to play in the All State Region II Orchestra Festival at Wilkes College. They are Dorothy Eck, Mary Bennett, and Donald Williams. We hope you enjoy your participation in this event.

Scout Troop's Only Complaint, "It Was Too Warm For Camping."

Scout Troop's Only Complaint

It wasn't zero on the Back Mountain Shopping Center parking lot Thursday night when the Boy Scouts and Explorer Scouts of Troop 232 pitched four tents on the blacktop, but it was wet from melting snow following a sudden thaw that lowered the snowdrifts along the perimeter.

It is impossible to stop 56 Boy Scouts intent upon camping out. They spread a thick layer of straw, covered it with ground cloths, then newspapers as a foundation for the sleeping bags. Two new stoves were used this year, in addition to stoves left over from previous camping trips. The two new stoves are army surplus, heavy cast iron jobs that give off an amazing amount of heat, and provide level cooking space.

Tents were pitched Thursday night, but because of school, not occupied until Friday evening.

David Schmerer Has Art Gallery

Each Month In N. Y. Shows Significant Art

Friends of the Joseph Schmerer family, former residents of Dallas, now living in Englishtown, N. J., will be interested in David Schmerer's progress in the world of art and artists. David, while the family was living here, was an art student at Syracuse University, showing great promise.

David has his own gallery in New York, known as the David Herbert Gallery at 14 East 69th Street, where each month during the season he has a new showing from September through June.

Mrs. Schmerer, in a recent letter to the Dallas Post, says that he is doing very well in his work. When the gallery closes for the summer, he travels.

And whenever he gets home, he catches up on the back issues of the Dallas Post, which Mrs. Schmerer saves for him.

Mrs. Schmerer was active in The Book Club and the Library Auction, serving first as chairman of auction solicitation, and the following year as president of the Book Club.
