

Mrs. Louie Ayre To Teach At Sem Has Wide Background Of Musical Experience

Mrs. Louie W. Ayre, well known in the Back Mountain for her excellence in music instruction and her painstaking attention to students under her direction, will teach organ, piano, and musical theory at Wyoming Seminary.

Mrs. Ayre, resident of Trucksville, is a graduate of Wyoming Seminary School of Music. She attended the Julliard School of Music in New York City, the York Trotter School in London, and the St. Louis Institute of Music.

She has served as organist and choir director at Calvary Church, Grace Church, and St. Clements, and at Trucksville Methodist. She is a member of the Mozart Club, the Wyoming Valley Oratorio Society, and is dean of the Wilkes-Barre chapter of the American Guild of Organists.

Cecil Moore Stricken By Fatal Heart Attack

Cecil A. Moore, 63, Mooretown, suffered a fatal heart attack, and died almost instantly as he was setting forth in a neighbor's car to go fishing late Saturday afternoon. The driver, Jack Spees, pulled to the side of the road when Mr. Moore was stricken, and summoned help from the Noxen Clinic.

The body was taken to Bronson's funeral home. Services were held Wednesday afternoon from the family home by Rev. William Hughes and Rev. E. J. Waterstripe. Burial was at Maple Grove.

Mr. Moore was born in Sweet Valley, son of Elizabeth and the late Giles Moore. His mother, a bed-fast invalid, is ninety years old.

He was a mechanic at Clarence Myers' garage at Huntsville. He had also been formerly employed at Caddie LaBarr's in Dallas. He belonged to Huntsville Christian Church.

Survivors include his widow, the former Daisy Culp; a daughter, Mrs. Irene Habblett, of Nanticoke; a son Charles, Berwick; two grandchildren and two great-grandchildren; his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Moore, Mooretown.

Meeker

Arriving home in time to spend Father's Day with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne King was Ted King, member of the 109th Field Artillery stationed at Fort Knox, Ky. A picnic supper was held in the evening with these attending: Mr. and Mrs. Donald King and family, Kunkle, Mrs. Dorothy Wadas and family, Shavertown, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle King and family, Meeker Mr. and Mrs. Richard King and family, Mt. Zion and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ruggles.

Gail Cornell and Jean Winter attended the seventh birthday party of Ruth Rusloski on Saturday, June 10.

W.S.C.S. was held at the church with Mrs. Fred Winter, hostess, assisted by Esther Alles. Plans were made for Night Market in August. Devotions were by Esther Alles and Mae King had a program on refugees. Present were: Elizabeth Ide, Marie Wolfe, Carrie Wolfe, Edna King, Edna Rebennack, Ruth Rogers, Edna B. Rebennack, Edna Karschner, Claudine Daily, Marie Miner, Mae King, Letha Wolfe and Dolores Garman.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Winter and children, Carol Ann and Wanda Lee, Benton and Mrs. and Mrs. Adrian Winter, Jr. and children, Joan and John, recently visited Mrs. Annie Winter and Mrs. Fred Winter and David.

Pity the poor clergyman who bought a used car and didn't have the vocabulary to run it.
