Clown Is Swamped

Charlie Cheer, here swamped by animal balloons, is one of the clowns with the Shrine Circus opening at Kingston Armory, Wednesday, April 5, and continuing through Saturday, April 8, with performances afternoons and evenings as well as on Saturday morning.

Sponsored by the uniformed organizations of Irem Temple AA ONMS and presented by Hamid Morton Enterprises of Atlantic City, the 12th annual edition of the Shrine Circus comes to Wilkes-Barre "bigger and better than ever" with 24 of the greatest acts in circusdom. Several are making their first appearance in America in a show that will run two-and-one-quarter hours.

As at previous Shrine Circuses, hundreds of youngsters throughout Northeastern Pennsylvania will be transported to the Armory as guests of Shrine Daddies and Clubs during afternoon and Saturday morning performances.

Reserved seats for all performances are now on sale at the Boston Store and Colombo Cigar Store, Public Square or at the Armory afternoons and evenings of the performances. General admission windows will open one hour before show time.

Ice Breaking At Lake
 Frank Jackson, dropping by the office of the Dallas Post on Wednesday, reported that wide cracks were showing in the ice at Harveys Lake, with blue water showing between the ice-fields. Two more days, he thought, should free the lake of ice which formed in mid-December, and reached a thickness of twenty-four inches. Mrs. Edgar Hughes, up at the Alderson end, said she expected the ice to go at any time, so much water was showing around the edges.
