Township Supervisors have been in touch with Engineer Boyd Kline, State Department of Highways, Cliff Bigelow, Secretary of Wyoming Valley Motor Club, with reference to posting the Chase and Larksville Roads from the top of the mountain to Huntsville Corners.

The Supervisors pointed out that Chase Road, particularly from Chase Corners down is heavily populated and that many children live along this road. There have already been two serious accidents in this neighborhood, both caused by drinking drivers who might have been apprehended had there been posted speed limits.

It seems tragic that our citizens will have to wait for action, until some child or adult is seriously injured or killed. This is another reason why what little HOME RULE we have left should be jealously guarded.

The Gimble of Chase Manor have returned after a week with Mr. Gimble's brother and family in Somerset County.

Myron Lewis, Plymouth, a guard at the State Correctional Institution, was the driver of the 1956 Chevrolet which sideswiped a 1954 Chevrolet, owned by Elwood Spencer of Dagobert Street, Wilkes-Barre, operated by Barry Spencer of the same address. With Spencer was Charles Harris, also of Wilkes-Barre.

The accident occurred on the Chase to Huntsville Corners Road, a short distance from Chase Corners, Thursday night about 10. Lewis' car caused extensive damage to the whole left side of the Spencer's car and continued its mad flight, sideswiping several trees, telephone poles and finally to a sudden and devastating stop against the biggest tree in Jackson Township, a Pine, approximately five feet in diameter, near the property of the Cadwalader and Kytte families. Lewis' car is a total wreck. A can of paint which was in Lewis' car was opened by the force of the collision and the contents of same was splattered over the entire interior of the car, as well as, over the person of Lewis. Lewis was rushed to Nesbitt Memorial Hospital in Kingston Township Ambulance. He is in a guarded condition suffering severe head and body injuries.

State Highway Department is to be complimented on the excellent road chipping and resurfacing job on the road from Union Chapel Church to Wilson Corners.

Despite the bad condition of the washboard highway over Larksville Mountain, nothing has been done by the Department to patch even a few of the pot holes. We are living in hope that before election we will be viewing a large sign reading "YOUR GAS TAX AT WORK", which the Department has so prominently displayed on the Pittston Bridge Job. Our Senator and Representative, who so gallantly voted for the gas tax increase, should take time out to ride over this road. Then we might get some action. I would suggest that you write them.
