Gavy's Market Gets Statewide Recognition

Gavy's Market Gets Recognition In "The Pennsylvania Grocer"

"Gavy's Super Market," Main Highway, Trucksville, operated by Ambrose Gavigan recently gained nationwide recognition in the monthly publication, THE PENNSYLVANIA GROCER.

Mr. Gavigan who began his business in 1948 with a bus, then known as Gavy's Motor Store, traveled from house to house selling. This was an ideal way for the house wife to shop. Gavy continued the service for two years.

In 1950 he left the road to move into the building now operated by Shavertown Shoe Repair, next to Walters' Calso Station. Business was so good and facilities so small that after a year he was forced to vacate the store and find larger quarters in Trucksville.

In 1951 he moved to his Trucksville location where he continued to build a thriving business.

Continuing to grow with the rapidly expanding Back Mountain area, the site became so crowded that Mr. Gavigan leased an adjacent store room and doubled the size of his store.

Since the addition was opened in September 1960, Mr. Gavigan has experienced a 25 percent weekly increase in business with this figure climbing steadily. He hopes for a much larger volume by the time his store hits its full potential.

Recognized for his high quality meats, Gavy states that his biggest increase has been in the meat department.

One of the market's newest features is an 18 foot, triple-decked Dairy Bar which is kept well stocked.

"Gavy" is a member of the Wyoming Valley Distribution Company "Economy Stores" and has served on its Board of Directors for many years.

Despite the flow of patrons coming in to shop at the brightly lighted store, only one check out is used but a large portion of business is carried on through the phone-order-delivery service.

Personnel at the market includes Mr. Gavigan, owner and operator; his two sons Donald and Gary; Bill Davis, manager; Frank Simontis, butcher, and Gary Cooper, stockboy.

Mr. Gavigan with his wife Frances and two sons, Don and Gary, reside on East Center Street, Shavertown. They are members of St. Therese's Church. Mr. Gavigan is also active in Dallas Lions Club and a member of the Lions bowling team in the GEORGE SHUPP league.

Both boys are graduates of Westmoreland High School. Don served a two-year hitch with the Navy before joining his father in the grocery business. Gary, the last to graduate, now attends Wilkes-Barre Business College and works part time at the store.

William Davis, well known Shavertown resident and School Director, has been associated with Gavy's for 12 years. He was previously employed by the Acme Markets.

Frank Simontis, the genial butcher is a resident of Luzerne.

Gary Cooper who keeps the shelves well stocked attended Westmoreland and resides in Dallas.

This Is Where Mr. Gavigan's Business Started

After years of experience in the grocery business working for others, it was in this bus, equipped as a traveling grocery store and meat market, that Mr. Gavigan began his career as an independent merchant. The old fashioned attributes of courtesy, quality and personal attention to the requirements of the customer are still the keystones of his modern market.
