

12th Annual MAC Golf Tournament Set For May 8 At Irem Temple C C

Largest Entry Of College Linksmen to Vie For Honors In 36 Holes Of Medal Play

Middle Atlantic States Collegiate Athletic Conference will hold its 12th Annual Golf Tournament, Monday May 8 at Irem Temple Golf course.

Approximately 100 collegians will vie for individual and team trophies over 36 holes of Medal Play. This is the largest entry field ever to enter the tournament.

The past two years the tourney was held at the Dupont Louviers course in Delaware.

Bucknell has captured laurels the past three seasons in the Conference; while Bucknell, Juniata and Lehigh have been the only colleges to win the annual event to date.

This is the largest Collegiate Tournament in the United States.

Besides the MAC officials, two Irem officials will also have a hand in the tourney. Pro Ray Gettle will be the official referee with Dan Richards being the official starter.

Four-man teams will start on No. 1 and No. 10 tee beginning at 8 a. m. Eighteen holes will be played before lunch with the concluding eighteen following luncheon at the Clubhouse.

Co-chairman for the affair is Wilkes Farrar, golf instructor at Wilkes College.

Teams entered are as follows: Albright, Lehigh, Lafayette, Lycoming, Temple, St. Josephs, Scranton, Wilkes, Moravian, Franklin & Marshall, Johns Hopkins, Juniata, Hofstra, Wagner, Upsilon, Rutgers, Western Maryland, U. of Delaware, Swarthmore, Susquehanna, Washington, Bucknell and Muhlenburg.

Practice rounds are slated for Sunday May 7.

Requiem Mass For Mrs. Mary Tomko

Mrs. Mary Tomko, Noxen RD 1, was buried yesterday morning in the parish cemetery in Pringle, following a Requiem Mass at SS Cyril and Methodius Church.

Mrs. Tomko died Saturday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Peter Berti in Edwardsville.

A native of Austria, upon coming to the United States in 1901, she settled in Edwardsville. Thirty-two years ago she moved to Noxen. She was a charter member of her church in Edwardsville, and a member of the Altar Society and St. Ann's Lodge.

Her husband Andrew died thirteen years ago.

She leaves, in addition to her daughter in Edwardsville, these children: John, Noxen; Mrs. Stephen Repka, Port Blanchard; seven grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Animal Shelter Performs Marvels Since Opening April Of Last Year

From the time the SPCA Animal Shelter was opened last year on April 11, to the end of December, 5,670 animals were received; 2,744 rescue and emergency calls were answered by the ambulance and auxiliary truck and 63 cases of cruelty were investigated.

Contributions at the Shelter totaled $2,862, for ambulance service and shelter. Contributions from animal lovers, membership dues, and sale of used articles at the Thrift Shop in Wilkes-Barre helped keep the shelter going.

For those who are not aware that there is a Thrift Shop on North Main Street, it is a going concern, where anybody can find almost anything. Right now, there is costume jewelry in abundance. People send in used clothing and, small pieces of furniture and bric-a-brac, and interested volunteers staff the shop. Plants are very popular.

Says Ruth Schooley, editor of the SPCA Report, "That dress you've been trying to shrink into for five years... give it up. It isn't worth the struggle. Take it to the Thrift Shop and let a size 34 have it."

An animal cemetery is a spring project. Land has been graded next to the Shelter, and eventually there will be a nice piece of sculpture as an appropriate monument, with a background of trees and shrubbery, and green grass underfoot. Williamsport has a pet cemetery which has recently been expanded, so great is the demand.

The late Mrs. Z. Platt Bennett, without whose generous support the Shelter could not become reality, left $20,000 in her will in trust for its support, and royalties on her book, "The Dogs of Coolin Hill."

The annual meeting in January, over which Miss Annette Evans presided, saw these members elected to the board: Mrs. G. W. Klem, Paul B'tenbender, Mrs. W. E. MacNeal, Mrs. H. W. Smith, Mrs. Ralph Weatherly, Mrs. James Young, C. W. Bertels, Miss Frances Dorrance, Miss Annette Evans, Mrs. William C. Robinson, Mrs. Harry B. Schooley, Miss Modesta Ximena, Raymond J. Bartow, Bartholomew Collett, Mrs. William Gritman, Mrs. Robert J. Haarter, Laning Harvey Jr., and Howard Risley.

Elected president of the Board of Governors was Laning Harvey; vice president, Miss Evans; second vice president, Mrs. Haarter; Mr. Bartow, treasurer; Mr. Collett, secretary; Mrs. Gritman, corresponding secretary.

Irem Women Golfers Hold Annual Meeting

Annual meeting of Irem Women Golfers Association took place at Irem Temple Country Club on Friday, with Mrs. Paul L. Gross presiding.

Minutes of the Fall business meeting and two Committee meetings were read by the secretary, Mrs. H. W. Mainwaring and were approved. Changes in Golf Rules were read by Mrs. James T. Williams, a member of the Rules Committee.

Mrs. Fay Hopkins will assist Mrs. Ernest Wellhofer on the Publicity Committee.

Ringer scores were discussed by Mrs. Gordon Guyler, Handicap Committee Chairman. Other Committee Chairmen gave their reports.

The Golf schedules are due to come in from the printers very shortly. The golf schedule for the season was read by Mrs. Paul L. Gross.

The opening of the golf course will be announced later.

All business, old and new having been taken care of, the meeting was adjourned.

Members of the Golf Association present: Mrs. Paul L. Gross, Mrs. Charles Phillips, Mrs. H. W. Mainwaring, Mrs. James T. Williams, Mrs. Frank Wagner, Mrs. Larry Spencer, Mrs. Fay Hopkins, Mrs. Robert Spencer, Mrs. George Montgomery, Mrs. William Wicks, Mrs. George Dean, Mrs. Warren Unger, Mrs. Howard S. ## GETTING THE MOST FROM YOUR GARDEN

by Dr. Peter Asgrow

SUMMER VEGETABLES

The tomato, at one time grown as an ornamental and regarded with suspicion, has become our most popular vegetable. No plants are easier to raise, given fair soil and full sun.

How many plants to grow will depend on the space available. Each plant should yield 10 to 15 pounds of fruits and will need at least 4 sq. ft. of space if grown upright on a stake, twice as much if allowed to sprawl on the ground. The staked plants will yield less per plant, but as much or more for the area occupied.

Tomatoes on the ground create shade which saves moisture; those grown upright should have a thick mulch, or covering, of grass clippings, leaves or hay. Whether upright or prostrate, the plants will be greatly helped by a ring of fertilizer applied after the first green fruits appear, 6 to 8 inches away from the stem.

Beans are also easy to grow. Originally they were all pole beans, and, like staked tomatoes, these save space, but the bush beans produce pods much earlier, without the bother of poleing. Beans should not be started until the soil is warm, then the seeds should be set about 2 ins. deep, 3 ins. apart. A family of four or five may well need 50 to 100 feet of row, 4 oz. to 8 oz. of seed, depending on whether supplies are wanted for freezing or canning. For a continuous supply, repeat sowing at two week intervals until about 2 months before autumn may be expected.

Everybody likes to grow sweet corn, remembering the maxim that the pot should be set to boil before the ears are picked; but the question is whether there is room for the large plants, which yield little for the space they take. For the home gardener who requires only a few ears at a time small plantings should be repeated at 7 to 10 day intervals.

Although the spring lettuces are gone, or going, there are several varieties of unusual type that will stand well into the summer without going to seed, provided they have enough food in the soil and that it is well mulched to keep their roots cool and moist. One is Oak Leaf, so named because its leaves are cut in and rather like large oak leaves. Another is Matchless, or Deer's Tongue, which has long, substantial, crunchy green leaves—an excellent home garden variety.

Summer squash makes a pleasant and seasonal dish whether boiled or fried, and could hardly be of less trouble in the garden. Both the yellow and the green, or Italian, types grow on bush plants that stand 3 ft. high and are as wide across. They are raised from seed set where a shovelful of old manure has been well buried. If that valuable but scarce commodity is not available, a handful or two of garden fertilizer should be thoroughly mixed into the soil and watered down. The bushes grow rapidly, and the fruits should be kept picked when about 6 inches long, whether you can use them or not, so that others may come along.

RECIPES USING FRESH GARDEN VEGETABLES

Salad Blanche: Chop very fine a bunch of plain parsley—it must be the plain type. Add 1 large minced onion, 4 medium-sized diced tomatoes, 1 minced green or red pepper. Toss in a salad bowl with 4 tsp. lemon juice, ¼ tsp. red flake pepper, and 1 tsp. salt. Serve 10 minutes after dressing.

Gardener's Noon: A head lettuce, coarsely chopped, 2 green peppers minced, 1 large onion minced, 3 radishes sliced, ½ cup cooked Lima beans, ½ cup cooked snap beans, 2 large tomatoes sliced. Toss in a salad bowl with plenty of dairy sour-cream dressing or a cup of mayonnaise.
