Royal Lyne Dies In Orlando, Florida

Royal Lyne, 71, formerly of Trucksville, and for some years a correspondent for the Dallas Post, died March 28 in Orlando, Florida, passing away of pneumonia. He had been ill for a month.

Leaving Trucksville in 1942, he and his family settled in Annapolis where he worked at the Naval Academy. Five years ago the family moved to Orlando, where Mr. Lyne worked as a painter.

He was a native of Ashley, son of the late Sidney and Clara Kreidler Lyne. He leaves his widow, the former Louise Klingus; four daughters and three sons; a brother, and eighteen grandchildren, none of this immediate area.

Noxen Veteran To Be Buried At Arlington

Leland C. Space, veteran of World War II and the Korean Conflict, will be buried in Arlington National Cemetery. Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2 from the Nulton Funeral Home, with burial at the convenience of the family. Rev. Robert Sutton will officiate.

Mr. Space 36, died early Tuesday morning at Veterans Hospital. Son of Ralph and the late Ella Casterline Space, he was a life-long resident of Noxen. During the Korean Conflict he served as staff sergeant in the Air Force.

Surviving are his wife, the former Jean Swingle; his father Ralph; these children: Sharyn, Leo, Donald and Ralph; brothers and sisters: Paul and Mrs. Frank Weaver, Noxen; Mrs. Frank Claush, Pringle; and Ralph Jr., White Haven.

Solomon C. Coldren Was Milling Co. Vice President

Solomon C. Coldren, resident of Goss Manor for the past eight years, died Saturday morning after a long illness. He was buried Monday afternoon in Hollenback Cemetery. Rev. Kenneth O'Neill, pastor of Plains Methodist Church, officiating, assisted by Rev. Howard R. Harrison, retired, and Rev. George M. Bell, retired Methodist superintendent.

Mr. Coldren, a native of Northumberland County, son of the late John and Susan Coldren, lived in Miners Mills and Parsons before moving to Dallas. He was vice president of the Miner-Hillard Milling Company in Wilkes-Barre, superintending the flour and corn meal division. For sixty-two years he had been actively associated with the concern, retiring ten years ago.

He served on the official board of Plains Methodist Church and as a trustee for over fifty years, and president of trustees for thirty-five years. Active in civic affairs, he was instrumental in promoting the Plains - Wilkes-Barre consolidation move in 1920.

Last December he received a fifty-year pin and life membership in Irem Temple, Masonic affiliations included Fidelity Lodge 655, of which he was the oldest living past master; Shekinah Chapter 182, Royal Arch Deacons; Dieu le Veut Commandery 45, and Irem Temple. Active in the YMCA, he was a founder of the Parsons Branch, and chairman of its board for many years.

He and his wife, the former Anna R. Richardson, observed their 59th wedding anniversary March 19 of this year. Surviving in addition to his widow are: a daughter, Fern Coldren, director of music at Dallas Methodist Church; a son John Lee, Easton, vice president of Dixie Cup Division, American Can Co.; two grandchildren, and several nieces and nephews.

Eleanor J. Brown Would Have Been 90 Today

The many friends and connections of Eleanor J. Brown, retired Wilkes-Barre school teacher, will grieve at the news of her death at 89 in Philadelphia. Had she lived until today, she would have been 90 years old.

Miss Brown, sister of the late beloved Dr. H. A. Brown of Lehman, died Saturday morning at her home, where she had suffered a long illness.

A native of Lehman, daughter of the late Timothy A. and Mary Jane Ruggles, she taught in Beaumont, Lehman and Noxen upon graduation from Mansfield State Teachers College, before following her career for forty years in Wilkes-Barre.

Fifteen years ago she moved to Philadelphia. She was a member of Central Methodist Church in Wilkes-Barre, and taught Sunday School there for a number of years. In Philadelphia, she was a member of the Tabernacle Presbyterian Church.

She was the eldest of five children, surviving them all. She leaves three sisters-in-law, among them Mrs. Brown of Lehman; five nephews and a niece.

Express Appreciation

The family of Josephine Richards, Marianne Zacharias, Anne Richards, Mildred Lutes, Arlene Updyke, William Richards, wish to express their gratitude to the many friends and neighbors who sent flowers, cards and food at the time of her death; also those who lent cars.

Ralph Fitches Takes Scouts To Airport

Den 4, Cub Pack 281 of Dallas Methodist Church, enjoyed an air adventure field trip to the Smith Flying School, Forty Fort, and the Avoca Airport recently with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Fitch.

At the Smith Field they were courteously steered by K. Russell Smith and his staff who talked on the construction of a plane, chartering service, and the training of new pilots. Climax of the visit was an actual plane ride over Wilkes-Barre.

At Avoca T.W.A. officials explained the working day of an airplane crew and the office management that directs the plane. Lunch followed at the Dutch Pantry.

Members of the troop, all future pilots now, are Gary Garris, Howard Garris, J. Richards, Jeff Richards, Craig Churry, Charles Baker and David Fitch.

Information Center For Child Adoption

A state-wide information center for children adoption is expected to start operations in the Department of Public Welfare in June, Secretary Mrs. Ruth Grigg Horting said today. The center will be used two ways by child welfare agencies:

1. For the exchange of information about children for whom they have difficulty in finding appropriate homes.

2. For information about persons who want to make adoptions but for whom there are no suitable children in a specific location.

Mrs. Horting said the information center "will open a broader area resources to child placing agencies and will provide homes for many children who might otherwise never be placed for adoption."

She explained that the information service, known as the "Adoption Resource Exchange" is for the use of agencies and institutions only and will not deal directly with individuals.

It will be operated in the Office for Children and Youth at the Public Welfare Department. Eleven states have similar information centers and it is expected that a national exchange will eventually be set up.

Mr. Kephart, 76, died early Wednesday morning. He had been in failing health for several years. Before his illness, he worked on the State highways.

Second Identical Twin Dies Within A Week

The second of identical twins, eight months old, sons of former area residents, will be buried Saturday at 3 p. m. in Bloomingdale cemetery, beside the brother who was buried last week.

Roy E. Culver, son of Glenn and Dolores Cragle Culver, Lansdale, died Tuesday afternoon in St. Christopher's Hospital, Philadelphia. He had been desperately ill at the time of the funeral of his twin Ray, who died April 16. Both babies had had their customary checkup a few days before they developed a cough, and had seemed in perfect condition.

There is a brother Timothy, two and a half years old; maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cragle, Hunlock Creek; paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Culver Sr., Shickshinny.

Rev. Warren Birdsall will officiate from the Bronson Funeral Home. Friends may call tonight and tomorrow evening.
