This Week

AT THE COLLEGE

JEAN DRAPIEWSKI HEAR THE BIG NEWS! Misericordia's Mission Club is sponsoring a super two-day fair on campus, April 28 and 29. There will be food, games, prizes — and the election of Mission Queen.

The campus looks like a circus has arrived. Slightly disheveled workers (they're really students in disguise) can be seen walking, running, even galloping everywhere as, in a frenzy, they set up stands, game booths and banners to give the campus an authentic country fair atmosphere. Saturday and Sunday will climax preparations which began several weeks ago when Mission Club representatives began tacking up signs on every available bit of bulletin board. These signs introduced the candidates for Mission Queen. Each student could vote for her favorite candidate as many times as she wished at a penny a vote. The campaign has been lively, but always friendly.

Misericordia's Athletic Association got into the act Tuesday night, April 25, with a Faculty-Student volleyball game. All donations went to the Mission Club.

Aside from the gala fair, some other events have managed to creep into the busy calendar. Misericordians honored Madelyn Gloge by electing her Miss Recordia. Madelyn is a senior piano major from Staten Island who, only two weeks ago, gave her senior piano recital in Walsh Auditorium. Her election to the honor-title of Miss Recordia climaxes the brilliant college career of an admirable young woman.

The executives of the student body, alias Student Council, will take time off from the round of duties on May 2 to indulge in a spaghetti dinner which the Council will hold at Marin's as their annual honor gesture to the senior members.

Four years of college are nearly ended for the Class of '61. Senior Prom looms in the nearest future, and already nostalgia walks among our seniors.

BAND CONCERT

The band has completed all the practices it will have before the concert. Everyone is quite excited dreaming of those two nights when results of all the practicing will be exhibited.

Band Sponsors will hold a bake sale both nights. They are trying to raise money to send the 135 piece band to New York. There the band is planning to enter both concert band and marching band competition on June 3.

We are sure we will see you at the Lehman Auditorium either tomorrow or Saturday night.

MAY QUEEN

April hasn't come to an end and here we are thinking of the activities in May.

The students of both buildings have cast their votes for the honored position of May Queen. Each girl in the Senior Class is a candidate.

Last week in assembly each girl gave her name, course she is taking and what she is planning to do when she graduates.

Each student was to have given serious thought before voting for the girls.

CLASS OFFICERS

Petitions for those students who want to run for a class office have been distributed. Petitions must be signed by three teachers and seven students. Then they are submitted to the Student Council. Each candidate has his grades checked in order to see if he is able to hold office.

The elections will take place later this month. May 5 is the Junior-Senior Prom. Dates have been made. Girls have frantically shopped for a gown different from that of anyone else. These are the portions of the next big event.

The following weekend the Seniors will be absent having a good time on their Senior trip to Washington.

The Juniors will be left at school to guide the underclassmen. Their job will be a big one to try and fill the shoes of the Senior Class!

SCHOOL EXHIBITS

The school exhibit this year not only had the usual displays of student talents in shop, chemistry and written exhibits, but an added attraction of live animals. Snakes, chickens, hamsters, rabbits and white mice were on hand to help make it all more interesting. A fairly good crowd was on hand to view our efforts. We hope they liked our work.

TROUT SEASON

Saturday was the opening of trout season and many of our classmates indulged. It was a beautiful day and a good day for the fish to bite. We know of several who were successful.

MISC. NEWS

Key Club Drill team will parade in Nanticoke, tomorrow.

The Drill team will take nine of their best men to Erie, to compete against the best marching units of the state.

FUTURE EVENTS FOR MAY

Junior Prom will be held May 12. May Day will be held May 18th, in case of rain. In such a case it will be held May 19.

Final exams will be held the last week of May. We'll fill you in on the facts of these important times at a later date.

JUNIOR PLAY

Junior Play, presented last week, was enjoyed by everyone. "Dear Diary" was directed by Mr. Molley and Dorothy Eck, student director. A large crowd enjoyed the plot which was centered around a make-believe diary.

CARD PARTY

The card party held Saturday by senior parents was well attended. Sandwiches and coffee were served by senior girls in frilly aprons. Door prizes were awarded. Candy, peanuts and Coca Cola were sold and profits of the evening will be used for the graduation party for the seniors. We thank you so much.

Decorated Chairs For 15th Library Auction

Mary Frantz is decorating a plank bottom Pennsylvania Dutch chair for the Library Auction, found in the Barn under a stack of furniture. Careful scraping showed traces of the original stencil on the back rail.

Mrs. Dwight Fisher has already decorated a newly caned rocker and a rush bottom straight chair for the Auction. Several chairs are waiting to be caned, including one that was carefully mended by Frank Jackson. Mrs. Franz plans to decorate another large rocking chair.

Catches 19 1/2 Inch Trout

Anthony Moreck, Shavertown, caught a 19 1/2 inch trout at Harveys Lake on Saturday. He was accompanied by his grandson, Charles Lamoreaux, Jr.
